SAYS THE TALE IS TRUE

Lawyer Beck on the Alleged Poisoning of Non-Union Men at Homestead.

A DOCTOR AND A DRUGGIST SAID TO BE INCRIMINATED.

Mr. Beck, Who is Counsel for the Carnegie Company, Reports That at Least Six Mill Laborers have Died from Poison—A Number of Arrests to be Made in a Few Days—Robert Beatty, Who was Arrested in Louisville, Directly Charged With the Crime.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 12.—E. I. Beck, counsel for the Carnegie Steel company, limited, was seen this morning and confirmed the story of the poisoning. He says his information is that at least six deaths resulted from poisoning. A Homestead druggist and physician are implicated.

The powder was given to a dog and it died in a few minutes. A number of arrests will probably be made in a few days. Coroner McDowell has not yet been notified.

He will go to Homestead this afternoon, however, to investigate the cause of the death of Isaac Juris, who died suddenly about two weeks ago. Juris was a witness in the Critchlow case.

If the detectives in the employ of the Carnegie company are to be believed a vast conspiracy of murder has grown out of the Homestead strike. It was a plot, they say, to poison by wholesale the non-union workmen at the Carnegie company's steel plant, and the developments implicate members of the Amalgamated Association and officials of other labor organizations.

As a result of the plot it is alleged that thirty or forty persons already have lost their lives, and scores are still suffering in hospitals and at their homes from the effects of drugs. To-day nine more persons are under arrest, ostensibly on trivial charges, but really to avert suspicion until all their alleged fellow-conspirators have been secured.

The many cases of illness in the mills at the time of the occupation of Homestead by the military were attributed to bad river water, yet despite the efforts to better the supply the sickness continued. It was two months ago that the first suspicion was entertained that the people were being poisoned, but it was not until Saturday that the evidence was deemed strong enough to warrant legal steps.

The object of the plot, it is said, was to make life in the mills unendurable. The price to be paid when the mills were closed was $5,000. Robert J. Beatty is now under arrest in Louisville on the charge of poisoning non-union men at Homestead. He had previously been arrested in Pittsburgh but escaped.

The information on which the original arrest was made was sworn out by J. H. Ford, a Pinkerton detective, and charges the prisoner with administering a deadly poison to William E. Griffith, chief cook in the mills.

It was learned last night that special officers have been investigating the matter for two months, and have worked up a good case against several of the union men, as well as against cooks who were employed in the mill with Beatty. It is understood Beatty supplied all the cooks with the poison they used, and was middle man between those engaged in the conspiracy.

A force of 500 troops will be immediately sent to the scene of the depredations.

PRIEST CORRIGAN'S CASE

The Trial of the Hoboken Pastor Begins To-Day.

HIS CONTEST WITH BISHOP WIGGER.

Likelihood That the Case Will be One of the Most Important in the Catholic Church in Recent Years—Father Corrigan vs. Editor Walsh.

NEWARK, Dec. 12.—To-day in the pastoral residence of St. Patrick's Cathedral, in this city, begins the trial of Rev. Patrick Corrigan, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Grace, Hoboken. The case will probably be one of the most famous in the Catholic Church in recent years. The whole country is interested in it.

At first the affair was a personal matter between Father Corrigan and Bishop Wigger. The priest attacked the recent German Catholic Congress at Newark. He said that its members were aiming to Germanize the country through the Catholic Church. Bishop Wigger resented this attack, declaring that Father Corrigan had insulted him, Archbishop Corrigan and the others who attended the Congress.

Father Corrigan then severely criticized Bishop Wigger's administration of the Newark diocese. The Bishop cited the priest for trial before the ecclesiastical court of the diocese. Father Corrigan was not silenced by the Bishop's action. He continued to write letters in which he reiterated his earlier statements.

Father Corrigan, it is said, voices the sentiments of the majority of the priests of the country who are not Germans. There is a bitter feeling between the Irish-American and German priests of the United States. Father Corrigan's stand at this time against Cahensly makes him the mouthpiece of the priests who are opposed to the attitude of the Germans. In his trial the contest between the two elements of the Catholic clergy will naturally come up, it is said. For this reason the case is one of national importance.

The Rev. J. J. O'Connor, Vicar General of the Newark diocese and professor of dogmatic theology in the diocesan seminary, is to be the judge. Father Corrigan is to be represented by the Rev. Dr. Richard Lalor Bestall, of Boston, formerly pastor of the Epiphany church in New York, who was Dr. McGlynn's ecclesiastical lawyer in the McGlynn case. Dr. Bestall was transferred from the Epiphany church to a country parish at Rondout. He is regarded as one of the ablest ecclesiastical lawyers in the country. Bishop Wigger will be represented by the Rev. Dr. S. S. Smith of Paterson, who is the author of a work on ecclesiastical law.

The charges against Father Corrigan are maliciously insinuating calumnies against the members of the German Congress held at Newark, as Germans, and against Bishop Wigger, as Bishop of the Newark diocese. It is believed that Bishop Wigger will not appear at the trial. In diocesan trials the bishop generally acts as judge, but because Father Corrigan had attacked him personally Bishop Wigger decided not to be the judge. Father Corrigan protested against the appointment of Father O'Connor as judge, and asked Bishop Wigger to let Archbishop Satolli try the case. Bishop Wigger would not consent to these proposals.

Father Corrigan's statements regarding Editor Walsh, of the New York "Sunday Democrat," have excited particular comment. He said:

"I see by a morning paper that Michael Walsh, the disreputable greenhorn Irish journalist, continues his scurrilous charges against me in his capacity of 'orthodox Catholic' editor and defender of Archbishop Corrigan, Bishop Wigger and Mgr. Satolli."

It is a disgrace to have this man's name connected with the defaming of any cases, much less with that of honorable men and distinguished ecclesiastics, and I would not have touched him at all had he not, by distorting and misrepresenting facts that were known only to Bishop Wigger and his chancellor, Rev. Denis McCarron, revealed to some extent the source of his inspiration.

"Bishop Wigger unconsciously disgraced St. John Hall by conferring upon this bosom friend of his reverend chancellor—and presumably at the request of the latter—the title of L. L. D."

"During the late presidential campaign this man, who claimed an interest in two little obscure weekly papers, is charged with having offered one of them to the Democrats and the other to the Republicans, and he now claims that he has Archbishop Corrigan's influence in his aspirations to the office of Internal Revenue Collector, now held by Major Kirwin. This claim must be false, and a person of Walsh's antecedents is the last man that Mr. Cleveland would dream of appointing to office."

"The assertion that Archbishop Corrigan, Bishop Wigger and Mgr. Conello have convicted the Hoboken pastor of misrepresentation and lies' is false, and he knows that it is false, if he has any regard for the truth."

"The Archbishop has not disapproved, or attempted to disprove, the truth of my statement of his strained relations with Bishop Wigger."

"Mgr. Conello has not denied that he wrote a secret pamphlet to the Pope, and when I charged him with having accused the Irish, though he himself is pastor of an Irish parish while claiming to be a hot Cahenslyite, he did not dare to produce a copy of the pamphlet as a final settlement of the question."

"I have the authority of a distinguished Archbishop, now in Europe, that such was the charge. Let him produce the pamphlet if I have been misinformed."

"The charge that my statement of Bishop Wigger's treatment of Mgr. Doane is a lie, is also false. I am aware that Bishop Wigger, in a communication to the papers under his own name, has denounced my statement as an untruthful falsehood," but I am also aware that my statement is perfectly true to the letter and that Mgr. Doane, himself, has in his possession the proofs of my truthfulness."

Not His First Attempt at Arson. MIDDLEBORO, Conn., Dec. 12.—Joseph Cheesbrough, who set fire to Edward O'Connor's barn at Cromwell, Friday night, and was arrested in this city Saturday, is the same man who set fire to the Methodist church here some time ago.
