SIMPLE FUNERAL RITES TO-MORROW

THE DEAD EX-PRESIDENT

Gargernor McKinley and the Ohio Legismure Will Attend in a Body - Mr. Cleveland to be Present-President Harrison Cannot Go, But Several Cabinet Members Will be in Attendance.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 19 .- The entire city is in mourning and flags are at half mast, testifying to the regard in which ex-President Hayes was held. The entire arrangements for the funeral have not yet been decided upon. The arrangements have been placed temporarily in the hands of Col. H. S. Buckland of this city.

The funeral services will be very simple, at the mansion on Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The services will be similar in nature to those on the occasion of the funeral of Mrs. Hayes. Rev. J. N. Bashford, President of Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, will conduct the services and it is proba-ble that the local G. A. R. may take DETE.

A large number of telegrams are pour ing in upon the members of the breaved family. Among them are messages of condolence from the President, Secretary Foster and also from the living members of the Hayes Cabinet during his admin-istration and the State officers of Onio. The members of the Hayes Cabinet who sent messages are Wm. M. Evarts, John Sherman, Alexander Ramsey, Na-than Goff, R. W. Thompson, D. M. Key

Gov. McKinley has ordered the Sixteenth Regiment, ona troop of cavalry and one battery to proceed to Fremout to act as a military escort at the funeral. The State Legislature will adjourn and attend in a body and all the State officers attend in a body and all the State officers will be present. A special train will also bring the Cleveland Grays. Many of the members of Gen. Hayes' old regiment, the Twentycond Ohio, are expected to be present

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 -- Coming so soon after the sudden death of Gen. Butler, and the sad ending of Senator Kenna, the demise of ex-President Hayes created something of a shock to people in official life here, and many incidents are recalled of the last visit of the ex-President to Washington in September during the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Fings are flying at half-mast to-day on all public buildings in Washington. Pres-ident Harrison received the news of his predecessor's death with considerable sur prise and great grief. The Senate and House adjourned immediately after assembling, out of respect. The Executive Order.

At a special meeting of the Cabinet the following Executive color was drafted and adopted: To the people of the United States.

The death of Rutherford B. Hayes, who was president of the United States' from March 4, 1877, to March 4, 1881, at his home in Framont, Ohio, is an event the announcement of which will be received with very general and very sincere sorrow. His public service extended over many years and over a wide range of official duty. He was a patriotic citizen, a lover ducy. He was a patriotic citizen, a lover of the flag and of our free institutions, an industrious and conscientious civil officer, a soldier of dauntless courage, a officer, a soliter of dauntiess courage, a loyal comrade and friend, a sympathetic and helpful neighbor and the honored head of a Christian home. He has steadily grown in the public esteem and the impartial historian will not fall to recognize the conscientiousness, the manliness, and the courage that so strongly characterized his whole public career.

As an expression of the public sorrow, lered that the Executive and the several executive departments at Washington be draped in mourning and the flags thereon placed at half staff for a period of 30 days, and that on the day of the funeral all public business in the departments be suspended, and that suit-able military and naval honors under the orders of the Secretaries of War and of the Navy be rendered on that day. Benj. Hassison.

The President expressed his regret that he would not be able to attend the funeral in person, but expressed a wish that he should be represented by some of his official associates. It was thereupon deter-mined that Secretary Charles Foster, of the Treasury, Secretary Rusk, Secretary Noble, and Postmuster-General Wanamaker should proceed to Fremont as the representatives of the President.

HIS ASSOCIATIONS IN CLEVELAND. Business and Social Affairs Made Him a

Familiar Figure There. CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 19 .- The late ex-President Hayes was a familiar figure in Cleveland, coming to town very frequently to visit his son, Webb. C. Hayes, who is treasurer of the National Carbon Company, and who lives in this city. He was simple and unostantatious in his habits, and it seemed strange that the genial old gentleman who passed unnoticed in the street save by acquaintances. and who might easily have been taken for some well-to-do farmer, had ruled the greatest nation on earth for four years. His visits to Cleveland were often of a business nature. He was a member of the Garfield Monument Committee, a member of the Western Reserve Historinumber of the Western Reserve Histori-cal Society, of the Loyal Legion, and other associations. He was in Cleveland Saturday when attacked by the disease which resulted in his death.

Gen. Hayes' last public appearance in this city was at the banquet of the Kenyon Alumui Association at the Stillman, on the evening of Dec. 26.

He presided at the banquet and was cleated president of the association. He made quite a long speech and was in fine health and spirits.
