TIMELY TOPICS.

A String of Thoughts and Fancies of the Editor.

The correct name for the resolution passed by Council is "conspiracy."

The Herald is almost a quarter century old. The tactics used by Council are as bad as those used by the Spanish Inquisition.

We are not finding fault, but we hope the Traction Company will extend its road from town to St. Nicholas at an early day.

Notwithstanding the Mahanoy City people do not want it done.

Today a boy 16 years old will die under the electric machine at Sing Sing prison for the murder of a baby.

What does any one want to read Zola for when there are realistic pictures of the horrors of life and death surpassing his to be had in the daily newspapers?

Our standing army is limited by law to 25,000 men, and the Army Appropriation bill just passed the House carries $24,202,740, or something less than $1,000 a man.

Increase the army to the size of that of France or Germany, imagine the row over the taxation which support of it would cause, and one can understand in a measure the feeling of the Germans over the bill proposing to add to their army a force four times as great as our whole army.

What was practically the most magnificent block of life insurance that mortal man ever carried was held by Jay Gould.

The financier may not have been aware of its existence, but the chances are that he was.

He could look a great way into his future if there was any money in it. He had to pay no cash premiums on his insurance and no agents ever got commissions on it.

Eight days after his death the actual cash value of all the stock of the three corporations in which he was chiefly interested was $18,831,335 greater than on December 2.

Of course all this increase is not so much more wealth for the young Goulds, since they do not own all the stock of three corporations, but assume that a quarter or a third is in the strong boxes of the dead millionaire, and the increment rises to over $4,000,000—a heap of life insurance such as no man ever left before to enrich his sorrowing heirs.

The Women's Relief Corps, connected with the Grand Army of the Republic of town, will give a grand banquet week to which the old veterans have been invited.

Give the puffers a little berth if you do not want to be "taken in."

This will be a long week with the young ladies who are working on Christmas presents for their friends.

DESPERATE MARTIN FOY.

His Latest Attempt to Escape—Stricter Measures to be Taken With Him. BALLSTON, N. Y., Dec. 19.—Murderer Martin Foy seems to be desirous of exciting Oliver Curtis Perry, the train robber, in his attempts to escape. Late Saturday night he thrust excelsior filling from the mattress through the door of his cell, and then set fire to it with matches that had been allowed him for cigarette smoking.

Dan Dwyne, John McDonald and Charles Plauto, three short term prisoners who were allowed to sleep in the corridor, gave the alarm and partially quenched the flames with buckets of water before Jailer Smith arrived from his apartments. Foy cursed them and said he would like to knife the Sheriff if he had the opportunity.

Yesterday, during religious services conducted in the corridor by the W. C. T. U., he continually clanked his chain and kept up a run of profanity.

Stricter measures will be taken with him in the future.
