CRUELTY TO DREDGERS.

Brutal Treatment Reported by Several Men at Easton, Md.

ELSTON, Md., Jan. 18.—Notwithstanding the shipment to Baltimore by the county authorities of so many dredgers on Saturday last, there are now in jail 46 more who have sought food and shelter. They arrive at all hours of the day and night. All tell the same tales of suffering and brutal treatment.

The sheriff says that in no instance has he yet found upon them more than the thinnest clothing and not a complete pair of shoes.

The actual violence and inhuman beatings received by these helpless beings have aroused the people of the tidewater counties, and an effort will be made to have the captains punished.

A French subject, a native of Paris, worked on the Escort, a Virginia vessel, at Ocean City, Accomack county. He shipped from New York city Oct. 29 last at $14 per month, and was charged $10 for his trip from that city to Baltimore.

The captain also charged him $10 for an oil skin suit. He worked on the boat from that date till Dec. 27 last, and was paid ashore at Tilghman's Island without pay or food.

There is a cut three inches long in the back of his head caused, he alleges, by a blow with a shovel by the captain.

After being knocked down in this manner, he was kicked in the face and on the body.

He avers that he was also beaten with a cutting hammer by the captain when ever he was unable to turn the windlass as fast as desired. He is an intelligent man about 30 years of age.

James Crosby was put ashore at Tilghman's Island in a helpless condition from brutal treatment and exposure, and reached here after dragging himself along in agony. He now has espistles in the floss.

William Merchant of Queen Anne became a dredger for more than nine years past, met the fate of others, and after a long walk, arrived last night nearly frozen, penniless and half starved. He had initials a foot long hanging from his whiskers.

NEW YORK BAR ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting at Albany—The Opening Address.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—The opening meeting of the State Bar Association was held in the Assembly Chamber last night.

The most distinguished audience that ever graced the chamber was present, among them being Gov. Flower, the Judges of the Court of Appeals, members of the Legislature and a large number of prominent members of the State Bar.

Alton B. Parker of Kingston, Justice of the Supreme Court, made an address on "A Phase of Law Reform." Justice Parker pointed out one of the causes for the continual tinkering of the codes and suggested a way to restrict this evil to the minimum.

In his experience on the Bench he has seen how many lawyers who are beaten in the courts by the law rather than the facts go to the Legislature seeking amendments to the codes remedies that fail to get in the provisions as they stand.

Closer watch upon this class of legislation was urged by the learned Judge, and the Bar Association's Committee on Law Reform was pressed up to discharge its
