

THE PANAMA SCANDAL

Ministry Not Considered Sufficiently Purged.

M. Eiffel Quits Visible Under the Canoe Wards of the Presiding Judge—He Makes Damaging Admissions Regarding the Money He Had Received.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—A strong feeling is expressed that Premier Ribot has not sufficiently purged the Ministry of those who, whether innocent or guilty, have been under suspicion in connection with the Panama scandal.

In deference to this overwhelming public demand for a further reconstruction of the ministry, M. Ribot had a long conversation with Admiral Gervais, Chief of the Department of Marine and of the Colonies in regard to accepting the Ministry of Marine and of the Colonies in place of M. Bureau. Admiral Gervais, however, declines the Ministry of Marine and Colonies. His ostensible reason is that he prefers to devote himself to his present naval duties, as thereby he can better serve the interests of France.

At the Cabinet Council, after a discussion of Admiral Gervais' declination, it was decided to detach the Colonies from the Marine and attach them to the Department of Commerce, under M. Siegfried. The Marine portfolio will be offered at once probably to another high naval officer.

The Cabinet Council decided not to make a ministerial statement before the Chamber, but to give any explanations which deputies might request.

M. EIFFEL QUAILED.

The Judge Openly Censures Him During the Conspiracy Trial.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The trial of Charles de Lesseps, Marquis Fontaine, Baron Cottin, and M. Eiffel, accused of complicity in the Panama Canal fraud, was continued in the Court of Appeal and gave much valuable information regarding the bribery of newspapers to prevent hostile attacks upon the company, and also to prevent the publication of matter that would have shown the true condition of affairs on the isthmus of Panama.

M. Fontaine stated that he had held the position as manager of the company's press affairs until 1885, when the executives of the newspapers became so heavy that he was compelled to abandon the post. Since that time he had been merely the private secretary of M. de Lesseps.

M. Fontaine stated that he had distributed to the press only 40,000 francs in direct payments to be made.

Interested in the proceedings centered in the examination of M. Eiffel, the contractor. The questions put to him by the court resulted in lively fencing between the President and M. Eiffel's lawyers, who raised objection after objection to the interrogations. The legal sparring occupied considerable time and afforded amusement to the audience.

Finally M. Eiffel admitted that he had caused checks for 12,000,000 francs, which had ostensibly been drawn to pay for machinery, while he had actually only expended 1,500,000 francs for that purpose.

It required considerable questioning to bring M. Eiffel to the admission that, besides the 2,000,000 francs given to M. Hebrard and the 2,000,000 francs given to Baron de Heineck, 2,000,000 had been paid by him to a certain contractor whose favor, like that of Hebrard and Heineck, was indispensable to success.

Presiding Judge Ferrière then asked: "What did you do with the 4,000,000 received by you for taking to pieces and shipping to the isthmus and there reconstructing machinery, which, as a matter of fact, you never even supplied in this country?"

"I kept that sum because it formed part of my remuneration for the risk I was undertaking," lamely replied M. Eiffel.

"I consider such a transaction void," replied Judge Ferrière, severely, "since it was the result of an error, to say nothing more." The Prosecutor-General will tell you more about this at the subsequent sittings of this court.

M. Eiffel visibly quailed under these words, and the audience rose to their feet to get a better view of the manner in which he bore the reproach.

Judges for the Yale-Harvard Debate.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 12.—The Yale and Harvard unions have been unable to secure the services of Profs. Hadley, of Yale, and Taussig, of Harvard, as judges of the debate at Cambridge on Jan. 18, and Prof. Seligman, of Columbia, and President Andrews, of Brown University, will officiate instead. The third judge will probably be Speaker Barrett, of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

No Trouble at Coal Creek.

KNOXVILLE, Jan. 12.—The report that went out apparently from Knoxville stating that trouble is imminent at Coal Creek between free miners and militia over convict miners is without foundation. In fact, the mountains are in such a condition from the heavy snow drifts that operations against the fore were impossible.

Want the Receivership Vacated.

PRINCETON, Jan. 12.—The Supreme Lodge of the Order of Solon held a meeting last evening at which resolutions were unanimously adopted that the order go into court next Saturday and ask that the receivership be vacated and the management of the order's affairs transferred to its officers.

Steamers Shut in by Ice.

HAMBURG, Jan. 12.—Ten steamships were sighted off Cuxhaven as they drifted eastward in the midst of enormous ice floes. All had steam up but were apparently helpless. Only the German tank steamship Paula, Captain Hinch, was recognized.

Hogan and Lyons Matched.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—"Kid" Hogan, the scientific little bantam-weight of Brooklyn, and "Dolly" Lyons of this city, were matched last night to battle before the Coney Island Athletic Club on Feb. 6, for a $1,000 purse and an outside bet of $500.

Hinky to Captain Yale's Eleven.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 12.—At a meeting of the Yale football eleven last evening, Frank A. Hinky of Tonawanda, N. Y., was chosen captain for the season of 1893. Hinky has played end rush on the Yale eleven two years.

NO RELIEF AT CINCINNATI.

Coal Dealers Now Refuse to Sell to Small Consumers at Any Price.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—No relief appears in sight for those affected by the action of the coal dealers' combine. Coal merchants refuse to sell to small consumers at any price. They are hoarding what they have in their yards and elevators for the unavoidable fulfillment of contracts with large consumers.

The abnormal condition of things just now—the river gorged with ice, navigation absolutely closed and the thermometer down to zero—is causing intense suffering among the poorer elements of the people.

Unless coal can be brought in by rail consigned to dealers outside the combine, it is hard to foretell the limit to which the suffering may extend.

KILLED THREE IN SUCCESSION.

A Series of Fatalities by the Royal Blue Line Express.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 12.—The Royal Blue line train of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, eastbound, over the Central Railroad of New Jersey tracks, due here at noon, had three fatal accidents within a few miles.

The first was at Summerville, where a man was struck and killed.

At Bound Brook a farmer named John Blakely was killed.

At Dummellen John Cunningham was walking along the tracks. He failed to hear the warning whistle, and before the engineer could stop his train the engine struck Cunningham and threw him into the ditch beside the track. When picked up he was dead.

A Train Frozen Fast to the Track.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The Diamond special from St. Louis, met with a strange experience which delayed the train four hours. While taking water at Gibson, this State, the overflow from the tank oozed out from under the tender and froze the wheels fast to the track. The trainmen cut the ice away, but to no purpose and the train was stuck fast until another engine came to its relief.

Mrs. Marshall Will Recover.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Walter Marshall, who was shot by her husband on Tuesday night after he had killed Robert Dingfelder, her suspected lover, and before he killed himself, is in Bellevue hospital and will in all probability recover. Her three bullet wounds are all in the flesh and ought to heal rapidly.

Here a Valuable Burro Now.

DURANGO, Mex., Jan. 12.—A burro, loaded with $5,000 worth of silver bars, is roaming at large in the mountains around the town of Parí, Mexico. It has not been relieved of its valuable burden by robbers. He wandered unobserved away from a train of burros carrying silver to this city.

On Trial for Hazing.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 12.—The trial of Naval Cadet Leland F. James of South Carolina for hazing has begun here. Naval cadets Hutch J. Cone, Richard J. Feltow, J. J. Bryant and C. S. Jones testified for the prosecution. No direct testimony was developed against Cadet James.

Ice Jam in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—On account of an unusual jam of ice in the East and North rivers navigation throughout the day was effected with extreme difficulty. Many of the ferryboats could not reach their slips, and with their loads of passengers were wedged in the ice for hours.

Foerstel a Complete Wreck.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—Ex-Treasurer Foerstel, when his son committed suicide three weeks ago, was a vigorous man, hale and in the prime of life. He is now a wreck physically and mentally, and his hair has turned almost white.

Overcome by Foul Air.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—While a number of men were engaged in cleaning the double bottom of the cruiser Medea, at Chatham four of them were overcome by foul air. Two of them died before medical assistance could reach them.

Silver Purchasing Act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The bill repealing the silver purchase act has been reported from the House Committee on Banking and Currency by Mr. Cate, (Dem., Ark.) and has been placed upon the calendar.

Reporter Barker's Body Recovered.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The body of Joseph F. Barker, the "Transcript" reporter who lost his life in the Federal street fire Tuesday has been removed from the ruins.

New York's Typhus Record.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The typhus record for the past twenty-four hours, as reported by the Board of Health was four new cases and five deaths.

Kidnapped and Held for Ransom.

HAVANA, Jan. 12.—Ignacio Herrara, son of Count Barreto Herrara, was kidnapped yesterday from a plantation near San Antonio de las Vegas by four bandits, among them being Manuel Garcia and the notorious mulatto, Plasencia. The bandits declare that they will not release the captive until they receive $2,000. A detachment of troops has been sent in pursuit of the robbers.

Found Frozen to Death.

KINGSTON, Jan. 12.—Eliza Wharton, aged about 50 years, living alone on Suavangunk mountain, was found frozen to death a short distance from her home. Indications point to her having left home during the severe gale for a pail of water, as a pail partially filled, with the water frozen, was lying close by her side.

Trial of the Homestead "Poisoners."

PRINCETON, Jan. 12.—The Homestead poisoning cases are to be taken up in the Criminal Court to-day, when Hugh Dempsey, District Master Workman of the K. of L. J. M. Davidson and Robert Beatty will be placed on trial.

Death of Her Injuries.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Mary Van House, of Bridge street, is dead at the General hospital from the effects of burns sustained during the night by the upsetting of a lamp with which she was searching for insects.

Mr. Blaine Is Better.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Mr. Blaine this morning is resting comfortably and there is no evidence of an unfavorable change in his condition.

INDIGNANT AT BROWN

Chestertown Excited at the Governor's Action.

THE CRIMINALS AT BALTIMORE.

Long Talk of Lynching the Four Murderers Whose Sentences Were Not Commuted—Maryland's Governor Gives Reasons for Sparing the Young Negroes.

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Jan. 12.—Intense excitement reigns in Kent county. Four of the octette of murderers who assassinated Dr. J. H. Hill have been removed from this place. Their sentences have been commuted by Gov. Brown.

Those whose lives are spared are Henry Hurtt, Joshua Rainard, Charles Emory and Lewis Benson.

Those who are left and who will surely hang to-morrow, if they are not lynched before, are Charles Brooks, Moses Brown, Fletcher Williams and Friby Comegys.

Sheriff Plummer was awakened early yesterday morning and informed that Captain Caldwell of Baltimore was at the door with 30 policemen and an order from Gov. Brown for four of the condemned prisoners, whose sentences had been commuted to life imprisonment.

"I charge you," the order went on to say, "to be careful that secrecy is preserved and that these men are delivered instantly aboard the vessel which goes for them and safely conducted to the Maryland penitentiary. Caution your deputies that secrecy must be observed and nothing must interfere with this order."

The criminals were carefully awakened and in a few minutes were on their way to the ice boat Latrobe, the vessel on which Captain Caldwell had arrived. A few persons came to the wharf as the Latrobe steamed away for Baltimore, but they did not know what had happened until hours later.

Excitement and indignation amounting almost to madness followed the discovery. Remarks were made that it would be dangerous for the Governor to be seen about the town now that the murderers had been commuted.

Crowds gathered in the neighborhood of the jail and in all places of public resort and discussed the matter in loud tones. There seemed to be but one opinion—that the eight men should have been hanged.

Lewis Justice, a prominent merchant, appeared to voice the sentiment of the excited populace when he said: "You can hardly realize the pinch of excitement to which the people are worked. If the secret had leaked out the police would not have had so easy a job to get those men."

GOV. BROWN'S REASON.

Maryland's Executive Tells Why He Commuted the Sentences.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 12.—Of the eight colored men and boys who were sentenced to be hanged at Chestertown to-morrow for the murder of Dr. J. H. Hill, of Kent county, last summer, four are now in the penitentiary at Baltimore.

These are Joshua Brainard, Lewis Benson, Henry Hurtt, and Charles Emory. Their sentences were commuted by Gov. Brown to imprisonment for life at hard labor.

Gov. Brown gives the following, among other reasons, for commuting the sentences: "I had to protect the fair name of Maryland. Such a wholesale execution as this would have been has never been heard of before in the criminal annals of the country. The whole country was aroused over it."

"The murdered man will be simply avenged, the outraged law of the State will be carried out by the execution of the four whose sentences have not been commuted, and the fair name of Maryland will be preserved from the stain that would have been inflicted on it by the execution of those ignorant boys who were in all probability the unwilling witnesses of a crime that they were powerless to prevent."

FLEMING FOUND GUILTY.

The Author's Son Convicted of Manslaughter, Second Degree.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 12.—The jury in the case of Frederick Fleming, charged with the killing of Patrick Taylor on July 10 last, returned a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree.

Fleming, who is the son of May Agnes Fleming, the authoress, met Taylor in a saloon, and an altercation arose over the Homestead troubles.

On leaving the saloon the two renewed the quarrel, which culminated in Taylor attempting to strike Fleming.

The latter resented this by striking back. Taylor fell to the sidewalk, and his head striking the curb, fractured his skull.

Taylor died the next day.

Kidnapped and Held for Ransom.

HAVANA, Jan. 12.—Ignacio Herrara, son of Count Barreto Herrara, was kidnapped yesterday from a plantation near San Antonio de las Vegas by four bandits, among them being Manuel Garcia and the notorious mulatto, Plasencia. The bandits declare that they will not release the captive until they receive $2,000. A detachment of troops has been sent in pursuit of the robbers.

SENATOR KENNA.

General Services in the Senate Chamber To-day—His Career.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The death of Senator John E. Kenna, of West Virginia, was announced to the Senate by Mr. Blackburn. A committee of seven Senators—Faulkner, Blackburn, Ransom, Daniel, Walthall, Anderson and Squire—was appointed to take charge of the funeral ceremonies in the Senate this afternoon and to accompany the body to West Virginia.

The direct cause of Senator Kenna's death was heart disease, from which he had been for some years an acute sufferer, so much so that for long intervals he had been compelled to abandon his duties as Senator and to forego all mental exertion.

Two summers ago, with a view of diverting his mind from his physical ailments, he established an amateur boat builder's shop and busied himself in the mechanical operation of constructing a boat. He partially recovered and resumed his seat in the Senate, and made one memorable speech which was remarkable, both for its length and vigor, but he soon suffered a relapse, from which he never rallied.

His sufferings during the last few months of his life, from heart spasms, were so poignant that to himself as well as to his family, death must have been looked upon as almost welcome.

Mr. Kenna was born in 1848, and was consequently only 45 years of age—the youngest man in the Senate.

His birthplace was Valewood, Va., since incorporated into West Virginia. He worked on a farm until the outbreak of the civil war, when he entered the Confederate Army as a private, and fought through to the end.

He afterwards studied and practiced law until elected to Congress. He served six years in the Lower House, and in 1880 was elected to the Senate as a Democrat to succeed Henry S. Davis, the father-in-law of Secretary Stephen B. Elkins, and the business associate of James G. Blaine.

His term of service would have expired in 1895.

His death, at this time, will add a new feature to the Senatorial contest now in progress between the supporters of his colleague, Senator Faulkner, and ex-Senator Canfield, who are contending for the Senatorship now held by Mr. Faulkner, which will expire on the fourth of March next.

Mr. Kenna's Washington residence was on Capitol Hill, at 130 B street, N. E., and it was there he died.

THE KANSAS ASSEMBLY.

A Truce Decided Upon—Split in the Populists' Ranks.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 12.—The political vendetta declared yesterday by the Populists and Republican members of the House of Representatives against each other has been abandoned. Arbitration has taken its place. Last night's turn of the legislative kaleidoscope has brought about entirely unlooked for and surprising conditions.

The changed aspect of affairs present two phases. One of them is that the double-barrelled legislature fired itself out last night and both sides consented to an adjournment until to-day.

The other surprising phase of the matter is that the Populist party in Kansas evidently has two factions. One of those factions headed by Jerry Simpson, had determined upon insisting that the Republican members whose seats were contested should not vote. That faction was composed of the Populist House and had counted upon its recognition by Gov. Lowell and the Senate as the legal and constitutionally organized House.

But the Governor and the Senate, who with other Populist leaders comprise the more conservative element of the party, refused to grant such recognition.

Thus the scheme of the more radical Populists is balked by members of their own party, and in addition to their fight against the Republicans they have an internal fight.

AWARDED TO THE CRAMPS.

Secretary Tracy Gives That Firm the Contract for the Brooklyn and Iowa.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Tracy has awarded the contracts for constructing the armored cruiser Brooklyn and the sea going battleship Iowa, to the firm of William Cramp & Sons of Philadelphia, at its bid of $2,986,000 for the Brooklyn, and $5,010,000 for the Iowa.

This settles the controversy as to the necessity and fairness of allowing one of the vessels to be built on the Pacific coast and also as to the right of the Secretary to award the bids on plans prepared by the bidder.

Tunnel Company Incorporated.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—The Westchester & Long Island Tunnel Railroad company has been incorporated with a capital of $100,000. The company will operate a tunnel road from some eligible point on the shore of Long Island Sound in the town of Westchester, under the waters of Long Island Sound to a point in or near College Point, Queens county, a total length of two miles.

New City Hall for New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—At the meeting of the Municipal Building Commission it was decided to erect a new Municipal building on the site of the present City Hall. It is proposed to make it one of the city's greatest ornaments. A committee has been appointed by the Mayor to prepare for advertising for plans and specifications for the building.

For a Bridge Across the Passaic.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 12.—Two deeds have been recorded with the County Clerk which convey authority to the New York Bay Railroad company to construct a bridge across the Passaic River. The line will join the Pennsylvania tracks at Harrison and thus effect an entrance to Jersey City.

The Kaiser Surprises a Garrison.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 12.—Emperor William, while returning from the wedding of Princess Marie, changed his route with-out announcement, and paid an unexpected visit to the garrison at Strasburg. He found everything in as good order as if his visit had been arranged for.

Senator Ross to be Chosen.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—The Democratic members of the Legislature will hold a joint caucus at 3 o'clock this afternoon to name a candidate for United States Senator. Senator Ross will be their choice.

Twenty-five Below Zero.
