SIX TO ONE.

A correspondent from Ohio writes, with some natural indignation, to a Pittsburg paper, of the relative weight of votes in South Carolina and Ohio The total vote cast in South Caroline last November was only 70,492, yet it is represented by 7 members of Congress, 2 United States Sepators and 9 electoral votes for Cleveland. The Obio district in which this corres pondent lives, and thelineighboring one (the Eighteenth and | Niucteent, Congressional districts) cast 00.107 votes the same electiou: yet these are represented by but 2 members of Congress, 2 electoral votes for Harrison, and a small undivided fraction of a United States Senator, of half and half political complexion. In other wor s, if the South Carolina basis of representation is fair, and 70,009 votes down there are suttled to 7 representatives in Congress, on the same basis these two Obio districts, with their 90.000 votes, sught to have 9 instead of 2, and the State of Ohio ought to have about 05 votes in the H use of Representatives instead of 21. If, on the other hand, we take the Ohlo basis, and it takes 4 ,000 voters to deserve a member of Congress, it would be a stretch of generosity to give South Carolina two. Similarly, if 70,000 voters in South Carolina have a right to 0 votes in the electoral college, the 90,000 in these two Ohlo districts sught to have almost a dozen, and the whole State of Ohio about 132 instead of 23. The effect of this, of course, is a practical disfranchisement of fivesixths of the voters in Ohio, as well as most other Northern states. But suffer. what are we going to do about it, bewhat are we going to do about it, be-sides get indignant. The apportion-ment is upon population, and the South Carolina Democrats count everybody in the census. When it connesto voting, that is quite a different and select affair. Congress and the electoral college, so far as they are taken to equivably represent the actual voters of this country are a systematized fraud upon the whole North. the apportionment of Congressmen, and hence electors, upon the vote instead of the population? And let the will return with the remains to their last resting plasm. The news of Gen. Butler's death cam-upon the watching newspaper men of Washington during the night with the suddenness of an electric shock. For reeks past their attention had been cer red on the bodside of James G. Blaine nd while watching the strangs fluctua-ions of his mysterious illness no one had or a moment anticipated that snother ending figure in American history-almost as notable and even more picturque-was about to be removed. Lieneral Butler's home in Washington of late years, since he turned over to the Government the use of his big granite castle on Capitol Hill, had been in a handsome brick residence owned by him at 220 New Jersey avenue, southeast, also in the neighborhood of the Capitol.

There his two niccos, Mrs. Lanisr Dunn Miss Stevens, kept house for him It's extensive law profiles kept him very much in this city during the winter months, when the Supreme Court is in

Gen Butler came over from New York on Friday last. The was taken ill on th train but recovered and no marked per contribute of his studien doubt manifester remacives. There had been some ap arent increase of feeldeness in his gain ntly, but not more so than might be expected from his advanced age 74. This was partly due to his increasing bulk and the fact that he had exceptionlly small feet and week ankles upon which to support so heavy a weight. His acuities remained unimpaired. He went to the War Department after loaving the court in the afternoon look-ing after some business, and during the lay took a severe cold which later de-veloped into pneumonia.

Nevertheless he sat down to dinner at his home with his accustomed cheerful ness and afterward sat chatting with the members of the household.

The subject of suddon death was one upon which he had frequently spoken and he had predicted that he would go off like a flash some day. He had no dread of suddan death; on the contrary he had said frequently he would prefer to go suddenly rather than to linger and

AN ORDINANCE

An Ordinance amending an Ordinance enacted and passed the 3rd day of February, A. D. 1891, entitled, "An ordinance conferring on the Mahanoy City, Shenaadoah, Girardville and Ashland Street Railway Company the right to build and operate an electric railway on certain streets in the Borough of Shenaudoah," and all amendments and supplements to said ordinance.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the lorough of Shenandoah, and it is hereby or-ained by the authority of the same, that the above referred to ordinance, and nil amondments and supplements to said ordinance, be altered and amended by inserting the words its successors and assigns" after the name of he said Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Giray ille and Ashland Street Railway Cor Southern election boards count their Gen. Butler said: "When you bear me to wates up to any figure that spits them? That would merely give thism a few hours exercise in arithmetic. It would my epitaph: gress or in the electoral college. Or secure fair elections, and see the molly-coddle section of the Republican party stick their fingers in their ears and run, when somebody cries "Force bill?" Shall we go on enduring this fraud, or shall we determine that the negro must have the power to vote, or shall we deny his right to vote, or to be counted hereafter among the population upon which electors and representatives in Congress are apportioned?

PRACTICAL jokes do not always turn out as their authors intended. Five youngsters undertook to frighten a companion by surrounding him in a lonely place and firing pistols near him. But he didn't frighten worth a cent. Instead he drew a knife and before his jocular assailants could get out of his reach cut each one of them. With such experience they are not likely to repeat the intended scare. In another case of recent occurrence a young man attempted to frighten his sweetheart. She met him with a rifle and shot him dead. Practical jokes are not always successes.

Lamp-chimneys cost so little that we let them go on breaking. We go on buying and grumbling.

What should we do?

Get Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass;" they are made of tough glass, tough against heat; they do not break in use: they do from accident.

They are fine, well made, exact; they fit the lamps they are made for; stand upright; the shade is right; they make a right draught for light; they are uniform. Both bear a label for your protection. Look for it.

Be willing to pay a nickel more and stop this constant expense and annoyance. *
