THE TARIFF PROVIDES WORK FOR THOUSANDS.

What It Has Done in Developing the Pearl Button Industry.

American Workingmen Given a New Field of Labor at Good Wages in Two Hundred Large Factories, and More Are Coming

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.

The development of the pearl button industry under the fostering provisions of the McKinley act has surpassed even the most sanguine expectations of the pearl button trade. To a reporter who called at the office of the Standard Pearl Button company, of Detroit, at No 345 and 347 Broadway, New York, William H Leland, a stockholder and representative of the company, said:

"Under the old order of things we dealt in imported goods only, no manufacturer worthy of the name being in existence in this country. The buttons were made principally in Austria, and a skilled operator there—a man with a wife and family helping him—does not make on an average more than $5.50 a week.

"Under the change brought about by the McKinley act our company has been incorporated with a capital of $600,000. We employ 400 American workingmen and women, with a prospect of an increase to 700 within the next three months, and have a daily output of 5,000 gross. The pauper labor of Europe has given way to the employment of Americans at the highest wages paid anywhere in the world. We use machinery of the most improved kind, and our buttons give satisfaction in every instance, both as to quality and price. Before the McKinley act went into effect there were not more than twenty factories in the United States, with about a thousand people to run them, but as soon as we awoke to the fact that American industries must be protected, up went the number of factories to 200 and the number of employes to almost 8,000.

"Letters from manufacturers continue to come in and they all have the same statement, that the demand for American made buttons exceeds by far the supply."

Another leading manufacturer said: "Free traders will do well to avoid making any reference to the American pearl button when they wish to make an important point. This industry under the new tariff had a very large protective duty placed on it, yet such were the peculiar conditions under which the business in foreign countries was operated that this duty was necessary. When the American pearl button makers had to face the competition of Birmingham they found it very close sailing, but still they could exist; but when some years ago Vienna taskmasters reduced the wages of their poverty stricken employes to the starvation point the American manufacturer had to withdraw from the field, as the conditions under which his workmen lived made him unable to compete. The result was that the domestic industry was almost killed. While foreign pearl buttons were sold in this country at low prices, yet it is a fact well known to those in the trade that middlemen reaped larger profits than they were entitled to.

"It is simple ignorance to talk, in the face of such a rate of remuneration, about the American's right to buy in the cheapest market and to say that in the end these matters will regulate themselves, because we as a people insist on our working classes living in a condition of decency in respect to dwellings and sanitary arrangements. We compel them directly or indirectly to contribute to the support of the public schools, and a large number help to support churches as well. If we insist on exposing our industries to the competition of the class of labor referred to, it will only be logical to take from the working classes the expense of maintaining the sanitary and educational features, and this the American people will never consent to do.

"The pearl button industry is one of those which proves that no horizontal rule can be applied to all cases, and it establishes the fact that an adequate protective duty, where needed, is not only beneficial to the country at large, but also that it is right and fair to all concerned."

A Thoroughly Loyal Republican.

That was a peculiarly happy and effective speech which Mr Blaine made to the Westchester county residents who called on him at Whitelaw Reid's home yesterday. Because of domestic bereavement and recent severe illness, no one expected that Mr Blaine would take an active part in the work of the campaign or make any stump speeches. But his little talk yesterday shows how true he is to Republican principles and how earnest is his support of the party's candidate.—Troy Times.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Plays Booked for Ferguson's Theatre This Week.

The lovers of Tennyson will be delighted to hear that a superb dramatization of his immortal poem, "Enoch Arden," with the illustrious English actor, Mr. Chas. J. Stevenson, in the title role, will appear at Ferguson's theatre on Thursday evening. This will be the most artistic production the piece has ever had in America, and beyond a doubt the house will be crowded. Of this excellent actor's work in the piece the Montreal Star says: "In stepping into the shoes of the late Edwin Adams, who was the far-famed Enoch Arden of a decade now past, Mr. Stevenson has laid out for himself a large amount of work, but after viewing his performance last night we must say that the part has lost nothing in his hands. It was never played better."

"SAID PASHA."

The Shackford Opera Company which will make its first appearance in this town Friday evening, at Ferguson's theatre, includes several well known artists in its ranks. Miss Eloise Mortimer, the prima donna, is spoken of by the press of Buffalo and Philadelphia as being second only to Lillian Russell and Camille D'Arville. Vincent Graham, the baritone, is said to have a beautiful baritone voice of great range and power, and to be an actor of more than ordinary ability. Henri Laurent, the tenor, is known as one of the best dramatic tenors on the American stage. The opera which will be presented is Stahl's "Said Pasha," which abounds in many jests, ludicrous situations and catchy music. The costuming will be a feature.

The Borden Case.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—The first of the Borden case came at the opening of the Superior Court. Mr. Adams, for Miss Borden, addressed the Court, asking that special instructions should be given the grand jury not to be influenced by hearsay evidence or newspaper paragraphs. District Attorney Knowiton promptly replied in substance that he believed he could be relied upon to properly conduct the case before the grand jury. After hearing both of them the court decided that no special instructions for the grand jury were necessary.

Sailor Reilly's Slayer Sentenced.

GENOA, Nov. 8.—The trial of the waiter Baravalle for killing, on Sep. 2, Frank Reilly, stoker on the United States cruiser Newark, has ended. Baravalle stabbed Reilly twice while the latter was haggling about the price of lodgings with the landlord of the Hotel Universe. He was found guilty of the crime without premeditation and was sentenced to serve twelve and one-half years' imprisonment.

For Robbing His Mother.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Eugene E. Crowe, who is charged with stealing several thousand dollars from his mother in Rockland county on Friday and then eloping with a pretty blonde to New York, has been arrested at the Coleman House. He was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to await the arrival of officers from Rockland county.

Water Famine in Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 8.—A water famine threatens this city. One of the reservoirs which supplies the place has already run dry. The Ashley car shops, employing 500 men, have been compelled to shut down, there being no water to feed the boilers.

Doubting Suffering Women!

MANY SUCH HERE.

Alive to the interests of our lady readers, we publish Mrs. Simpson's letter to Dr. Kennedy.

Dear Sir:—I was an invalid for years, suffering from kidney trouble and female weakness. Physicians prescribed for me and I took various remedies, but no benefit resulted. Our daily paper noticed the success of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in cases similar to my own. I purchased it. The first bottle taken in small doses, but very regular, improved me wonderfully. My complexion cleared, appetite improved, sleep was sound and refreshing, and a little further use entirely cured me. There never was a medicine for woman-kind, like Favorite Remedy. With all my heart, let me urge them to use it. Relief will be the result.'

MRS. S. P. SIMPSON, Turner, Ill.

Such a frank, candid statement leaves the imprint of truth upon its face.

The best proof of the value of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, is the good it has done. What reason then for one suffering, or half sick, to remain so.

WILL CURE YOU.

THE LINGO TRIAL.

Promise of Introduction of Sensational Testimony Soon.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 8.—At the close of the afternoon session of the Lingo murder trial in the Camden county court house it was rumored that the defense would have some sensational evidence to present to shatter the theory of the prosecution.

It was stated that ex-Judge Wescott, chief counsel for Lingo, had two witnesses who would go on the stand and testify that they saw Mrs. Miller come out of the much-famed "Bush lot," in which, the State claims, Lingo murdered her.

The importance of this testimony lies in the fact that, according to the State's claim of evidence, Mrs. Miller never came out of the "Bush lot" on the afternoon of the fatal day.

It is also a part of the defense's effort to take the guilt away from the colored man and place it upon the head of John Miller, the husband.

Ex-Judge Wescott was asked subsequently whether this rumor was true. "Yes, it is true," he answered reflectively, and with apparent reluctance.

"When will the evidence be given?"

"In due time. I do not see how this matter ever came to be divulged. We desired that it should not be known."

When asked who the witnesses would be the ex-Judge replied: "They are two colored men whose desire is to tell the truth. They will testify that they saw Mrs. Miller emerge from the Bush lot on the supposed afternoon of the murder."

It is known to Prosecutor Jenkins and his colleagues that the defense will produce this evidence to prove that Mrs. Miller was murdered at her home. The prosecution will offer evidence to show that these two witnesses have served terms in prison and that their word cannot be trusted.

After the recess County Clerk Burroughs testified that he visited the spot in the bush lot where the body was. He noticed the glove on one hand. The upper or wrist part of the glove was pulled down over the back of the hand. The thumb was not exposed. The other hand was cut and bloodless. The witness noticed the presence of blood on the ground, and said that he visited the fatal place on the Monday following.

Edwin Miller, brother of Jim Miller, testified that he saw the body of his sister-in-law in the bush lot. The witness saw his brother at 5 o'clock Thursday evening. He did not appear to be worried and merely mentioned that Annie had not yet returned home. On Friday morning about 11 o'clock his brother John came over to his mother's house, where the witness was. John Miller said nothing to the witness about having met all the trains the night before or about remaining up all night.

Emma Ritter, in whose candy store in Merchantville Mrs. Miller stopped before entering the bush lot, was on the stand when court adjourned. It is stated that she has some important evidence to give in favor of the State's case.

The Cotton Strike in England.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Mr. Mawdsley, secretary of the Amalgamated Association of Operative Cotton Spinners, thinks that 53,000 persons will be rendered idle by the lockout and strike begun at noon Saturday. The Federation of Master Cotton Spinners has never been very successful in its lockouts.

THREE KILLED, ONE HANGED.

The Notorious Tolbert Feud Again Breaks Out in Mississippi.

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 8.—The notorious Tolbert feud has broken out in Kemper county, and, as a result, three men are lying dead in coffins at Fort Stevens, a small town 25 miles north of Meridian.

John Tolbert, the youngest of the boys, has a Winchester bullet through his heart, while his father, Tom Tolbert, has his neck broken and his body filled with buckshot. Thomas Cole, a member of the sheriff's posse, has a bullet in his brain, the result of the unerring aim of one of the Tolberts.

The story of this family of despera does would fill a volume.

Five years ago the family consisted of six, old man Tolbert and his sons, John, Tom, Jim, Bob and Bill.

Led by their father, the gang has been a terror to the law abiding people of the county.

About four years ago Jim, Bob and Bill were killed in a battle with a sheriff's posse. The remainder of the gang escaped into the dense swamps of Oktibbjahe river, where they remained in hiding until three years ago, when they became more bold and renewed their course of outlawary.

Saturday night the sheriff and his posse attacked Tolbert's house, being armed with Winchesters.

The battle raged fiercely for two hours when the ammunition of old man Tolbert became exhausted and he was forced to surrender.

The posse then started on its way back to Fort Stevens but was met by a mob, composed of 1,000 farmers who overpowered the guard and strung the old man up to a tree.

Young Tom escaped from his father's house and took refuge at the farm of a relative about five miles distant.

When his whereabouts became known a mob of 1,500 men left for the scene for the purpose of lynching Tolbert and all of his relations.

Nothing has been heard from the mob since they left Fort Stevens, but news of a battle is expected as the mob will no doubt meet with a desperate resistance. Fort Stevens is twenty-five miles from a railroad station and the only means of communication with Meridian is by courier.

The last messenger left the scene at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DO YOU WANT RELIEF?
KROUT'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY

Will promptly relieve the most distressing case of Acute or Chronic Rheumatism or Gout. By strictly observing the directions, it will cure you permanently.

Unlike the numerous preparations that flood the country, this medicine is a specific for the various forms of rheumatic evil, and not in any sense a "cure all." One bottle will make a satisfactory impression on the system, and in connection with the pills, exercise the sufferer the quickest to free the cords of rheumatism. You are earnestly requested to test the merits of as its valuable properties are endorsed by hundreds of the most flattering testimonials.

Only vegetable ingredients, remarkable for their curative powers, are used in the manufacture of KROUT'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY

$1.00 Per Bottle. 6 Bottles, $5.00. Pills, 25 Cts. Box.

If your storekeeper does not keep it, send $1.25 to the manufacturer, and you will receive it by mail.
