COURT PROCEEDINGS! NEARLY 30,000 VOTES!

JUDGE BECHTEL DISPOSES OF SEVERAL CASES.

THE SHENANDOAH WATER CASE

After Some Argument and Consultation it is Postponed for Two Weeks—Points Made by the Water Company.

Special HERALD Correspondence.

POTTSVILLE, Feb. 6, 1893.

HE motion court opened at 10 a. m. to-day with Judge Bechtel alone on the bench. Shortly after court opened the sad and thrilling news reached the court that Judge Green, who had been indisposed, was this morning stricken down with paralysis.

The announcement came like lightning from a clear sky and many were the expressions of regret among the members of the bar at this serious turn in the health of this popular Judge. Judge Green's health has not been good for some time, but nothing of this kind was looked for. With but one Judge in condition to occupy the bench the work of court will be very much impeded, but Judge Bechtel, quick, industrious and courteous, meets the heap of work turned upon him with rare ability.

Argument of the Shenandoah water case was fixed for to-day. Attorneys Ryan and Housing were again before court asking for a continuance. Messrs. Schalek and Pomeroy opposed any further postponement and Judge Bechtel said that in the absence of an agreement by counsel, or of legal ground, for continuance, he would direct argument of the question to proceed. In the afternoon the case came up again, when counsel agreed to Monday, February 20, for argument. A new feature has developed in this case, viz: that the Act of 1874 under which the Borough Council proceeded to increase its indebtedness is not constitutional, because the section of said Act under which they proceeded is special legislation, and that the Chief Burgess should preside at meetings of Council and attest its ordinances, and not an officer elected by Council. These points have been unearthed by Attorney Hollinger, counsel for the Water Company, and are pronounced "tough" nuts for the borough's counsel to crack.

The license for saloon at East Mahanoy Junction was granted to-day to B. J. Vest, of Shenandoah. Attorney Coyle represented Mr. Vest.

The papers in the case of Mellor vs. Wadlinger and Smith were handed to court on a rule for judgment. Ulrich and Burke attorneys.

A rule for judgment was granted in the case of Isachar Robbins vs. Joseph Rogers, returnable Monday next. Haughevaout and Burke attorneys.

The certificate of Attorney Wilhelm, certifying R. W. Schwank, a student at law, for examination, and one by Attorney Wilhelm for Bob Dyson, were filed.

In the case of Reeves vs. Gooner, &c., a rule to show cause why an appeal entered some 90c fine should not be stricken off, the court refused the rule and affirmed the proceedings. Milroy for rule; Burke, contra.

Testimony in the case of the Hoover Mercantile Co. vs. Lizzie Brennan was filed. W. P. Burgess, Esq., took judgment in five cases against Joseph Patrick.

In case of David Rupp vs. R. Labows & Co., certiorari was taken against Squire J. H. Frazier.

Judgment was taken by Attorney Shay for plaintiff in case of Abram Levin vs. John A. Timan.

A number of executions were issued this morning.

French Burlesque Company.
The Nibbs French Burlesque Company turned people away at the Lyceum last night, and to say the show pleased is putting it mildly, the audience was kept in one continual roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. To Stand by the Citizens.
A meeting of the Citizens' Standing Committee will be held this evening and it is understood that the business that will be transacted will have an important bearing upon the method of conducting the poll arrangements at the approaching election. It is also said that the committee will receive some substantial assurance to-night that the German vote will go to the support of the Citizens' ticket, despite the threats made by the Irish Democrats as to what will be the consequences in the fall election if they do.

How often we hear middle-aged people say regarding that reliable old cough remedy, N. H. Down's Elkixir: "Why, my mother gave it to me when I was a child, and I use it in my family; it always cures." It is always guaranteed to cure or money refunded. Im

Votes polled yesterday.....	3033
Grand total.....	36959

Mondays are the busy days of the editor who engages the HERALD's popular public teachers' contest and yesterday was no exception to the rule. The writhe had little less than 3,000 votes to count and they ran the grand total up very close to the 30,000 mark.

The New York Press boasts of the great number of votes it received in its teachers' contest and is jubilant because on Saturday last it received 4,000 votes. We can beat it. On Friday last we received over 6,000 votes.

The big records made yesterday were: Miss Wasley, 879; Miss Baird, 513; Miss Connolly, 463; Frank B. Williams, 240; Mary A. Stack, 231; Agnes Stein, 106; Anna M. Dangler, 108.

The new names added to the record table to-day are those of Misses Lizzie O'Connell and Lizzie Lebe, each having more than one hundred votes to their credit on the record book.

The changes made among the leaders by yesterday's returns were that Miss Wasley again went up into third place. Miss Stein went back to fourth, and Mr. Williams exchanged places with Miss Fairchild.

"Hustler" gave the contest the following complimentary notice in the News on Sunday:

"I notice that the HERALD'S teachers' contest is booming. It is a most excellent move on the part of that paper and will give satisfaction to all concerned. If I were a business man, I would be connected with it in some manner to the extent of $10 at least. It is a great advertisement for business houses for six months. Unlike those that have already contributed prizes, I would not give mine to the two highest—the World's Fair is enough for them. The 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, &c. are all entitled to recognition, besides by doing it will have a tendency to keep all our teachers in the race up to the last moment. The Shenandoah business man who doesn't see a golden opportunity in this contest is to be pitied for his near-sight'dness."

"Hustler's" suggestions are good. We do not think that in a contest like this the winners should receive all the spoils. But the contest is a young yet. We may make an announcement in a week or two that will give encouragement to the competitors down the line ample encouragement.

According to the Shenandoah correspondent of the Pottsville Chronicle the contest has aroused universal enthusiasm north of the Broad Mountain, but a "certain" club that claims its favorite was not credited with all the votes sent in is murmuring loudly.

If this "certain" club has any cause for complaint and will make it known to the contest editor we will try to rectify the mistake, if any has been made. We know of none and do not believe we have deprived any contestant of any votes.

The correspondent also complains that the HERALD has been printing coupons with the name of "a contestant" printed on them. We did this last week on the understanding that the cost of printing the name in the coupons would be $1 per thousand in addition to the charge of one cent for each copy of the HERALD containing such coupon. The friends of several other contestants secured rubber stamps with which to stamp the name of their favorites upon the slips. The cost of a rubber stamp is much less than paying $1 per thousand for having the name printed, but the friends of "a contestant" were willing to stand the additional expense, and in that case what could the HERALD do but accept the order? Any of the contestants could have made the same arrangement, but since some of them are not willing to accept such an arrangement other than in a light of unfairness (and we see no reason why any reasonable person should) we have concluded to decline to print any more names on coupons.

In conclusion I would say that the Chronicle's correspondent does us a great injustice and does not place himself in a very favorable light when he says the contest should receive the contempt of the public because it has gravitated into a contest between wealth and honestly acquired popularity. The sentiment savors of the demagogue. We had and have no power to draw the line on any contestant because of wealth, creed, color or nationality. The contest is open to all and those who entered it had ample time to acquaint themselves with all the conditions as they were liberally advertised for two weeks before the contest opened.

We think that people who are acting in a spirit of fairness and good faith and really wish to see the contest conducted on a fair basis and as such be successful will take ad-

JUDGE GREEN IS DEAD!

A STROKE OF APOPLEXY PROVED FATAL.

ABLE LAWYER, SOLDIER AND JUDGE

General Bereavement Caused by the Announcement of His Death—Brief Sketch of the Deceased.

DEATH followed the sudden illness with which Judge Green was seized at his home in Pottsville yesterday morning as he was making arrangements to start for the court house and take his seat on the bench. In the excitement that followed the report of the illness the stroke was dashed over the wires to different parts of the county as paralysis, but it was apoplexy. Judge Green complained of vertigo on Sunday, but passed a comfortable night. He arose at about 7:30 yesterday morning and while dressing again complained of extreme dizziness. Dr. Boyer, the family physician, was summoned and shortly after a message was sent to the court house that Judge Green was dangerously ill.

The able jurist died at 9:15 o'clock last night. His family was prepared for the end, as the family physician gave no hope for recovery from the first.

Dr. Boyer says that death was caused by progressive apoplexy, having four distinct paroxysms of congestion. About two hours after the first attack the Judge complained of a slight numbness in the right side of his face and right hand. This numbness increased, the speech became affected and considerable difficulty was experienced in swallowing. At about noon there was a slight spasm on the right side and at 1:30 the spasm became severe and general. The Judge then lost consciousness and remained in that state until the end.

Judge Green's death is mourned throughout this section. He was recognized as one of the best citizens and most able jurists in the state and stood pre-eminent in the history of Schuylkill county. His prominence in judicial circles caused the prominent men of all parties to consider him entitled to a seat on the Supreme Court bench.

Judge David B. Green was born in Reading, Berks county, December 22nd, 1831. After graduating from the schools of that city he entered Yale College and graduated from there in 1852. He then took up the study of law in Reading and was admitted to the bar in January, 1855. In the following April he moved to Pottsville and soon established a lucrative practice.

In 1862 the then brilliant young lawyer was appointed adjutant of the 12th regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, attached to the 5th army corps, and entered into active service. He served nine months with the regiment, which took part in the second Bull Run battle, at the battles of Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. In the summer of 1863, when Pennsylvania was invaded by the rebel force and emergency regiments were organized the deceased was appointed lieutenant-colonel of the 27th Pennsylvania regiment and served with it until mustered out of service the August following.

Mr. Green then resumed the practice of law in Pottsville and in 1865 he formed a partnership with Hon. Lin Bartholomew. This continued until 1866, when it was dissolved by mutual consent.

In 1867 Mr. Green was appointed Judge of the Criminal Court for Schuylkill, Dauphin and Lebanon counties by Governor John W. Geary and in the fall of that year he was nominated by the Republican party for the same position and elected, the term being three years. Major Ellis was the Democratic nominee.

Upon the amendment of the constitution in 1874 this court was abolished and Judge Green was made Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Schuylkill county for the unexpired term of his commission. In the fall of 1877 the Republicans again nominated Judge Green, but he was defeated and succeeded by the then Senator O. P. Bechtel. In 1881 Judge Green was again nominated by the Republicans upon the expiration of Judge Walker's commission and he defeated James B. Reilly. In 1891 the Republicans again nominated him for the same office and the election resulted in the defeat of George J. Wadlinger, the Democratic candidate. Judge Green had served one year, one month and three days of his last term.

In consequence of Judge Green's death Governor Pattison will be required to make an appointment for the vacancy. The appointee will serve until January, 1894, when the nominee who may be elected in the election of November next will take the bench.
