THE THEATRE.

Plays Booked for Production at Ferguson's Theatre.

"The Waifs of New York," a very realistic melodrama, which for the past two seasons has been one of the successes of the road, will be seen at Ferguson's theatre on Wednesday, December 7th. The play abounds with startling situations and exciting climaxes, among which is the introduction of a steam fire engine and a pair of spirited horses.

MODEL MINSTRELS.

The Model Minstrels at the opera house on Wednesday gave an excellent entertainment. It was without doubt one of the best minstrel shows ever given at the opera house. The dancing was good and the music fine. For genuine fun and rich humor this company cannot be excelled.—The Altosian, Altoona, Pa. The Model Minstrels will appear at Ferguson's theatre on Thursday evening, December 8th.

THE WRECK REMOVED.

Hundreds of our townspeople walked out to the scene of the explosion east of the red bridge yesterday and watched the wreck crew remove the debris. Two gigantic derricks were kept at work all day and by nightfall only splinters of wood, a few scraps of iron, steel and tin, and the blackened bed of snow were left to indicate the scene of "Billy" Barry's death. The engineer was a most popular young man and the employees all along the line have taken his death as a severe blow.

Nelfert and Eroh, who had such a remarkable escape from death, suffered considerably yesterday from the effects of the shock, but will be all right again in a few days. They suffer principally from soreness attending the sprains and cuts they received. They are at their homes in Quakake. The cause of the explosion is still in doubt, which may be cleared when the inquest is held.

Prof. Barrett, of St. Lawrence county, N. Y., speaking of pulmonary diseases, says: Not one death occurs now where twenty died before Downs' Elixir was known. Over fifty years of constant success places Downs' Elixir at the head of the long list of cough remedies.

A Great Christmas Opening.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of Girvin, Duncan & Waidley which appears on the fourth page. Notwithstanding the fact that they have only been here two years, the business has grown to very large proportions and under the management of Mr. Girvin is steadily increasing. The question, "What would you spend for a Christmas gift?" may seem easy to answer, but when one enters their store and sees all the wonderful articles, the question is not so easily solved. The business is conducted on square principles, one price and one only. A HERALD representative called to see Mr. Girvin last evening, and to him the number and variety of fancy articles displayed on every hand was quite a revelation. The lines include china and glassware, lamps of every description, fancy goods, housefurnishing goods, novelties, notions and toys. A special feature of the store at this season of the year is the special line of fancy goods suitable for Christmas and wedding gifts. The lover looking for something for his sweetheart, the husband who desires to remember his wife at this festive season; the sister who needs some one to aid her in the choice of a present for her brother; the parents who will get presents for their children; all young and old, high and low, rich and poor, can call at this beautiful store and receive the same attention. No matter whether you buy or not, the obliging clerks are always ready to show the goods and consider it a pleasure. A visit there is like the realization of childish fairy dreams.

For a short time only we will sell large bottles of KO-DA for 25c.

The Monument Committee.

The Soldiers' Monument Committee will meet in the Council chamber on Friday, Dec. 2nd, 1892, at 8 p. m. Representatives of all societies and all other members of the committee are requested to be present ready to report on a site for the monument at that question will be definitely settled at the meeting.

LOSS OF SLEEP!

I have suffered from loss of sleep, tired feeling, had no appetite, a choking sensation; forming of a hard substance, like a ball, in the stomach, wakeful and nervous during the night, causing loss of sleep until about morning, when palpitation of the heart ensued. I have spent many dollars with numerous doctors, to no avail. Since using Mexican Blood Tonic I have been greatly relieved, and can cheerfully recommend this remedy to others.
