

isn't in it.

It is just because there is no lard in it, that COTTOLENE the new shortening is so wonderfully popular with housekeepers. COTTOLENE is PURE, DELICATE, HEALTHFUL, SATISFYING—none of the unpleasant odor necessarily connected with lard. Get the genuine. There is no real substitute.

Made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., CHICAGO, and 138 N. Delaware Ave., Philada.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. CURE SICK HEADACHE. Cure Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, etc. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing...

ACHE. In the base of so many lives that here is where we make our great work. Our pills cure while others do not. Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not grip or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vial 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York. SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

SHILOH'S CURE. Cures Consumption, Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Sore Eyes, Itching in a Groin, etc. For a Lamé Side, Back or Chest Shilo's Porous Plaster will give great satisfaction. 25 cents.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER. Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shilo's Vitalizer SAVED MY LIFE. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For weakness of stomach or kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cents.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. Have you Catarrh? Try this Remedy. It will relieve and cure you. Price 50 cents. This is your only chance for its successful treatment is furnished free. Shilo's Remedies are sold by us on a guarantee to give satisfaction.

N. H. Downs' Elixir WILL CURE THAT Cold AND STOP THAT Cough. Has stood the test for SIXTY YEARS and has proved itself the best remedy known for the cure of Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, and all Lung Diseases in young or old. Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle. SOLD EVERYWHERE. KNEPP, JOHNSON & LOEB, Prop., Burlington, Vt.

77 YEARS OLD. I am seventy-seven years old and have had my age reported at least twenty years by a lot of SWISS SPECIFIC. My face and hair are as young as ever. I feel like a new man. I can do all the work I want to do. I am a new lease on life. You ought to know what a wonderful remedy. IRA F. STELLER, Palmar, Kansas City.

IS A WONDERFUL REMEDY—especially for old people. It builds up the general health. It is the blood making free. SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

TWENTY-TWO KILLED OUT

Many Others Shot, Several Fatal. Mob, Having Lynched a Confessed Murderer, Is Met by the Sheriff and Deputies—A Sanguinary Encounter Enues. JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 5.—The facts which led up to the terrible lynching at Bakersville, N. C., were as follows: Aaron Wiseman and Calvin Snipes were partners in an illicit distillery in Mitchell county, N. C., and had Wm. Osborne and Isaac Osborne, distillers, where the distillery was situated. Wm. Osborne reported the distillery to the officials at Bakersville, N. C., and helped them to destroy it.

Wiseman and Snipes suspected Isaac Osborne as the reporter. On the night of August 27, 1894, Snipes and Wiseman armed with Winchester rifles, went to the home of Isaac Osborne and called him up. Mr. Osborne came to the door and the culprits opened fire almost riddling him with bullets. Wiseman and Snipes were arrested but sufficient evidence could not be obtained against Wiseman and he was released. Snipes was bound by the Superior Court on purely circumstantial evidence. He was placed in jail and after being confined about two weeks, confessed to the killing in the manner above related.

A mob of 400 gathered at Bakersville yesterday afternoon and at once surrounded the jail. The sheriff barricaded the doors but the mob battered the main door down with a log for a ram. The mob swarmed into the jail and overpowered the guards. The sheriff refused to tell where he had secreted the keys of Snipes' cell.

The door was burst in and Snipes was dragged out and in the care of the mob marched through the town and into a mountain forest about half a mile distant. The sheriff swore in half a hundred deputies, and at once started in pursuit. He hoped to recover the prisoner, but before he reached the timber the mob had strung Snipes to the limb of a tree and were pouring volleys of bullets into his body when the sheriff and his men came up.

The brave sheriff ordered his men to arrest the ringleaders of the mob. The mob at once opened fire on the sheriff and his men, who as quickly replied with guns and revolvers. The combatants scattered among the trees, and a regular guerrilla war began. The battle lasted an hour or so before both sides paused to care for the wounded.

The names of those of the sheriff's posse killed are as follows: J. N. Williams, D. F. Richie, R. R. Jones, P. E. Sams, R. E. Johnson, Wm. Reed, T. N. Beckner, J. W. Laws, N. R. Paimell, G. N. Hallfield and Thomas Hall. The names of those of the mob killed are: John Work, William Osborne, T. G. Bailiff, Will Perry, John Osborne, Phil Crowder, Jim Nance, Will Butler, Haggy Hyrd, Owen Thomas, Jack Phillips and several others whose names are not known at present.

Seriously Hurt in an Explosion. Troy, N. Y., Jan. 5.—An explosion of illuminating gas wrecked the four story building at the corner of Ferry and Third streets yesterday afternoon and Robert Seize was seriously burned and injured. His wife received bruises as did also Mrs. Dr. M. D. Dickinson. The Third street wall was blown across the thoroughfare and the loss, a total one, will reach several thousand dollars.

Two Boys Drowned While Skating. WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 5.—Joseph and Henry Austin, 11 and 15 years old respectively, sons of Abraham Austin, a carpenter, who were with a crowd of boys skating on Lake Quassanong yesterday afternoon, went through the ice into fifty feet of water and were both drowned. Joseph first fell in and his brother rushed to his assistance.

Many Cars Demolished. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Two work-trains on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad came together near Buena Vista, Pa., yesterday and a large number of cars were demolished. The wreck took fire, and all the cars were consumed. Engineer Kane and Conductor Peregray were slightly hurt by jumping. The loss to the company was $15,000.

Jockey Joe Bergen Dead. GLOUCESTER, N. J., Jan. 5.—Jockey Joe Bergen, who was thrown from his horse in the third race here yesterday afternoon, died late last night from the effects of the injuries he received. He was taken to a hotel near the track in an unconscious condition and the efforts of the physician to restore him to consciousness were unavailing.

Another Immigration Bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—In view of the fact that Senator Chandler's immigration bill has been pigeon-holed by the House Committee to whom it was referred, the Senator has just introduced another bill the object of which is to lessen danger from cholera from abroad.

Texas Stock Men Excited. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 5.—The stock men of this section are very much wrought up over hunters trespassing on their lands. They allege that sportsmen go into the pastures, run off their cattle, kill horses and burn their grass.

May be Phelps' Successor. BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The "Tagelblatt" says that Dr. Senner of the New York "Staatszeitung" is believed to have been selected by President-elect Cleveland to succeed William Walter Phelps as United States Minister to Germany.

Senate Bills to be Considered. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Friday and Saturday next have been set apart by the Senate for the consideration of the bill granting additional quarantine powers and of the bill for the suspension of immigration for one year.

Lighter Sunk by an Ice Floe. New York, Jan. 5.—The lighter George McHenry was sunk at Pier forty-eight North river during the morning by an ice floe. The lighter was loaded with dry goods, which floated away with the tide.

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

Fainted at the Altar. A Bridgton, N. J., Bride Swears as the Clergyman Asks the Question. BRIDGE TON, N. J., Jan. 5.—The wedding of Miss Catherine W. Stadler, daughter of J. B. Stadler, and Baptist S. Scull of Camden, came to a sudden termination yesterday afternoon. The clergyman had just asked the bride if she would take the man she held by the hand to be her lawful husband. In the act of answering Miss Stadler fainted in the arms of the groom. As she was carried from the room her mother also fainted.

A Paradise for Thirty Ones. St. Louis, Jan. 5.—Brewers here are engaged in a bitter war. A year or so ago all the large breweries formed a syndicate. Since then scores of small breweries have sprung up. The syndicate is trying to wipe out the small fry, who have been stealing their customers. The syndicate has cut the price of beer to $4 a barrel, which is nearly the cost price to the producers.

Buried in a Mine for Ten Days. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—Ten days ago a mine on the Lonetz railway was flooded by a premature explosion and all but eight of the miners escaped. Pumps were worked night and day, and to-day a search was begun for the bodies of the eight victims. To the surprise of all, the men were found in an abandoned work. They were alive, but unconscious from hunger.

Egyptian Quarantine Raised. NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A quarantine has existed for a number of months in Egypt on passengers from Europe. This has been very troublesome to travelers intending to spend the winter in Egypt, and coming from the North. Information has been received that the quarantine has been abolished in Egypt and Palestine and that travelers will not experience any delay hereafter.

Wanted for Another Murder. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Edward McAllen, alias Wm. Walker, now undergoing an eight years term in the Riverside Penitentiary here, for the murder of Gabriel Mossly last August is wanted at Niagara Falls for the murder of a man there on June 17th. McAllen has been identified and the Grand Jury has found a true bill against him.

Fire Department Incompetent. BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The underwriters at a conference with Mayor Boody gave as a reason for increasing insurance rates to 25 per cent, that the fire department was incompetent, that its chief spent his time in Florida, on his yacht and at the races, and that the whole department was run by politicians.

Great Demand for the New Stamps. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Information received at the Postoffice Department indicates an unprecedented demand for the Columbian postage stamps. An order for 200,000 of the four-cent denomination was received this morning from a prominent business firm, presumably to be used in sending out circulars.

Thin Children Grow Fat on Scott's Emulsion, because fat foods make fat children. They are thin, and remain thin just in proportion to their inability to assimilate food rich in fat.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is especially adaptable to those of weak digestion—it is partly digested already. Astonishing how quickly a thin person gains solid flesh by its use! Almost as palatable as milk.

HOTEL AND RESTAURANT! PAUL SUMMA. Respectfully informs his old friends and the public generally that he has taken charge of the old stand lately occupied by Felix Adrioles, where he will keep on hand a fresh stock of Porter, Ale and Lager Beer. Finest brands of Liquors and Cigars.

Paul Summa, Franny's Building, Cor. Main and Poplar Sts.

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation, for we notice that the very... great majority of strangers say broad... way. So we spot them on the instant... and ask them from what part of the... country they hail, just to show them... that there is something about them that... is not city-fied, and to set them puzzling... about whether it is in the shape of their... feet or the style of their shoes, or what... fails. People from the south betray the... fact by calling our Houston street... "Houston street," as that name is pro... nounced from Texas to the Chesapeake... and we play as strange a trick with an... "our name" for we call Counties slip... thimble slip." As no one would do... that naturally we detect strangers by... that pronunciation. The name of Ho... uston is another that we trifle with... with it Habbushen, instead of as it... ought. But in ways and by words... Noer than these I can pick out a... New Yorker anywhere that he... told I may meet, whether it be in Bos... ton or in the Rocky mountains. I can... do this by noticing how he pronounces... his "ur" sound in such words as birth... the, earth, heard, etc. All the rest of... the country pronounce these words... North, bird, urth and heard. Not so the... New Yorker. He is carefully taught... to do so in all the public schools, as... he is in his parents at home. The... fact is that enters so largely into... this expression, that it composes it... is how we say our tongues: Ur-yith... our-yid-der for murder. As how we... were born in New York have the... and public school-teachers insisting... this peculiar twist; commanding the pu... pils to put on the trade mark as fight... ing men once wore the coat of arms of... their feudal masters. Most of us, too, have... heard the careful little girls on the... way home from school correcting care... less companions by insisting that "you... ought say bird; you must say it nicely... bird."

How many people in New York city has a... one that it maintains... teaching it in the public... a correspondent of the Providence... Many persons have commended... the precision with which a New York... can spot a stranger the instant the... stranger undertakes to pronounce the... names of the principal streets in the... town. We call it Broadway, emphasizing... the last syllable very strongly. It... appears to be quite a trick to do this... and it is evidently an unnatural pro... nunciation