IN SENATE AND HOUSE

Forecast of the Work Mapped Out for This Week.

ANTI-OPTION TO BE DISPOSED OF.

Not Hoped that This Can be Accomplished Without a Hard Struggle—The Opposition to the Immigration Bill—Commerce Committee Plans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The week promises to be eventful in the Senate. Save the passage of the Quarantine bill the Senate has accomplished very little and not one of the annual appropriation bills has been passed.

The Committee on Order of Business has determined that something must be done to advance the public business. It was at the suggestion of Mr. Sherman, Chairman of the Committee, that Mr. Washburn gave notice that he would ask the Senate to sit Wednesday until the Anti-Option bill is disposed of.

That this can be done without a bitter struggle is not expected. What will follow the Anti-Option bill will be decided by the Committee on Order of Business before Wednesday.

At present the indications are that priority will lie between some of the Interstate Commerce bills, if Senator Cullom is able to resume his duties, the Nicaragua Canal bill, and perhaps a resolution to repeal the Silver Purchase act.

Mr. Peffer of Kansas is down for a speech on the limitation of the Presidential term, and Mr. Morrill of Vermont on the McGarran bill, both for to-day.

The majority have mapped out a big programme for the House. To-day is suspension day. Efforts will be made to pass the Baum Pension Office report and the bill for the election of Senators by the people by a two-thirds vote.

The majority of the Rules Committee has decided to allow tomorrow to be taken from the Judiciary Committee, Wednesday to the Immigration bill, and Thursday and Saturday to bills originating with the Committee on Foreign and Inter-State Commerce Committee.

Friday, under the regular rules, is private bill day. There is some opposition to the Immigration bill, and it is hardly likely that one day will suffice for its passage.

The friends of the Quarantine bill, reported by the Committee on Foreign and Inter-State Commerce, which will, it is contended, meet all the evils as to cholera which the Immigration bill was designed to remedy, are opposed to the Immigration bill.

The Quarantine bill was antagonized very strongly by the State Quarantine officers of New York, but a part, at least, of this opposition has been withdrawn. There is a probability of some trouble for each of these bills from the opposition of members who favor the other of the two members.

The Commerce Committee has a formidable list of measures which it hopes to pass, headed by the Omnibus Light-house bill and the bill for the erection of a couple of additional revenue cutters.

CARNEGIE COMPANY ACCUSED.

Dempsey's Attorney Says They Have Bribe the Witnesses.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—The trial of District Master Workman Dempsey, of the Knights of Labor, charged with complicity in the plot to poison men at Homestead, is being continued to-day.

There arrived in this city last night Wm. C. Kals, a coal dealer, of Baltimore. He had a letter written by Dr. James Cooper, one of the witnesses for the Carnegie company, in which, it is alleged, the writer said he had received money from the Carnegie company.

As he performed no professional services for the company, the attorneys for Dempsey claim there is no other connection but that the money was taken by him for services as a competent witness.

Attorney Forter, chief counsel for Dempsey, says he has a clear case of perjury and bribery.

Proceedings will follow later, when the Carnegie company and Dr. Cooper will have charges preferred against them.

A Coal Combine in Central Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16.—At the session of the leading coal operators of Central Ohio a combination was formed to control all the coal used in Central Ohio.

General Manager Johnson, of the Columbus & Hocking Iron and Coal company, presided over the meeting. All the coal shipped over the Ohio Central, Baltimore & Ohio, and Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroads will be controlled by the combine. The great demand for coal at present will force prices up, to the combine's advantage.

Change in the Hebrew Marriage Law.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Members of the Hebrew marriage order B'nai B'rith will not be compelled hereafter to marry according to Jewish rites. The rule making such marriages obligatory was abolished after a warm and long drawn out session at the special meeting of the order which began in Maennerchor hall, in this city, yesterday.

New York's Typhus Record.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Joseph Price, 50 years old, of 34 Bayard street, died from typhus fever on North Brother Island yesterday. The record of the disease since Nov. 30 last is 135 cases, 10 deaths, discharges, 89 patients on North Brother Island, 23 suspects there, and 19 suspects in quarantine at 33 Bayard st.

Newspaper Men to be Expelled from Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—M. Ait, correspondent of the Corriere di Napoli, and probably B. Brantley, correspondent of the Berlin Telegraph, will be expelled from the country to-day. The Figaro says M. Ambon will replace M. Waddington as French Ambassador at London.

Just as 50 Years Ago.

MILTON, Pa., Jan. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Tate, of Olat, ate their golden wedding dinner in the same room in which they were married, and sat beside the roomman who sat at the same table 50 years ago.

Woman Suffragists in Convention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The twenty-fifth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association is being held in this city this week beginning to-day.

SATOLLI'S POWER.

Father Connolly's Views on the Archbishop's Appointment.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—No official announcement of the appointment of a permanent apostolic delegate has reached Archbishop Corrigan, nor does he expect any.

Speaking as his representative, Father Connolly stated that whatever might be said in regard to the result of the appointment of Mgr. Satolli as Apostolic Delegate must necessarily be conjectured only.

"We do not know what power will be vested in Mgr. Satolli," he said, "they can only be learned through the documents which it is announced have been forwarded to Washington. Of course, beyond a doubt, he will have entire control in the judging of cases that might come under his direction, because he has already had that power, and his present appointment indicates its continuation."

"Just what effect the establishment of an Apostolic Delegation in this country will have I am not prepared to say, nor am I in a position to say whether its influence will be noticeable in any of the dioceses."

Father Connolly explained that the United States is under the Congregation of the Propaganda, and that just at present it was impossible to state whether the Apostolic Delegation would bring this territory under a new board of direction.

The appointment, he said, was not entirely an innovation, as appointments of a like nature had been made in other countries.

It is generally believed among Catholics here that the trouble between the liberal and radical wings of the church in this country and the talk that has been created by the restoration of Dr. McGlynn to the priesthood hastened the Pope's action in the matter.

A prominent Catholic when asked to-day what effect the new order of things would have on the church in this country, said:

"Beneficial. Mgr. Satolli is now virtually Pope of the United States. He is well fitted to deal with any question that may arise, and his standing at Rome, especially with Pope Leo XIII., will almost preclude the possibility of any decision he might render ever even receiving consideration at the Vatican, should an attempt be made to appeal it."

PRECAUTIONS AT CHESTER.

Police Officers Fear an Attempt to Lynch Partridge Rodgers.

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 16.—The terrible tragedy enacted here Saturday afternoon, which resulted in the loss of two lives, the wounding of one woman and made Thomas Rodgers, 24 years old, a double paricide, has thrown the community into great excitement.

Police officials have taken extra precaution to prevent lynchers from adding the final chapter to the bloody deed.

That the young fellow intended to commit murder, is admitted by himself.

To a reporter, he said the attack was the result of a family row, and that he intended to kill his father. He gave no reason, however, for the assault on his mother and sister.

FRACAS AT PATERSON.

A Saloon Keeper Dangerously Wounded One of a Gang of Toughs.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 16.—A gang of tough entered Amram Wilkeman's West street saloon yesterday and endeavored to force the proprietor to give them free drinks. Wilkeman and the leader of the toughs drew their revolvers and fired several shots.

Wilkeman shot Jacob Mitchell, one of the gang, dangerously wounding him. The police heard the shooting and, raiding the saloon, arrested John R. Van Ness, William C. Dittman, and Charles Deebler, all bystanders.

The toughs escaped save the one who was wounded. He was taken to a hospital.

BIG FIRE AT BREWSTERS, N. Y.

Five Buildings Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $100,000.

BREWSTERS, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Fire broke out in the Town Hall at 6 o'clock a. m. and before it could be extinguished it destroyed the Town Hall, Smith & Bros. store, F. H. Merritt's bottling establishment, the postoffice and the printing office of the Brewster Standard.

The loss is $100,000; insurance about $75,000.

An overheated stove or a defective flue it is thought was the cause of the conflagration.

All the mail matter in the postoffice was saved.

Protests Against Populist Actions.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 16.—Despatches from Lawrence, Hiawatha, and McPherson, this State, say that the Republicans and Democrats of those places held mass meetings and protested against the action of the Populists in the lower House, at the same time urging the Republican majority to maintain their position and assuring them of the endorsement of public sentiment.

LOT'S LAST WORDS.

Stolidity of the Condemned Man Before the Execution.

DANMORA, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Kornell Loh, the Hungarian, who was electrocuted this morning, was convicted in Schoenectady county of the murder of Mrs. Etlio Demaceck, the crime being committed in her own home in Schoenectady.

The trial, conviction, and the time elapsing between the conviction and the carrying out of the death penalty was the shortest on record in this State. Loh committed the crime on June 14, 1902, was arrested in July, put on trial in November, convicted in two days, and sentenced on Dec. 3 to die Jan. 16.

Loh slept most of the time yesterday. He had to be awakened to have the death warrant read to him, and also when his spiritual adviser called to see him. He ate a hearty supper and breakfast, and at no time during the day or last night did he show any feeling or interest in the execution.

BUTLER LAID AT REST

The Last Rites Over the Body of the Dead General.

LOWELL CROWDED WITH VISITORS.

State Officials, Distinguished Civilians, Militia, Veterans, and Many Societies Unite in Paying Respect—The Body Lay in State Yesterday and This Morning.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 16.—The final services over the body of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler are being held to-day, and the event is the greatest one that this city has ever witnessed. The militia, the visiting dignitaries, Grand Army posts, and the Lowell societies swell the funeral procession to enormous proportions.

Gov. Russell and his staff, Gov. Smith of New Hampshire and staff, and delegations from the Legislature and Boston and Lawrence city governments are present.

At Gen. Butler's late residence on Belvidere Hill, private funeral services were held yesterday morning. Rev. Dr. A. St. John Chamber of St. Anne's Episcopal Church read the office for the dead.

The body was in the drawing room. President Harrison's wreath and wreaths of ferns and lilies were laid upon the coffin.

Among the people present there were such leading men of this city as are close friends of the family, and the General's kinsmen, Messrs. Plympton and Drinkwater, Cadet Butler Ames of Westport, Gen. Ames, Frank L. Washburn, O. D. Barrett and others. There was no eulogy and no address by the clergyman.

Comrades bore the body from the house to a hearse drawn by four horses. A wild wind was blowing from the river over the hill. The veterans suffered, but not a man sought shelter. As the body was carried from the portals of the house the drums of the band rumbled, the colors were dipped, and the company saluted.

When the march to the hall was taken up, arms were reversed, and the officers fell to the rear of the detachment. The streets were crowded as the band signaled by dirges the passage of the General's body from the house to Huntington hall, where the body was to lie in state.

A great crowd was waiting to be admitted to the hall. In the hall the coffin was placed in the middle of the floor. From the ceiling the floor a wall of black extended. Grand Army men guarded the casket.

On the coffin rested the sword and spaulders that were worn from Lowell to the Gulf and back again in the days when the negro was made a contraband of war by the brain that lay at rest under the coffin lid.

Behind the catafalque rested a bank of flowers that had come from President Harrison, from the convicts of the State prison, and from all classes of people between those extremes.

President Harrison's wreath was placed on the coffin in Washington. Senators Davey, Chandler, and Hale, Gov. Russell, Hon. Frederick Douglass, militia companies, societies, and friends in Lowell, Boston, New York, Washington, Chicago, and other places sent pieces that took up one side of the hall.

When the crowds were admitted to the hall, they almost carried the doors of their hinges. They struggled up stairs and ran over the police, who tried to restrain them. Shouts and cries evoked the echoes of the hall where the dead man lay.

Huntington Hall, whenever Gen. Butler appeared there in life, saw turbulent scenes, but those of yesterday surpassed anything ever seen before at the old hall. Down in the street thousands pressed forward when they saw the doors open. All the afternoon a steady stream of people poured in, but the crowd that wanted to get in did not diminish.

The exit was on Shattuck street and a stream of people poured through that door. No impression could be made in the mass that clamored for admission as the other side of the hall.

Late in the afternoon the doors were closed and the officers had an hour's rest. It was designed to close the hall at 5 o'clock until this morning, but at 6 o'clock they were opened again. This time the people were beaten into lines and more order was maintained up to 11 o'clock, when the final closing was made.

Hundreds left the place without getting in and many others who wanted to get out of the jam, were forced to wait and be swept into the hall by the stream.

There was another clash this morning as those who failed yesterday tried again. The rush was almost as bad as that of yesterday.
