VERY HARMONIOUS CONVEN-TION SATURDAY NIGHT.

JOHN WATSON FOR CHIEF BURGESS

susquarHE Citizens' boron ticket has been not nated and a cauva among the represent tive mumbers of party and citizens the town shows it giv general satisfaction.

in the field for one office, there is a little d appointment on the part of those who we not nominated and their friends, but this w in ne way deter them from giving cordial support to the ticket and doing all in their ower to elect it.

The fifteen conferrees elected at the Citizens' primaries Friday night were in attendance at the convention Saturday night and transacted their business within closed doors. William H. Dettrey was made chairman nd Richard Ruese secretary.

The Chief Burgership was the first offic calloted for and resulted as follows: John Watson, 8; Charles G. Palmer, 7.

There was no opposition on the Receiver of Paxes and Samuel Weldman received the minutien. There were two candidates for the nomi pation for High Constable, Robert Siddall and Charles Jones. The former received it y a vote of 13 to 2. For the Porough Auditorship there wer so two candidates, Thomas Sanger and D. O. Pritchard, and Mr. Sanger was nominated y a vote of 8 to 7.

The convention was a very harmonic ne and the competition of the conferrors fo their respective men, though spirited, was of friendly and orderly character. Just be fore an adjournment was taken a resolution was passed making all the nominations unanimous, and when the reporters sought information of the conferrees the latter an nounced that all business was transacted in good spirit and all were satisfied.

The second week of the HERALD's public about teachers' contest closed at 4 p. m. on Saturday and the official count made after that howr showed the number of votes police. for the day was 1,405 and the aggregate number of votes for all days 8,963,

Two of the contestants are now above the 1,000 mark and close together. Less than one hundred votes will shange the leader-

Miss Burns has eventually been forced into third place and has four contestant close behind her. The friends of the young lady say that she will not remain third long. They know that desperate efforts have been made to displace her, but within the next ten days they expect to poll a vote that will be exewedingly interesting.

Miss Stein, who has become contestan number two, has certainly made a remarkable record within the past few days. In the last two days of the second week the young lady polled over 500 votes!

Misses Fairchild and Wasley are also doing great work and Miss Faust and Mr. Williams

From the rumors that are affeat there is ason to believe that at the close of the third week will find at least one contestant with a poll of ever 2,000. Which contestant will have that good fortune it is impossible to

Among other important changes in the cor test are the advancements of Misses Lafferty and Stack. Both ladies passed Miss Hoss on Saturday.

It will be observed that to-day's table of scords only includes the names of the eachers who have pulled 100 or more votes. Twenty teachers come within the rule. The cords of the others are in the official record ook and the names will be placed in the table as soon as 100 votes are palled.

Miss Stein, 234; Miss Wasley, 178; Hr. Williams, 163; Miss Entrebild, 142; Miss Faunt, 110. It was stated on Saturday that before the slore of the first mentil the people will find ome of the contestants who now run slow

The highest records for Saturday were

REV. O'BOYLE'S INTERESTING DISCOURSE SUNDAY.

HINTS FOR PURIFYING POLITICS

The Laws of the Land Are All Right-We Need Men of Intailigence and Integrity to Carry Them Out.

from Ecclesinsten XII; keep His sommandments; for this is the whole dary of man."

The pretty tittle church was filled with people who listened to the discourse with death, with the exception of two years spent much attention and apparent interest. w Seranton. Rev. O'Boyle spoke clearly and forcibly and at times made many strong points. The arguments were broad in their scope and referred to national, state and local political effects. During the sermon Rev. O'Boyle said an honest man fears God. The duty of Main avenue, Scranton. The day and time man is to fear and love God as the creator of the universe and to look upon man as the Williams, the brother, stated that friends in head of that creation. Reform is the watchword of the hour and it has a slong the whole political line of the country. Shen andoah is in need of municipal reform and his state of affairs has been brought about by the indifference of people in the exercise f one of the greatest blessings given to mar the exercise of a free ballet. The banes people are indifferent, not only in local affairs, but in state and national nifeirs a well. If the honest man does not take an interest in the political affairs to his town state and country he is no better than the peruptionist, because, by his silence, h ondones their nets. An active interest by ionest men is required, but active interes loes not mean the offering of 50 cents or: follar for a vote; that is corruption. The business man is needed in politics We have men in politics who canno their own business, and yet by our silence we allow them to be elected and mye power. The men we need in politic are men of sound business principles, men of msiness integrity and capacity; men who will look after the affairs of the town as they vould their own. Wa elect men to look after our streets and they know nothing about hem. We elset men to look after our proj rty, but how much of it is protected? far as that is concerned we might as well no have any protection. Our lives and properly are in almost as much danger as they would e if we had no protection at all. Should th state Board of Health visit this town and g brough the streets, alleys and slums, and see he germs of disease the town would be con ismued as a disease breeding hale. The andition of affairs does not exist acres in the outskirts, but the very centre of the town ad yet we elect men to fight that very thing s in existence in our midst, and on our Mair treet, places that are buring our young mend instead of making them good citizens are liting them for built is it not necessary for is, as christian citizens, to some to the reue? It is our boundon patriotic duty to ake an active interest in political affairs There is a law against gaustling. The tatutes of the Commonwealth of Pennsyl vania prohibits it and the Borough Connei seed not pass resolutions to instruche chief officer to 'close the gambling iouses. The laws are all right, but we fail to elect men to carry them out. Good aws and bad men are like oil and waterbey don't mix. We need, also, intelligenned who can intelligently look after the in erusts of the people. All the people of the officers represent them as such. We need men of reason. Men who have minds o their own and who can rely upon their minds, and not blindly follow some ward om. Rev. O'Royle approached the conbusion of his sermon by stating that he feared that the great institutions upon which he American looks with so much pridehe public schools are too frequently en langered. It is a pretty had state of affairs when these noble institutions are traded of for the lowest position the people can give If we as citizens do not cry out the church aust. Educate the children to consider the community above party and the nation above partisanship. Let every honest man go to the polls and vote in accordance with the lictates of his conscience and try to follow he injunction, "Four God and keep His
