Proclamation Regarding Immigration Further Defined.

THE ORDER STILL IN FULL FORCE.
William Potter, of Philadelphia, Appointed Minister to Italy—Other Diplomatic Nominations—Supt. Porter Believes the Falsifying Petroff to be Insane—No Extra Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A circular was issued this morning from the Treasury Department respecting the President's proclamation in regard to the detention of ships carrying immigrants to this country, promulgated at the time of the recent outbreak of cholera in Europe.

The reason for the issuance of the circular arose from the varied interpretations given to it by the customs and other officers interested with the duty of carrying out its provisions. Difficulty was also encountered by the officials in the Treasury Department itself, in trying to administer the requirements of the proclamation as not to work hardship to the steamship companies in the transportation of emigrants booked and assembled at the ports of departure previous to or at the time it was issued.

The necessity for further consideration on this score has practically passed away, and in the future all immigrant-carrying vessels will be detained in pursuance to the provisions of the President's proclamation 20 days, or so long as the circumstances of the case may seem to warrant.

Another reason for the circular was found in the confused and contradictory views held by officials as to the status of the President's proclamation. Some of them seemed to be of the opinion that it had been withdrawn, or would be, as was reported of Commissioner Walter New York, who was recently quoted as saying that unrestricted immigration could doubtless soon be resumed.

The Department makes plain the fact that the proclamation is in force and must be observed. Some slight modifications in practices have been obtained at some of the ports made, but they are immaterial.

The principal fact is that announcement is made that immigration is to be carefully regulated, with a view to preventing absolutely, if possible, the introduction of any persons or articles infected with, or liable to infection from, the germs of the plague.

DIPLOMATIC APPOINTMENTS.
Wm. Potter, of Pennsylvania, Appointed United States Minister to Italy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The President has appointed Wm. Potter of Pennsylvania to be Minister to Italy, David P. Thompson of Oregon to be Minister to Turkey and Edward C. Little of Kansas to be Agent and Consul-General at Cairo, Egypt.

Mr. Potter, the new Minister to Italy, is one of the most prominent Philadelphiaans. Though quite a young man, being about 35 years of age, he is a leading member of the Union League, the Manufacturers' Club, Orpheus Club, and other social organizations, and a big manufacturer of oil cloths.

He has been one of the leading Republicans of the city and for a number of years a member of the City Council. He was prominently mentioned for Congress in the Fourth Pennsylvania district. The appointment here is spoken of most highly and delights the Pennsylvaniaans.

Mr. D. P. Thompson, the new Minister to Turkey, is a prominent business man of Portland, Ore., and was appointed at the request of the entire Oregon delegation to succeed Mr. Hirsch, who was from Oregon and resigned.

Mr. Little, who goes to Cairo, Egypt, succeeds ex-Congressman John Anderson, who died at his post. He is the chairman of the Republican State League of Kansas, and was recommended by the united delegation from that State.

GEN. ROSECRANS IN DANGER.
He is Threatened With Paralysis and May Not Recover.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Gen. W. S. Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, has been ill at his residence here for several weeks, and it is reported that the chances are against his recovery. His daughters have been summoned to his bedside, and one of them arrived yesterday.

Gen. Rosecrans was first taken down with a severe cold, but since then other and more alarming symptoms have appeared, and there is now a threat of paralysis. The fact that he is nearly 70 years old increases the danger.

No change has been made in the office of Register of the Treasury during this administration, as the result, it is said, of the influence exerted by Chanancy M. Depew, who married a niece of Gen. Rosecrans. Mr. Cleveland had appointed the General to the office, and Gen. Harrison, at Mr. Depew's request, retained him.

SHOT AT HOMESTEAD.

A Non-Unionist Gets Into the Wrong Room and is Killed.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 16.—An unfounded rumor is current that the strikers' local advisory board have declared the strike off.

One non-unionist shot and almost instantly killed another early yesterday in a bunk-house of the Carnegie steel works. The murderer is Max Newman of New York.

About 2 a. m. the occupants of the houses were aroused by hearing two shots fired, followed by a cry of agony and then death-like stillness.

While the police were searching a man walked into the watch house of the mill police with a revolver in his hand and said: "I want to give myself up. I have shot a man."

It was Newman and he conducted the officers to the lodging house where the victim of the shots was lying on the floor. "There he is. I think he is a striker," remarked Newman.

A physician was called but when he reached the mill the injured man was dead.

He will pass and check found on his person denoted that he had been a mill worker, but none knew him to positively identify him.

Newman was taken to Pittsburg jail to await the action of the coroner.

It has since been learned that Patrick Coyne is the name of the victim of Max Newman's bullet.

Investigation shows that Coyne was very much under the influence of liquor, and in this condition mistook his own room and entered that occupied by Newman and four companions. Coyne failed to answer when he was addressed, and staggered against Newman's cot. The shooting then occurred.

TO ENLARGE THE CARNEGIE PLANT.
The Company Decides to Make Desired Improvements in the Works.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—H. C. Frick, chairman of the Carnegie Steel company, called at the Navy Department and had a conference with Secretary Tracy regarding the delay of the company in furnishing armor-plate for the new warships. The most important part of the conversation related to the enlargement of the Carnegie plant.

Secretary Tracy has been anxious for the company to enlarge its plant for some time, and Mr. Frick informed the Secretary that the company had decided to do this.

The company, he said, would soon begin the desired improvements. They would enlarge their floor space, secure new machinery, and otherwise improve their works, so as to be able to promptly fulfill contracts.

Mr. Frick says the company are now recovering from the recent strike.

"COUNTESS" BETANCOURT HELD.
Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud Druggist Toplis.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—The hearing in the case of Mrs. Anita McMorrow, better known as the "Countess" Betancourt, who is charged by William G. Toplis, a Germantown druggist, with obtaining $2,500 by false pretenses on the representation that she possessed $32,000,000 of Spanish bonds, took place before Magistrate Darnham yesterday. The charge of obtaining the money under false pretenses, was dismissed, but the magistrate held the "Countess" under $1,000 bail for court on the charge of conspiracy.

The allegation of conspiracy came up at the beginning of the hearing and was to the effect that the "Countess" and Elmer M. Billings, Secretary of the Mercantile Safe Deposit company, New York City, had conspired to defraud druggist Toplis. To substantiate the charge of conspiracy, letters from Billings to Mrs. McMorrow were offered in evidence and read. They were of a sensational nature.

CREAM'S TWO MANIAS

Peculiarities of the Notorious Criminal Just Executed.

HE WENT CALMLY TO THE SCAFFOLD
The Poisoner's Crimes—The Panamas Canal Officers to be Proceeded Against by the French Government—A Cabinet Crisis—Other Foreign Notes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Lawyer A. S. Trade of this city, who defended Cream successfully when he was on trial here in 1881 for the murder of Mary Faulkner, is well acquainted with his peculiarities.

In an interview Mr. Trade said: "The man was possessed of two manias. One was to acquire all the knowledge he could of anatomy and surgery. To that end he studied medicine and obtained diplomas as doctor in Germany, France, England, Canada and America. His knowledge on these points was consequently great, and he used it, through me, most effectually to confound the doctors at the trial. His other mania was a desire to get rid of women who were in a condition in which they were a menace to society. It was the same mania of which 'Jack the Ripper,' whoever he may be, was possessed."

"After the trial was over, Cream came into my office several times and talked incessantly about these two things, human anatomy and his desire to rid the earth of these unfortunate beings. Once he pulled a revolver from his pocket, and, after firing it at a chair, said: 'I would kill them that way.'"

"Cream was a most charming talker, and if he loosed on his pet theories regarding the human structure, would hold his listeners by the hour. That he was mad I have not the least doubt, but his mania was one which it is difficult to classify."

CREAM'S EXECUTION.
He Met His Doom Bravely—Story of His Crimes.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Thomas Neill, alias Cream, was hanged at 9 a. m. yesterday at Newgate, by Billington, for the poisoning of Matilda Clover and other girls on authority of the High Sheriff of the County of London, no reprieve having been obtained.

The murderer was silent, firm, and pale, but made a brief speech of courtesy to the prison officials. Death was instantaneous.

Thomas Neill Cream was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1850, of Irish parentage. He was taken by his parents when only eight years old to Canada. After a good school education his father entered him in the medical department of McGill College, Montreal. There he matriculated, took his degree and gained some distinction by writing a letter on chloroform.

He soon afterwards left his lodgings, and was next seen in Quebec. He had been in the habit of going to a place called Waterloo, some miles from Montreal, where he formed the acquaintance of the daughter of an hotel keeper, whom he nearly killed by a surgical operation, and was forced by her father to marry her.

Cream left his wife the day after the wedding and went to Quebec, and after being lost for some time turned up in London, Ontario, where he practiced medicine.

At this place he was visited by a young woman who was one morning found dead in a closet at the rear of the house with a bottle which had contained chloroform beside her. Cream was suspected, but escaped prosecution.

Cream then migrated to Chicago, and started a surgery in West Madison street. Here he soon earned an unenviable reputation.

A young Indian woman, while being treated there, died, and Cream told his black servant to put a white handkerchief in the window to denote that she had gone out, and he would then set fire to the house, a wooden one, in order to destroy all traces of his crime. A policeman, however, obtained an inkling that something was wrong, and effecting an entry to the building, discovered the young woman dead in bed.

Inquiries led to the capture of both Cream and the colored woman, but they were discharged for lack of evidence. That was in 1880.

In the following year Cream was advertising a specific for the cure of epileptic fits, and a railway official sent his wife, a young woman of prepossessing appearance, to his surgery for the prescriptions.

Cream used to send her to a druggist in Clarke street for the medicine, and upon one occasion he added something to the mixture, and the husband died twenty minutes after taking the first dose.

In the meantime Cream had tried to insure the man's life but failed. A local doctor was called in and as the deceased had been suffering from fits he was buried in the usual way.

Clover afterward suffered. Taken in a cab to a hospital she died on the way. An inquest was held—poisoning by strychnine was diagnosed.

On April of this year, at No. 118 Stamford street, two women were seized with the agony of death. Alice Marshall died on the way to an hospital. Enough strychnine to poison three or four women was found in her stomach. Her companion, Emma Shrivell, lingered a little while in the hospital, but also died unmistakably from strychnine.

The death of these women, of course, set the police in motion, and the crimes were traced to Cream.

PROSECUTION ORDERED.
Officers of the Panama Canal Company to be Proceeded Against.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The Council of Ministers has decided, upon the responsibility of the Minister of Justice, M. Ricard, to proceed against the Panama Canal company. M. de Lesseps, three administrators, and all the contractors are to be made parties to the proceedings.

A Ministerial crisis is imminent, and great scandal will doubtless be the outcome of this.

The Ministry was divided upon the question. There were frequent and violent debates, the stormy scenes being caused by M. Ricard, M. Viette, Minister of Public Works, and M. Bourgeois, Minister of Public Instruction, who strongly urged the prosecution.

The others were opposed to it for political reasons.

At the Council held yesterday, M. Carnot presiding, Minister of Justice Ricard said: "As the Chief Justice of France I order the prosecution of the administrators of the Panama canal."

His colleagues could scarcely believe their ears.

It was true, however, and they were obliged to bend.

Before anything can be done, the Deputies believe that the Ministry will fall, and fall to-day, perhaps upon the President, for not having taken the responsibility for that measure.

ONE YEAR FOR A BOGUS PRINCE.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—Frederick Evans, alias Helmbold, the pretended Prince of Teck, has been sentenced to one year at hard labor. The authorities became assured, on investigation, that he was as much a knave as a fool. He is said to be of respectable American parentage, and was formerly convicted of fraudulent practices in Liverpool.

COL. CHINN SHOT.
The Famous Starter Fatally Wounded at St. Louis.

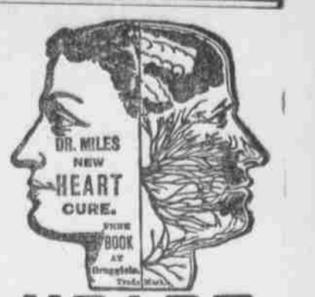

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—Col. John Chinn, starter at the East St. Louis Jockey Club track, was shot and fatally wounded yesterday by Captain D. Anthony. Some time ago Ed Corrigan of the Hawthorne track, Chicago, asked the officials of the East St. Louis track to allow Mr. Chinn to officiate for them for a time. The East St. Louis people consented to the arrangement and installed him, a son of the famous starter, at the post.

Young Chinn's starting has been unsatisfactory of late and the East St. Louis managers demanded that the elder Chinn return here. He came back Monday and took his place. However, his work was not of a kind to grow enthusiastic over. Three horses were left at the post in all were anything but good. Lillian, who was left at the post in the fourth race was quite heavily played and unuttered words were plenty.

Yesterday Chinn was presented with his discharge. He refused to accept the paper, at the same time catching hold of Secretary Alexander's coat collar with one hand, and reaching down into his boot with the other and drawing a large dirk knife.

Two police officers caught him and tried to disarm him.

Capt. Anthony came upon the scene at this moment, and seeing that he was about to get the best of the officers, he drew his revolver and fired full in his face. The bullet struck him in the mouth and ranged upward, coming out back of the ear.
