FIFTY operatives in the Saxony knitting mill at Little Falls, N. Y., have been thrown out of employment by the shutting down of four sets of machinery in the mill, as the result of the election. All the mills at Little Falls will hereafter be run only on orders.

THERE are 282,624 children in Kings county, New York, and the reports to the Sunday School Convention of the county show that only 145,319 are enrolled in Sunday schools, the average attendance being 72,820. One need not go to foreign lands to find a field for mission work.

AMONG the curious things which the cyclone at Red Bud did was to carry five parlor chairs out of a house and deposit them in a row in the rear of the lot before it reduced the house to a shapeless mass. The people who throw looking glasses out of the windows when the house is afire and carry the feather beds down stairs could not have been more thoughtful.

JULES VERNE'S fanciful story of the comet which struck the earth and carried away several persons, whose adventures and observations on their ride through space form the basis of the narrative, seems less improbable with one of those mysterious inhabitants of space rushing toward us. Most of us would rather be excused from a ride on a comet.

ANOTHER winter of famine and suffering menaces the unhappy peasantry of Russia. Count Lyof Tolstoy states that in the district of Toula, in which he lives, the grain crops have failed and the people are without fuel, while still exhausted from last winter's miseries. Between cold and starvation in winter and cholera in summer, Russia's burden has been very grievous.

THIS time it is a handkerchief factory at South River, N. J., which is preparing to shut down for an indefinite period as a result of the Democratic victory. Notice has been given the 600 employees, who will thus be left without employment in the face of approaching winter. This is only one of a dozen similar cases. The prospect of a Democratic government already throws a blight on the country.

THE Georgia Legislature, not content with passing resolutions calling upon Congress to carry out section 10 of the Chicago platform and take the tax off State bank issues, has taken up a bill to allow State banks in Georgia to issue notes. These notes will be backed by the State's indorsement. How much that indorsement amounts to may easily be computed when one remembers that all the Southern States have repudiated their State debts.

THREE HUNDRED colored men met in convention at Atlanta Thursday last to draw up a memorial to the Legislature protesting against their military companies being excluded from the benefits of the State encampment; demanding first class accommodations on railroads when first-class fares are charged, and protesting against lynch law. It is high time that the colored men of the South should take united action for the defense of their rights and liberties. If they will begin the agitation they will be aided by the sympathy of every right minded man at the North. They ask for nothing more than is legally theirs, and they ought to get it.

WHEN the appalling neglect of sanitary precautions that prevails in the greater part of Russia is considered it does not appear strange that the cholera has again broken out with some violence in that empire. Cholera is readily transmitted in the boat loads of hides and other merchandise carried on the waterways of Interior Russia. The wonder is not that the cholera claimed so many victims in Russia, but that it did not claim many more. The wretched sanitary condition of Russia, and the admitted facts that the cholera still exists there, with everything favorable to its extension, makes it all the more necessary that careful precautions be maintained in this country against the introduction of the disease. Steamships carrying Russian immigrants should be vigilantly watched and inspected and none permitted to land who may reasonably be suspected of infection. The precautions taken by the Treasury Department with proper co-operation on the part of the local health officials, ought to be effective in preventing the introduction of disease through immigration.

MRS. DEACON GAINS A POINT.

The French Court Decides That Her Child Must Stay in France. PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Court of Appeal has given a decision substantially in favor of Mrs. Deacon on her appeal from the decision of the Tribunal of the Seine, which refused to grant her a divorce from Mr. Edward Parker Deacon, on the alleged ground of cruelty, and has ordered that the child, Gladys, abducted by Mrs. Deacon, shall be returned to the convent where she was formerly kept, until a decision of the suit now pending at Grasse and Aix.

This is virtually a triumph for Mrs. Deacon as Mr. Deacon's object was to get the child into his own possession for removal to America. The child is now to be retained in France, where Mrs. Deacon may yet hope to obtain complete control of her daughter. Her bold move in abducting the child has therefore been successful in its object.

Certain members of the Abelle family are still at work doing all they can to assist Mrs. Deacon, and to obstruct Mr. Deacon in his litigation with his wife. PETROFF MISSING. Hinted That the Falsifying Russian May Have Committed Suicide.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Nothing has been heard of Ivan Petroff, the Russian Alaskan expert, who made false representations to the State Department, which were embodied in the case of the Government of the United States before the Behring Sea arbitrators, since the exposure of his duplicity was made. He has disappeared utterly, and one of his friends has expressed the fear that he may have committed suicide.

A Woman Lottery Agent. BUFFALO, Nov. 23.—A dashing young woman, giving her name as Mary Abelo, appeared at Clifton, Ont., recently. She received so much mail that the curiosity of the Canadian postoffice authorities was aroused, and it was discovered that Miss Abelo was an agent for the Louisiana State Lottery.

Editor Medill's House Burned. PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 23.—The residence of Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago "Tribune," with its contents, except a little furniture on the first floor, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday.

A Colored Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Convicted. NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 23.—Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Antoine, (colored) has just been convicted of embezzling $500. He was President of the Senate under Gov. Kellogg.

Mississippi Navigation Closed. ST. PAUL, Nov. 23.—Navigation has been closed on the Mississippi River for the year.

NEWS OF THE DAY. —The steamship Saale is detained in Quarantine, New York, with a case of smallpox on board. —The State Board of Canners meets in Albany at the Secretary of State's office on December 15, to canvass the vote. —John McHenry, a brakeman on the Susquehanna railroad, fell between two freight cars at Hackensack, N. J., and was instantly killed. —Last week there were 167 cases and 59 deaths from diphtheria in Philadelphia, and within a year there have been 4,176 cases and 1,341 deaths. —Allen Harrison, aged 25 years, was hanged at Huntington, W. Va., yesterday for the murder of his sweetheart Bettie Adams, on April 3 last.

NO STOP TO THE FLOOD

Property Damage in Washington Will be Enormous.

SEVERAL LIVES REPORTED LOST.

The Valleys Have Become Lakes—Railroad Traffic Almost Entirely Suspended—Many Homes Swept Away—Still Raining, and the Worst Yet to Come.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 23.—Five deaths are reported as the result of the floods, while the loss of property in the shape of farm buildings carried away and wrecked will amount to many thousands of dollars.

The valleys of the Snohomish, stretching to the northward, are vast lakes. In the Stuck valley, as far as the eye can see is one great lake, in which logs, shingles, railroad ties, wrecked buildings, uprooted trees, and other debris are jammed together to 20 to 25 feet deep.

The Great Northern will not be able to run trains until the bridges are repaired, the slides removed and the track rebuilt. The Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern runs trains to the international boundary, but a transfer is made around the slide at Blackman. Three or four small steamers are reported sunk in the Snohomish river. A steamer is carrying passengers to Whatcom to take the rail connection to the East.

Frame houses of all descriptions have been floating in nearly every stream of any size west of the mountains. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Rain has fallen in torrents all day in Oregon and Washington, west of the Cascade mountains, and the local railroad traffic on Puget sound, north of Tacoma, is entirely suspended. The damage already done in the Puget sound country will probably reach half a million dollars, and the prospect now is that much greater damage will result.

The Northern Pacific has repaired the damage to the main line, and the trains for the East are now running regularly. The landside on the Union Pacific at the Cascade continues to come down with increased energy.

A heavy rain fell there yesterday, which washed tons of earth down the mountain side. TACOMA, Nov. 23.—Not a single train has passed between Tacoma and Seattle since the flood began.

HE QUIETLY STOLE AWAY. The President-elect Started for the South Last Night.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mr. Cleveland left this city very quietly at 8 o'clock last night. He was driven in a closed carriage from his residence in West 51st street to the D-branches street ferry and crossed to Jersey City. One of the Pennsylvania railroad officials escorted him to a special car, which had been attached to the regular 8:15 p. m. train from Jersey City south.

Mr. Cleveland's departure was unobserved. All information as to the hour of departure, the direction to be taken, and the destination of the President-elect was kept secret during the day, and when Mr. Cleveland, muffled in a big overcoat, walked through the railway station he was not recognized by the few people who were present.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—President-elect Cleveland is on his way to Exmore, Md., for a two weeks' gunning and fishing trip, in company with Charles Jefferson, son of Joseph Jefferson, and L. Clark Davis, editor of the "Public Ledger."

CRITCHLOW'S TRIAL. Confidently Believed That the Verdict Will be One of Acquittal.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Yesterday afternoon John S. Robb occupied one and a half hours in his address to the jury for the commonwealth in the case of Critchlow, and Wm. Erwin of St. Paul made a two hours' speech for the defense.

Court then adjourned until this morning, when Thomas M. Marshall, att., began the closing argument for the defense, Clarence Burleigh will finish for the prosecution. Judge Kennedy's charge will let the case go to the jury early this afternoon and a verdict may be expected before evening. It is now confidently believed that the verdict will be one of acquittal.

A Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food—imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties. Sold by Leading Grocers. Made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., CHICAGO and 138 N. Delaware Ave., Phila.
