WARD TICKETS NAMED!

CITIZENS' PRIMARIES HELD LAST NIGHT.

SOME VERY SPIRITED CONTESTS

Tickets Put up in all the Wards. Watson Seems to Have the Nomination for Chief Burgess in Hand.

THE primaries of the Citizens' party were held last evening and tickets were put up in all the wards. There were good attendances at all the meetings, especially in the Third and Fifth wards, where there were spirited contests for Council and conferees. In the Third ward John H. Reese gave the present Councilman, T. J. James, a surprisingly good shake for the nomination for Council. James secured 143 votes and Reese 106. Considering that James has always been considered as having full swing in the ward and it was Reese's first venture in politics the latter can take some pride in the run he made.

In the Fifth ward the contest for Council was also very close and James S. Thomas beat Daniel Lauderbach but by one vote. The contest for conferees was between three men all day yesterday, John Watson, C. G. Palmer and M. J. Lawlor, but as the time for the primaries to open drew near it was evident that the latter stood little chance of success. At about 6 p. m. all the favorable chances seemed to drift toward Palmer, but between that hour and the opening of the primaries Watson forged to the front and according to the expressions of the conferees elected it appears that he should receive the nomination for Chief Burgess to-night by a vote of about ten to five.

Three other spirited events of the evening were the contests for chairman in the Third ward, and the contest for conferees in the Second and E. D. Llewellyn and Edward Kester. H. E. Dengler beat R. A. Davenport for the chairmanship by a vote of 82 to 71; and Llewellyn defeated his opponent by one vote.

All the primaries were opened by the Standing Committee, Adam Mott in the First ward; H. C. Boyer, Second; James McElhenney, Third; George Hares, Fourth; and Jere. Roxby, Fifth. Boyer, McElhenney and Roxby have been re-elected for membership on the committee. The First and Fourth wards made no selections.

The results of the primaries by wards were as follows:
First ward—Council, James Shields, School Director, John Thornly. Justice of the Peace, M. J. Andriukaitis. Constable, Adam Mott. Judge of Election, Charles Gibson. Inspector, Edward Dougherty. Conferees, Messrs. Runage, Minors and Reunie.

Second ward—Council, Thos. J. Broughall. School Director, Daniel Ogden (3 years). H. W. Titman (1 year). Justice of the Peace, William H. Shoemaker. Constable, Tallien Phillips. Judge of Election, F. H. Hopkins. Jr. Inspector, W. J. Morgan. Conferees, George Holvey, Henry Goodman and D. H. Llewellyn. Standing Committee, H. C. Boyer.

All the nominations in this ward except conferees, were made by acclamation.
Third ward—Council, T. J. James. School Director, William T. Treasle. Justice of the Peace, T. T. Williams and John G. Davis. Constable, Thomas Toth. Judge of Election, James Champion. Inspector, R. A. Davenport. Conferees, D. R. James, John Shaeffer and Robert Oliver. Standing Committee, James McElhenney.

Justice of Election and Inspector were made in this ward by acclamation.
Fourth ward—Council, James Thomas (Turkey Run). School Director, Daniel Sterner. Justice of the Peace, Pierce Walker and Walter Rynkinewicz, the Democratic nominee being endorsed. Constable, John Dando. Judge of Election, John A. Lewis. Inspector, Joseph Dallow. Conferees, Thomas W. Powell, Lance Parker and George Lorah.

Fifth ward—Council, James S. Thomas. School Director, William H. Bachman. Justice of the Peace, John L. Hamler, Constable, Edward Mason. Judge of Election, George Millinger. Inspector, John Rynn. Conferees, William H. Dettrey, Samuel Davis and Richard Reese. Standing Committee, Jere. Roxby.

To-night the conferees will meet in convention at the Council Chamber and nominate the borough ticket.

Grand total of votes..... 7508
1,392 votes polled yesterday and still the HERALD's teachers' contest booms along and there is not the slightest indication of the falling off of interest.

Miss Connolly still retains her lead and has a splendid advantage in number of votes over all the contestants.

Miss Stein still keeps on rolling up votes at a terrific rate and is less than ten votes behind Miss Burns, who has held on to second place tenaciously for several days past and at one time took first place from Miss Connolly.

Miss Fairchild is also doing splendidly, but the great strength developed by Miss Stein has caused her to drop into fourth place, notwithstanding Miss Fairchild polled over a hundred votes yesterday. Miss Stein's poll for the day beat all records, being 370.

Miss Wadley has also made a grand dash and now takes fifth place from Miss Faust, who is not far behind her successor, however, and may more than regain the place before the close of the contest next week.

Pursuant to notice duly given only the names of teachers having a hundred or more votes to their credit will appear in the record table hereafter.

It has come to our knowledge that several of our patrons have been deprived of their papers by children stealing them from doorways. We wish to say that we will promptly enter prosecutions against any one guilty of such acts upon being supplied with reliable information.

The interest in the contest is now spreading all over the country. Yesterday we received several votes from Denver, Colorado, Washington, D. C. and Philadelphia. The letters accompanying them were not of special interest and therefore are not published here.

We find there are still a number of people in town so anxious for their respective candidates to be winners in this contest that they still persist in trying to make rates for the purchase of copies of the HERALD at wholesale prices. This policy cannot be done. Aside from the unfairness of such a proposition, we could not make such a bargain, for the HERALD's contract with the town agents, Messrs. Hooks and Brown, prohibits it.

OUR POTTSVILLE LETTER

MORE FROM OUR LIVELY STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

THE COURT HOUSE SETTLEMENT

Position of the County Commissioners Reviewed in all its Phases—An Extract From Mr. Newlin's Letter.

Special HERALD Correspondence.

POTTSVILLE, Jan. 25, 1893.

HERE is considerable interest manifested in the outcome of the bill offered by Representative Coyle to create an Orphans' Court for this county, having reached, and over-stepped, the prescribed figure of 150,000 population. The bill of course has its friends, but among the legal fraternity it numbers its most influential enemies, because a separate court which would take away from certain practitioners at the bar much of their lucrative business in the shape of audits and other fat appointments, is not likely to be much favored by members of the profession, and especially the more favored or petted ones who now bask in the sunshine of the smiles of the present judiciary.

For instance if such a court is established the judge appointed and to be elected would audit and settle most of the decedents' estates and thus save to them the cost of auditors fees, and would receive his pay from the state treasury. In this particular an Orphans' Court would be popular with the masses, but in others it would be extremely unpopular, in view of the chances that another scholar man would be elected on us and we might draw such a one in election lottery who would be arbitrary and prove in time that we had better have "borne the ills we have than fly to those we know not of." But by far the greatest opposition to the creation of the court comes from those who do not like any one of the few persons who would be likely to be appointed to the judgeship. I do not care to mention names but already there are two prominent Democratic lawyers, residents of the county seat, who are respectively making great efforts to convince the Governor to select them, and as only one judge is to get there the fight between the two will soon be warm.

One of these worthies has had the Orphans' Court judge bee in his bonnet for a number of years while the other's ambition for some office, that of judge preferred, is his ruling passion. The former has fished out of its resting place an old petition which for two years has been laid aside as unfinished business and is now brought forward and dusted preparatory to be of service again.

A DOUBTFUL ISSUE.
But it is the overweening desire of this applicant to convince the Governor that he alone should be thought of in the selection, that has made the passage of the bill a matter of great doubt. In fact it is a matter almost of certainty that the weight of innocence will go against its passage because the defeat of the bill appears to be the most graceful way and delicate way of knocking out this particular and, to many, unwelcome candidate. It is, therefore, fruitless to argue that having over 150,000 population, the county will have to have the court and the bill will surely pass, when it is an undoubted fact that two years ago the same condition of affairs existed and the bill was allowed to die in its infancy of membranous creep, or other puerile poison, superinduced by the innocuous desuetude into which the judge-making law makers allowed themselves to fall into, on account of the opposition engendered by the unpopularity of certain politicians who conceived the idea that they, and only they, were fit to adjudicate in matters pertaining to this particular court. So, too, now the bill may be allowed to sleep the sleep that knows no waking, just as soon as it shall become apparent that one or either of the chief manipulators for the Governor's favor may get the coveted plum. Taking the matter, all in all, I think there will be no new court established for this county at this session of the Legislature and, along with a host of others, I shall be heartily glad of it, because with three judges now in commission we have enough, and there is absolutely no use for another. Besides, it may be that Hads, the new county, may be established, and then our population will not reach the necessary 150,000, because the three Union townships, along with Ryan, Rahn and Kline, will be taken away from us, never to return, and make part of the new territory which will have Haverford for its county seat.

CARDS ARE DEALT, THE PLAY IS ON.
Yesterday the big deal which made the indicted Contractor Taylor and Architect Beebe free and unsullied men, though they yesterday stood before the people as almost self-confessed criminals, was consummated. One lawyer took in $1,500, two others were squeezed down to fees of only $500 each. (I thought they brought out all the charges against the accused men and made it possible to present them), a lady stenographer gets $240, about $700 of which will be her own (and glad if it many are), a few alleged experts take in $220, and the county is salved down with $14,981.75, less than one half of what Taylor was surcharged with as having scooped in. Of the $19,000 paid in by Taylor and Beebe $4,018.22 goes for fees and expenses, not counting the fees of Commissioners private counsel who are still to get in their work on the fund, and thus this little by play at dealing out justice goes on. Mr. Taylor will now arise from his sick bed and laugh a real old-fashioned guffaw—and the statute of the Goddess of Justice will take a squint. One of the indictments against Taylor was for larceny—a felony. This was settled with the conspirators, forgers, briberies etcetera and only the poor dupes, the Commissioners, are to answer at the bar for their misdeeds.

The moral of this whole business is—when you steal, steal enough to show you can buy yourself free.

A MISTAKE NOT RIGHT.

I am now prepared to say that the charge in the newspapers that the Commissioners were offered by James W. M. Newlin, Esq., a settlement of the latter's claim against them—mentioned last week—was erroneous. Mr. Newlin himself is authority for this statement:
"The story about the $500 is entirely erroneous. The question of settlement was discussed but it never reached a point at which it was worth while to discuss figures." I am glad to do these very much maligned Commissioners the simple justice that is contained in the above extract of a letter received from Mr. Newlin by myself on Wednesday last.

POINTS.
My remarks about the lighting question in the Borough Council has had the effect of stimulating the active members of that body to endeavor to get at the facts. At a special meeting last Monday night a committee of seven was appointed to select electrical experts to work on the problem. Their report is awaited before indulging in further strictures.

Gerald McKernan, well known in Shenandoah, will contest with Messrs. Kistler and Squire Hummel for his party nomination for Register. McKernan's many friends chafe his selection in convention by a good round vote.

Altho' clerk O'Connor is very near right in his statements about the needs of the Institution. Our pauper population cannot be fed on wind.

R. J. Mills' offer of a set of furs to the second highest lady teacher in the HERALD contest is stimulating votes hereabouts.

Quite a number to whom old stand because were granted hesitated about paying for them when the time came, because experience taught them that there was no money in it for them after a few years trial. This was especially true of applications from the Schaykill valley.

All these who have used Baxter's Man-Brake Bitters speak, very strongly in their praise. Twenty five cents per bottle. In a Public Installation.

A number of our townsmen and residents of other towns north of the Broad mountains paid a fraternal visit and attended the public installation of the officers of Port Carbon Commandery, Sons of America, on Thursday evening. After speeches were made by the members and after the installation ceremonies the visiting and resident members and their ladies partook of an elegant banquet. The balance of the evening was taken up by roller skating, speeding, and vocal and instrumental music in the town hall. The festivities closed with a grand cake walk. The judges, S. L. Brown and F. C. Reese, decided that the cake belonged to the judges and the organist, Miss Lizzie Bull. Among those present were D. E. Keller, District Commander; Reese Davis and Thomas Evans of Warren Commandery, No. 3; F. C. Reese, S. L. Brown, R. H. Morgan, G. L. Hainer, W. H. Zimmerman, John G. Thomas, John Portz, Harry Arrogod, George Seibert, C. J. Seaman, M. H. Yeager, William Bachman, M. H. Master, Jesse Babo, W. F. Miller and E. D. Gregory, Shenandoah Commandery, No. 14; Dr. T. F. Heister, of Leokawanna Commandery, No. 37.

Singers to Meet.
The singers of town, Wm. Penn and Leok Creek are requested to meet in the Union church at Last Creek on Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, to organize a combined choir for competition at the oldfield in Shamokin on Washington's Birthday. Parties having copies of "The Summer" are requested to bring them.

COMMITTEE.

A Local Agency.
A. D. Williams, of the Manzanillo Medicine Company, was in town to-day. Mr. Williams spent several weeks here recently advertising and distributing Ke-De, the great Mexican blood tonic manufactured by his company, but is now located at Shamokin, where he is doing a large business. The demands for Ke-De have increased so rapidly in this town that Mr. Williams has appointed Jacob Hents as his agent here and that gentleman will see that all orders are promptly filled.

Special Sermon.
Rev. Robert O'Boyle will preach the second of a series of sermons to-morrow evening in the Trinity Reformed church. Subject: "Municipal Reform."
Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

A Hall.
The first annual ball of the National Democratic Club of Shenandoah will be held in Robbins' hall on Monday evening, January 30th, 1893. First class orchestra in attendance. Grand march at 9:30 o'clock. 1-26-93

Neat and Pretty.
We are indebted to the Philadelphia Enquirer for a copy of its almanac for 1893. Typographically it is very neat and pretty and its compilation of names, political and sporting statistics makes it very valuable for reference.
