MERCURIAL

About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poisoning. Leading physician prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies with unsuccessful results, but which brought on an attack of rheumatism that made my life one of agony. After suffering four years I gave up all remedies and began taking S. S. S. After taking several bottles I was entirely cured and able to resume work. It is the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on the market.

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT

Freshet in New Brunswick, N. J.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 17.—The heavy rains started a freshet in the Raritan river which has caused considerable damage. About 500 feet of the temporary bridge at Albany street has been carried away and the temporary structures at the Pennsylvania railroad bridge has been totally destroyed. The lower part of the town is flooded and work has been stopped in some of the factories on account of the high water.

Suicide of a Retired Merchant.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Edmund Titus, a wealthy retired merchant, formerly of the firm of Titus, Frazer & Titus, feed merchants of James' slip, New York city, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself in his carriage house at Seaside. Mr. Titus was 67 years of age and leaves an invalid wife and one daughter. No cause is known for the act.

REORGANIZATION PLANS

The President in Touch With Suggestions of Leaders.

EXTRA SESSION STILL TALKED OF

Senator Carlisle's Views on the Subject—Superintendent Porter Gives Preface His Walking Papers—Gen. Rosecrans Health Better—The Great Slaughter of Seals by Poachers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Officials and others who have talked with President Harrison since the election say that he taken a deep interest and an active part in the consideration of plans for the future conduct of the Republican party.

They say that in all his talks with them the President's utterances have tended to encourage them to activity in the work of organizing and strengthening the party.

There has been no despondency in what he has said, and he wastes no time in vain regrets, but is earnest in the feeling that more than ever there is need for compactness and unity of purpose in the party.

The discussion of the reorganization, not in change of principle or policy, but of perfection of the management and methods, has already been taken up by leading Republicans, and correspondence looking to the strengthening of the organization has begun.

A permanent organization, with workers who will keep up the work all the year round and every year, instead of trying to do the work of four years in the few months before a Presidential election, is what is aimed at.

A TALK WITH CARLISLE

The Kentucky Says No One Can Tell About an Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Both Senator Carlisle and Governor are here to-day. Senator Carlisle denies the story that he is booked for a Cabinet place, and no one here seriously considers him in any of the states.

Senator Carlisle, in talking about an extra session, said: "No one can tell what will be done in the matter. It is too early to predict either way. There are other measures besides the tariff which may cause the new President to call an extra session. What is done by the coming session of Congress will determine what the President will have to do."

"We cannot tell now whether the Sherman Silver bill will be repealed, whether the tariff bills which have passed the House will become laws and what the condition of the Treasury may be on March 4, so you see it is a question for serious consideration and cannot be settled at once or at the present time."

Special Agent Petroff Discharged.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Supt. of the Census Robert F. Porter has discharged Ivan Petroff, the special agent, who prepared the reports of Alaska for the Tenth and Eleventh censuses. In his letter to the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Porter says: "Having acquainted myself with all the facts in relation to this matter, I regret to say that I see no extenuating circumstances, and therefore ask your approval of my action."

Outrageous Work of Seal Poachers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Mr. Tingle, agent of the North American Commercial company has returned from the islands of St. George and St. Paul. He says his company killed only the number of seals allowed by law—7,500. He declares that during the season, poachers killed and secured 60,000 seals and destroyed 400,000 more that they did not secure.

Gen. Rosecrans' Health Better.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The report that Gen. Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, is dying, is untrue. In fact, the General is better to-day. He was out riding yesterday, and, although still weak and feeble and unable to go to his office, he is improving. His daughter arrived from Montana yesterday, and will remain with him.

Catlin May Succeed Ruess.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—It is reported that Mr. Cleveland has decided to appoint Gen. Isaac S. Catlin of Brooklyn Commissioner of Penitents.

Buchanan May Continue as Governor.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 17.—It now looks as if after a hard fight to defeat him, Governor Buchanan will be Governor for two years more. Gov.-elect Peter Turney is dangerously ill. The constitution says the Governor shall keep his seat until another has been elected and inaugurated and then if the latter dies the same shall appoint his successor. Turney has not been inaugurated and therefore if he dies Buchanan will remain in the Governor's chair another term.

Oppose Three Days of Grace.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 17.—The Bankers Association of Illinois is in session here. At yesterday's meeting the following resolution was adopted: "That we endorse the recommendation of the National Association for the abolition of three days of grace, and that our Executive Committee is hereby authorized to use its discretion as to the advisability of presenting to the coming Legislature a bill for the amendment of the present law."

KNIGHTS AT ST. LOUIS.

The Annual Address of General Master Workman Powderly.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—It is not thought that the convention of Knights of Labor will adjourn before next week, as a number of important matters are to come up for discussion and decision.

The first part of the proceedings yesterday was devoted to reading a statement of the finances of the order.

The annual address of General Master Workman Powderly was extremely lengthy, occupying over an hour in its delivery.

He congratulated his hearers upon the present condition of the order, reviewed its many periods of prosperity and depression, and said that although since its existence the membership of the order had ebbed and flowed, yet to-day it was on the increase, and all through the exciting times incident to the Presidential election the order had steadily grown in membership and influence. At no time, however, had the membership exceeded six hundred thousand in good standing.

Reviewing the labor movement Mr. Powderly said that there are too many labor organizations struggling for supremacy. The tendency of the labor movement seemed to be to divide up, while that of the opposing force—capital—was to consolidate, and thereby to gain strength to combat the forces of industry, when, single handed they were arrayed before them.

After speaking at length on the question of ballot reform, and on the initiative and referendum scheme, and urging that the General Assembly take specific action on both questions, Mr. Powderly proceeded to dwell in detail on the matter of immigration.

He said that six years ago he had declared in favor of the restriction of immigration, and although his views were not received with favor by the Order he had not changed them, but on the contrary, had made them more rigid. He believed in the total exclusion of all immigrants who are not self-supporting on landing in this country.

There should be a fixed term of years, ten would be enough, during which no immigrant should be permitted to land with a view to remaining, unless he could prove that he had sufficient means to sustain himself and those depending upon him for one year.

Strikes and lock-outs next claimed Mr. Powderly's attention. He said that during the last six months the people of this land had witnessed such attempts at making the power of organized wealth supreme as were never dreamed of before. Whether it was at Cour d'Alene, at Homestead, at Buffalo or in Tennessee, the instinct which guided the rapacious hand was the same.

The underground wires which directed these attacks all ran to the same center at all these places.

The organization of labor will, if it has sense, take up these questions for consideration.

The railroads are public highways, belonging to the whole people and to those who should know it. The campaign which has just closed witnessed an interesting, if not very intelligent discussion of the tariff, but there is more of a revenue illegally drawn from the pockets of merchants, manufacturers and workmen in one month of the year by the railroads and telegraphs than we pay in tariffs in a year.

These, and all questions connected with them, must occupy the attention of the industrial organization of the future, and the strike of a future must be a strike for the rule of the people. They could deny politics as they pleased, but they must be politicians, or be slaves of politicians.

Chute Remembered His Poor Relative.

HARTFORD, Nov. 17.—The rich Hartford man referred to in the despatch from London as having left $12,000 to a poor English woman, is Peter Chute, a Hartford liquor dealer, who was killed by a New York & New England train about six weeks ago. His estate inventories $100,000, but will eventually amount to $200,000. There are two other heirs. Mrs. Boyce, the English legatee, lives at Burnley, Lancashire.

John L. Sullivan Drunk Again.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—John L. Sullivan arrived in Harrisburg on his way to New York decidedly inebriated. He frightened the wits out of a farmer in the car by inviting him to fight. Before leaving Sullivan said to the crowd, who gathered around him: "I can lick any man in this ring if he stands still. I am no race horse. During the few minutes he was here the ex-champion made things lively."

New Haven's Smallpox Epidemic.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 17.—The smallpox epidemic at the General Hospital continues unabated. Despite every possible effort to check the progress of the disease new cases are breaking out each day. Yesterday Miss Metoxen, the trained nurse who attended Elias, the first patient, was taken with the malady, making the eighth case since the disease first appeared at the institution.

Lady Somerset Returns to England.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Lady Henry Somerset, the temperance leader of Great Britain, and Miss Francis E. Willard, of Chicago, who have been attending the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Denver, sailed yesterday for England. Miss Willard accompanied Lady Somerset to the latter's castle at Eassnor, near London.

Miss Gwendolyn Caldwell Very Ill.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Miss Gwendolyn Caldwell has been ill for the past month. She is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Her illness is the result of an attack of typhoid fever, and her physicians fear it will leave her a cripple for life. Miss Caldwell has contributed liberally to charitable objects. She gave $100,000 to the Catholic University of Washington.

End of a Kentucky Despatch.

MIDDLEBOROUGH, Ky., Nov. 17.—The body of Bob Slaughter, nearly devoured by hogs, was discovered about two hundred yards from the Belt Lane road yesterday. Slaughter was a noted desperado and was continually in trouble with the police. It is quite probable that some other ruffian waylaid him and shot him in true mountain style.

One Wave Udded Another's Work.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Nov. 17.—Charles E. Llewellyn and Russell Broughton, fishermen on the schooner Lizzie J. Griffin, in a recent gale were washed out of their dock by one wave, and the next big roller dashed them back again, so that they could reach their overturned boat, and were rescued later.

THE HEIRS DISSATISFIED

Barnum's Legatees and J. A. Bailey at Variance.

THE "GREATEST" TO CHANGE HANDS

There Does Not Seem to be Room in the Corporation for all the Partners—Each Side Apparently Willing to Sell Its Share—Cause of the Differences.

BROOKLYN, Conn., Nov. 17.—The difficulties which arose during the last season between James A. Bailey and the heirs of departments of the "Greatest Show on Earth" were nothing compared to the feeling which has arisen, it is said, between Mr. Bailey and the heirs of his late partner, P. T. Barnum. Such is the condition of affairs that from present appearances, well informed people say, either Mr. Bailey will purchase the interest of the Barnum estate or the heirs of the latter will buy out Mr. Bailey, or it may be that a third party will purchase the interest of one or the other, or both.

But it is quite certain that the Barnum & Bailey show will be known no longer as such. It will be either the Barnum Show or the Bailey Show.

The differences began when Mr. Bailey wanted to take the show to California on a 10 weeks' trip last summer. Each side professes to be willing to sell to the other, yet, doubtless, both desire the vast profits that are made every year. Mr. Barnum thought he had arranged that his name should be perpetuated with the show, and he foresaw no trouble.

If Bailey gets the show he will be the biggest circus man in the world, for he also owns the Forepaugh show.

There is talk of getting Mr. Hutchinson or Mr. Cole to return to the business, either as owners of Mr. Bailey's interest or as manager of a stock concern. Both these men are living on fortunes they made in the circus business.

The gross receipts of the Barnum & Bailey show last year were $1,200,000.

YALE'S FINANCES.

Over $473,000 Added to the Different Funds during the Last Fiscal Year.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 17.—Treasurer Faroum of Yale University has submitted to the corporation his report for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1892.

During that period the sum of $473,447.59 was added to the different funds. The addition to the University funds aggregated $160,407.45, $109,241.59 of which was from the estate of the late Daniel B. Fayerweather in part payment of the legacy.

From the Rev. C. Ray Palmer of Bridgeport, Conn., the sum of $5,000 was received to fund the "Alfred Barnes Palmer Scholarship Fund."

Additions to the Theological funds were as follows:

To the H. W. Allis fund $4,243.50; to the Susan B. Dwight Fellowship, $4,000; to the W. H. Fogg Fellowship, $38,000.

The Sheffield Scientific School funds were enriched $75,120.78 by the payment of part of the Fayerweather legacy.

For the Winchester Engineering Building private and other subscriptions amounted to $159,325, and for the Yale Infirmary $38,898.

Seventy-five subscriptions were received amounting to $3,470.52 to repair the loss sustained by the fire in Divinity Hall.

Hon. William C. Whitney, '63, and others, provided $1,500 for the Chair of Professor W. G. Sumner during his absence in Europe.

VINDICATED BY THE JURY.

Hattie Ackers, Who Shot Her Former Lover for Slandering Her, Acquitted.

RELVIERE, N. J., Nov. 17.—The trial of Miss Hattie Ackers, who shot and seriously wounded Michael Quinn, a telegraph operator, at this place several weeks ago for slandering her, terminated last night by a verdict of not guilty.

Miss Ackers, in her own behalf, told the story of her wrong treatment by Quinn, which had made her frantic, and she therefore resolved to shoot him and then herself.

She admitted having married, when quite young, a man named Wesley Savercool, who was not divorced from his wife. She related the circumstances of Quinn's breaking his engagement and then deserting her.

Miss Ackers told in a dramatic way of her walk to the Delaware station and her pleading with her lover for a reconciliation.

She admitted buying the revolver with which to shoot him and the poison to kill herself.

When the jury rendered the verdict of not guilty the spectators in the little court room applauded.

Public sympathy is with Miss Ackers, and people in the village express themselves as satisfied with the result.

A Train Falls 75 or 100 Feet.

FARRELLTON, Que., Nov. 17.—A construction train on the Gatineau Valley railroad was derailed on a bridge over Stagg creek, near here yesterday and the engine and 13 cars fell 75 or 100 feet in the canon. Engineer Saul Wilson, Fireman Robert Meagher, brakeman William Blakely, and a boy, name unknown, were killed. The loss to rolling stock will amount to thousand of dollars.

New London a Port for Steamers.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 17.—Stoughton, which has been a terminal for the Stonington steamboat line since 1857, is to be abandoned by the New York, New Haven & Hartford. The big passenger steamers will soon make a port at New London.

Date for the Combine Hearing.

ALBANY, Nov. 17.—Attorney General Rosendale has named Nov. 29, at 10 o'clock, as the day for hearing before him of the coal combination matter. The Reading, Lehigh Valley and Delaware & Lackawanna roads have been notified to appear.

Four Years for Obstructing the Track.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Nov. 17.—Judge Hagen has sentenced "Farmer" Adams, the man who placed obstructions on the Fort Wayne track at Enon, to pay a fine of $500 and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for four years and six months.

TROUBLE OVER A TROLLEY LINE

Citizens and Pennsylvania Railroad Employees Fight at Marcus Hook, Pa.

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 17.—There was a clash at Marcus Hook yesterday between the borough citizens and Pennsylvania railroad employees. The Union railway company, of Chester, which is building a trolley line to Marcus Hook, laid six pieces of track in the borough, one on either side of branches of the Pennsylvania and Reading roads.

A gang of the railroad workmen tore up the trolley line, and later two gangs laid tracks alongside of the Pennsylvania branch.

Councilman Richardson ordered the workmen to stop, but they paid no heed to him.

Mr. Richardson then summoned other members of the council and a number of citizens, and they arrived on the scene with shovels and filled up the excavations as fast as the laborers shoveled them out.

Finding that the objectors were getting the better of them the workmen threw in crosses to block them, but the citizens threw the crosses in a ditch as fast as the workmen piled them in the road.

Finally the section bosses ordered the sectionmen to place a rail across the road but the citizens got hold of it and a tussle for possession began.

The citizens outnumbered the workmen, who were forced to let go. All got out of the way except Dennis McClung, a workman, whose left leg was badly injured.

The borough policeman by this time reached the battle field, and he was ordered by Councilman Richardson to clear the street of the Pennsylvania's workmen. He ordered them away.

They refused, when, jumping on a pile of dirt, revolver in hand, he ordered them to disperse. Only a section boss, W. H. Sanford, refused, and he was placed under arrest. Burgess Vernon held him in $1,000 bail for court.

LIZZIE BORDEN'S CASE.

It Will be Several Days Before the Grand Jury Reports.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 17.—Eventual reports have no chance at getting a crumb from the grand jury room where the Borden case is under examination. A deputy sheriff and a stalwart policeman guard the door and people are kept at a proper distance.

When witnesses arrive at the court house they are quickly secluded from interview, or if one succeeds in eluding the watchful eye of an officer for a moment and talks with an innocent stranger, the thread of conversation is snipped short when the eye of the warden takes in the situation.

It is given out that it will take all of this week and a portion of next before a report is made to the court. There are hints, however, that there is a lot of new evidence that will clinch the matter of an indictment and that much of it will come from chemical experts who did not show their hand at the preliminary examination.

A 200-POUND MAN AND A PEANUT.

The Man Rolled the Nut Down a Hill in Payment of His Election Bet.

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Last night M. Walford, of this city, was seen rolling a peanut down south Broadway to Main street.

Mr. Walford weighs over 200 pounds, and before election agreed with Henry Bower that if Cleveland was elected the loser was to roll a peanut the full length of Broadway.

Mr. Walford kept his word and was followed by a large crowd.

It took him nearly an hour to perform the task, and when he had finished he was hardly able to stand erect on account of the attitude he was in during the rolling of the peanut.

Caused by a Crossed Wire.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 17.—A crossed wire set fire to the Western Union's Hudson river cable station at the Pennsylvania ferry in this city last evening, and in less than an hour the building was gutted, only the corrugated iron walls being left standing. There were 187 Western, Southern, and Erie wires running into the building, and of these only two were left intact.

Martial Law Suspended in Cour d'Alene.

BOISE, Id., Nov. 17.—Gov. Wiley has issued a general order directing Gen. Curtis, commanding the troops in the Cour d'Alene mines, to suspend martial law in Shoshone county. The county has been under martial law since last June. The Federal troops have been ordered to withdraw, and now the civil authorities will resume control.

New Hampshire's Official Vote.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 17.—Official returns to the Secretary of State give Smith, Republican, for Governor, 53,741; McKimney, Democrat, 41,434; Smith's plurality, 2,317, and majority, 643. The scattering vote has not yet been returned from 90 of the smaller towns, and when these come in Smith's majority will be reduced to about 400.

Bloomington's New Building Collapses.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—The new Bloomington Asylum building, 300 feet in length, collapsed Tuesday night during the storm. Two stories up the iron pillars were bent and twisted, and the 12-foot centre pillars were unable to bear the weight upon them. It is claimed that the architect, J. Brown Lord of New York, is at fault.

Union Cotton Company Dividend.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 13.—The long expected stock dividend of the Union Cotton Manufacturing company is being paid. It is 30 per cent on a share and amounts to $375,000. The mill still has a surplus on hand. It is said that most of the stock is owned out of the city and one estate alone received $30,000.
