NORFOLK AND ITS SURROUNDINGS

The Naval Rendezvous at Hampton Roads Will Give That Section of the Country a Boom.

THE Norfolk, Virginia, railway and land enterprise referred to in yesterday's HERALD and in which many prominent gentlemen of this county have interested themselves, is not wholly dependent for success upon the commercial and pleasure advantages the field itself affords, but has as backing for a successful beginning an event of not only national importance, but international importance as well—the Naval Rendezvous of 1893 at Hampton Roads provided for by Congress.

There is hardly a doubt that the waters of Hampton Roads will bear upon its broad and ample surface such a collection of naval vessels from all parts of the globe as has seldom, if ever, been gathered in rendezvous in ancient or modern history. The United States itself is the host, the civilized nations of the world its guests, and it rests only with us to do what is right and proper to show our appreciation of the fact that this great gathering is invited to meet at our threshold.

Each nation will be represented, not only by its vessels, but by some great dignitary, and it will become the duty of the President of the United States, of his Cabinet and of the naval officers of the United States to extend every possible act of hospitality to these foreign and American officers, sailors and marines who will thus spend from a week to a month in the harbor and city, but exclusive of the sight-seers who will be attracted there, the number will hardly fall short of a hundred thousand men.

Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Cape Charles, Virginia Beach, Old Point, Ocean View and Willoughby Spit will be the rendezvous for the visitors and to meet the demands of the immense throngs traveling to and fro will keep the newly organized Norfolk and Ocean View Railroad Company busy, in return for which the coffers of the company will be overflowing when the Naval Review ceases. And when the accommodations for the immense throngs are sought the Willoughby Hotel and Cottage Company will assume a sphere of usefulness.

Since the publication of the particulars concerning the deal in yesterday's HERALD there have been a number of callers at the office of the paper desirous of gleanings information concerning Norfolk and the vicinity and the probable future prospects of the place. All visitors have been given the benefit of what is mentioned above.

So far as Norfolk is concerned, it is one of the best shipping ports in the South. The lumber trade is the largest of the Southern states, and so is the peanut trade. In shipping cotton it stands fifth. Truck is raised nearly the whole year round and some of the largest truck farms in the State of Virginia are about Norfolk. The oyster, fish and wild game industries are also very large and the markets of Washington, Baltimore, New York and other eastern places are almost exclusively supplied by the shipments from this place.

The population of the city of Norfolk is about 50,000. During the past ten years it increased over 60 per cent. and it is expected that this rate of increase will be kept up for the next ten years. The limits of the city are being rapidly extended and new and handsome buildings are going up in all directions. Dwellings are in constant demand. Nine railroads enter the city and means of transportation are also afforded by sixteen steamship companies. Richmond and other southern points are reached by the James river, or by rail; and Baltimore and Washington are within reach by either rail, or the Chesapeake Bay and Potomac river. The city has street railways (horse power) and is well paved and drained.

The company organized in town on Thursday has secured the charter of the Ocean View Railway, its rolling stock, land, and the buildings thereon. Last year this road earned large dividends without carrying a colored person, yet the colored people constitute four-fifths of the population. This road only runs to Ocean View now, but will be extended to the end of Willoughby Spit by the new company and electric motors will take the place of the locomotives now in use. The new company has also secured valuable property which has already been laid out in lots, with parks located here and there to beautify the place. One hundred and fifty of these lots were sold at a forced sale last year and brought an average price of $100, and at that time there were no prospects of reaching the sites by rail. Of the 150 purchasers at that sale 104 have promised in writing to build cottages as soon as they are assured of railway facilities. The organization of the new company carries with it this assurance and within two years every lot on the tract will be sold at from $200 to $1,000 each. These sites are controlled by the Willoughby Hotel & Cottage Company, also organized here, on Thursday. There is another tract of valuable land containing about 100 acres. This has been secured by the railway company, independent of the company last mentioned, as will also be laid out in lots.

It can be said without exaggeration that the franchises secured by the two companies organized here would be cheap at $1,000,000.

OUR CHRISTMAS "BOX."
Respectfully Dedicated to Some of Our Illustrious (?) Councilmen.

The Printing Press shall be free to every person who may undertake to examine the proceedings of the Legislature, or any branch of government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the rights thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions is one of the invaluable rights of man and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject, be he responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

TIMELY TOPICS.

A String of Thoughts and Fancies of the Editor.

Cesarism will not survive long in Shenandoah. Snow in the air. Will we have good sleighing for Christmas?

Send me to the next Council; not children.

Our merchants are busy to-day. Post 140, Grand Army of the Republic, has decided to distribute free turkeys to indigent soldiers and widows.

We wish to remark that the present Council is not a legal body and all ordinances passed by it are illegal.

Plenty of dressed poultry in the market. Wonder if Council will pass a resolution next meeting prohibiting the police from giving the HERALD any news.

Holderman's gold watches for $12 are sold elsewhere at $18. Silver watches sold from $3 to $5 lower than elsewhere. Corner Main and Lloyd streets. 12-10-1f

Minnie Lester's Own Company. Manager Ferguson has secured for the attraction all next week one of the best companies at popular prices now on the road. On Monday evening the Minnie Lester Company will begin their week's repertoire of plays by presenting "The Silver Lodge," which is interspersed with comedy, singing and dancing by Miss Lester. A change of bill nightly. A special feature is the Minnie Lester band and orchestra, which will give a concert each evening.

USE DANA'S SARSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES"
Bogus Solicitors.

The public is respectfully requested to beware of persons who are reported as soliciting contributions in aid of the Columbia Hose Company's fair without authority. All persons are warned before paying any money to examine the books of the collectors carefully. The company will be thankful for any information that will lead to the detection of a bogus collector and will also be thankful if persons who have promised contributions and have not been called upon will notify the committee. 12-17-2f

"We lead, never follow." Holderman's Jewelry store, corner Main and Lloyd streets. 12-10-1f

The Wonderful Phonograph. The people of Shenandoah are to be treated to a wonderful entertainment in the Primitive Methodist church on Thursday evening, December 22d. Mr. L. H. Howe, of the Edison Phonograph Company, will be here with Edison's latest phonograph, and all appliances necessary to give a concert that can be heard and enjoyed by 1,000 people. The programme will include the reproduction of all kinds of sounds, from the full brass band down to the sweet low tones of a flute solo. Also the barking of dogs and the full music of a barnyard. Don't fail to hear it. Get your tickets early. Simply wonderful. 12-10-3f-sws

Grand Time at Jumbo's. The largest man in the business, John Trout (Jumbo) who sells the best of everything that is good to drink, will spread the hamst lunch in Pottsville at his saloon, 208 W. Market street, on Christmas Monday, Dec. 20th, next.

All goods warranted as represented, or money refunded, at Holderman's jewelry store, corner Main and Lloyd streets. 12-10-1f

Santa Claus' Headquarters. The headquarters for beautiful Christmas presents is Mellet's, 22 East Centre street, Shenandoah. The largest and best assortment of dolls, toys, games, picture story books, albums, toilet cases, &c. Young and old can secure what they want at the very lowest prices. 13-17-7f

A FAMILY REUNION!

JOYOUS EVENT AT THE KEHLER RESIDENCE.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH KEHLER

Celebrate the Forty-Fifth Anniversary of Their Wedding. Congratulated by Their Children.

JOY reigned supreme in the Kehler homestead on North Main street to-day. Joseph K. Kehler and his venerable partner in life celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of their marriage by having a family reunion. It was a joyous gathering and merry peals of laughter floated through the homestead all day. In the dining room was a long table elegantly spread for sixty guests and every seat was occupied.

All the surviving children and grand-children of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kehler were present, in addition to a number of other relatives.

Among those present were Joseph H. Kehler, wife and seven children; M. H. Kehler, wife and daughter; O. S. Kehler, wife and daughter; Thomas Glenwright, wife and eight children, of Minersville; S. W. Yost, wife and seven children, and Thomas Sobey, of Mahanoy Plane, wife and three children, and the two surviving children of the late A. H. Kehler.

Mr. Glenwright is foreman for the P. & R. C. & L. Co.'s Thomaston colliery and has held a foremanship under the company for the past 17 years. He married Elizabeth Kehler.

The others who participated in the festivities were Presiding Elder Daniel Medlar, of the Pottsville District of the Evangelical Association, Rev. Lichtenwalner and wife, William Snyder and wife; J. W. Johnson and wife, Elijah Kehler and wife, and Mrs. Elias Kehler.

Mr. and Mrs. Kehler were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents, among them an elaborate dinner set.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

Superior to All Others. Alcock's Porous Plasters are the great external remedy of the day. The quickest, safest, surest, best. Not only immeasurably superior to all other plasters, but also to liniments, ointments, oils and similar unctuous compounds. Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

Tut, tut! You never heard of so good a remedy for hoarseness as Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Senecca. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

OBES' OBSERVATIONS.
What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

Three jewelry stores in town have been visited by thieves within a short space of time. In two of the cases the stores were visited immediately after the owners had left them and in the third case the thief commenced work just after a policeman had passed the place. This goes to show these thieves are cool and calculating, and that they are following the citizens and police closely and keep well informed as to their movements. It is hoped they have nearly reached the end of their rope.

The report of the local post office for this week, published in the HERALD to-day, shows that but one letter remains on the "uncalled" for list. This is a commendable showing for the management and system of the office.

Messrs Lamb and Gable had a hot argument at the meeting of the Borough Council Thursday evening, during which Mr. Gable declared, "I claim this committee acted dirty and was bulldozed by one or two members." The public now has the word of one of "De Ate" that bulldozing is done in Council and some of the members act dirty, hence another charge the HERALD has made is confirmed.

Wonders will never cease. The savings fund fever has struck the almshouse. Yesterday afternoon a woman, who is a well-known solicitor of financial aid and contributions of cast off clothing, was in a Main street store begging for money. Her plea was that she had made provision for $2,000 for the benefit of her children in one of the savings funds of town and she needed money to keep up the instalments.

A business man of town said to me last night, "I wish you would see that the HERALD warns the people against snap Christmas presents. Now is the time that they are most in danger of being defrauded. About a week before Christmas each year fakirs hold the towns and offer the innocent housewives attractive but very inferior articles at what appears to be exceedingly low prices, but are really less than five per cent. below the prices asked for the genuine articles by the responsible merchants of the town. Tell the people to beware of fakirs who offer jewelry, dress goods, shawls, pieces of cloths and silks, etc., under the plea that they need money to get to their homes to spend Christmas. Almost in every instance people find themselves deceived in such cases."

A Mr. McGinness, of town, whose first name has escaped the reporters, was suddenly pulled up in his criminal court prosecutions at Pottsville yesterday. Last week he had Frank Bonin before the court on a charge of assault and battery. Mr. Bonin was found "not guilty," but directed to pay the costs, which amounted to nearly $170. Yesterday McGinness had Mrs. Margaret Hilbert before the court. He charged her with assault and battery. Mrs. Hilbert was represented by M. M. Burke, Esq. Her story was that one day last August McGinness approached her in an intoxicated condition and made an indecent remark. Mrs. Hilbert struck the fellow a blow in the face with her fist, and the blow had sufficient force to knock McGinness upon his back on the ground. After hearing all the evidence the jury acquitted Mrs. Hilbert and put the costs on McGinness, who was unable to pay them and went over to the county jail to serve out the amount.

Goods sold at Holderman's jewelry store from 25 to 30 per cent. less than elsewhere. 12-10-1f

"The Drummer Boy." The production last night at Ferguson's theatre of the old-time war drama, "Drummer Boy, or Spy of Shiloh," under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 206, P. O. S. of A., attracted a large audience. The entertainment was a very satisfactory one. The camp and battle scenes were well staged and the tableaux were very beautiful. Co. A, of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Guards, and the uniformed company of the Sons of Veterans, rendered good service during the play. E. J. Cotter agreeably surprised his friends by his conscientious and artistic work in the character of Mart Zouave. Phil J. Connell did himself credit as Frank Rutledge and A. F. Nail and G. H. Sanjuel were two very amusing characters. Miss Minnie Guldin made an excellent John Howard, the drummer boy. Little Biddle Guldin was received with rounds of applause for her dancing and singing. The entire cast rendered their respective parts admirably, and the audience showed its appreciation of the performance by unstinted applause. The performance will be repeated this evening, and the indications point to a crowded house.

Have you any form of Rheumatic disease? If so a bottle of the genuine imported Anchor Pain Expeller is the happy relief. Try it and be convinced. 25 and 50 cents a bottle, at C. H. Hagenbuch, P. P. D. Kirlin, J. M. Hillan, and other druggists. 3f

Go to Holderman's jewelry store to select your Christmas presents. By making a small deposit goods will be laid away until called for. Corner Main and Lloyd streets. 1f

"Oh, what shall we have for dinner, Shall it be beef or lamb?" "Neither; but let us dine to-day OF 'FERRIS' Delicious Ham."

A bad cough or cold calls for a good remedy—the cure for it. For Coughs, Colds, LA Grippe and Consumption, a perfect and permanent cure is Ferris-Tina, the worst cases yield to its healing properties. Costs 15 cents. Ferris-Tina is sold at P. P. D. Kirlin's drug store.
