THIRD EDITION

THE THEATRE

References to Ferguson Theatre Coming Attractions.

All that has been said in praise of "Hands Across the Sea," and the company presenting it, was more than justified by the fine production last evening at the Alhambra theatre. The scenery also fully met expectations, being plentiful, handsome and effective, especially where scenes changed as if by magic by the use of rolling scenes. Mr. Henry Pierson as Robert St. Louis, sustained his role in a most admirable manner, and when called before the curtain at the close of the fourth act, proved that he was a successful villain by the storm of mingled hisses and clapping of hands which greeted him. —Chicago Journal. At Ferguson's theatre to-morrow evening.

"FORGIVEN."

"Forgiven" has already established itself among the great melodramas of the day, and its successful presentation last evening only adds another hit to its long list of triumphs. —New York Commercial Advertiser. At Ferguson's theatre on Friday evening, February 17th.

Mr. Pomeroy Named.

The Wilkes-Barre Record says: "If Governor Pattison means to appoint a Republican to succeed the late Judge Green his attention should be called to the fitness of J. H. Pomeroy, Esq., who is one of the leading lawyers of the Schuylkill county bar. Mr. Pomeroy has not been in good health for a year back but it is said he is now recovering and being a young man ought to be able to fill Judge Green's place with distinguished ability."

Where is Paul Summa?

Inquiries are being made for Paul Summa, the well known saloon keeper. He left town several days ago and no one seems to know where he has gone. Mr. Franey, the landlord of the property in which Summa's saloon was located, at the corner of Main and Poplar streets, to-day took charge of the place and closed it up. It is said that Mr. Summa was disappointed in receipts of money. He expected that last Saturday would be pay day, and as he had considerable money outstanding he was badly crippled by the failure of the collieries to give his patrons their checks.

"THE KINGDOM OF GOD."

The Subject of Rev. Fowler's Sermon on Sunday.

Sunday was missionary day in the M. E. church. The subject of the morning sermon was "The Kingdom of God." Daniel 2:44: "In the days of these kings shall the kingdom of heaven be set up which shall never be destroyed, etc." The text is from the account of Daniel's vision of the succession of kingdoms. The kings referred to are by common consent those of the Babylonian, Medo-Persian, Macedonian, and Roman empires. By the kingdom of God is meant the whole community of those who accept its divine founder as the Messiah and bow to His authority. It is the antithesis of the kingdom of Satan spoken of by the Saviour when he was accused of casting out devils by the prince of devils. "The world lieth in the wicked one" and the God of heaven has set up a kingdom in its midst and proposes by the power of the gospel to deliver the wretched slaves of Satan from his cruel power and translate them into the kingdom of His son.

This kingdom is of divine origin, unlike the kingdoms of the world it is not founded upon force but upon love. Its ruling principle is peace on earth and good will to men. No flourish or trumpet, no formal proclamation, no social upheaval announced the moment of its birth. It came as the rising sun—it was like the planting of the mustard seed. Its humble beginnings and feeble methods attest its divinity. Its founder, exalted in a manger graduated in a carpenter shop, calling fishermen and tax-gatherers for his disciples, consorting with publicans and sinners, finally died on a cross. To overcome the wicked bias of human hearts, imbue their angry passions, transform their filthy habits, revolutionize their social order, he uses the story of his own death. With no legal status and no social prestige his kingdom arrayed itself against everything earthly, sensual, devilish. It overcame the fury of its foes and the mistaken zeal of its friends as embodied in the Roman persecutions and the papal inquisition. No earthly kingdom was ever established by such means.

The explanation of its progress is found in its spiritual nature. The kingdom of God, which Jesus said should come with power before those to whom He spoke should taste of death, "is not of this world—not a thing of outward show—it cometh not with observation—it is not meat and drink, but righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost—it is within you." It meets the conscious need of the soul and satisfies our longings as nothing else can do.

Like the stone of Daniel's vision the kingdom is ever extending its conquest and is destined to supplant every opposing rule. Men may talk of the world growing worse. The scriptures teach that "evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse" but they do not teach that they shall gain the ascendancy over that which shall grow good. They may talk about the gospel demonstrating its failure to establish the reign of Christ in the affairs of men in order to His coming to establish an earthly kingdom and to accomplish what the gospel fails to do—but the gospel is doing its work. Look at the world as it was and as it is. War was the rule, now it is the exception. Even the standing armies and ever increasing destructiveness of modern engines of war are hastening the time when the nations shall learn war no more. Human genius is making war so destructive that no nation can afford to go to war. Contrast the degradation of woman and her condition of slavery to the animalism of man with her condition in Christian lands to-day. Consider the incredible number and poverty of slaves and the cruelty of their bondage, and see how the principles of the kingdom of God have broken their fetters till slavery is unknown where the gospel of the kingdom is preached. Compare the sacredness of human life to-day with the contempt in which it was then had—the killing of slaves for mere sport—the multitudes of human sacrifices offered to the gods—the killing of deformed and invalid children to save the expense and trouble of raising them. We make a mistake to estimate the extent of God's kingdom by its visible bounds and its published statistics. Though the gospel has reached less than one-third of earth's millions it has greatly ameliorated the condition of multitudes of those it has yet saved. Less than twenty years ago a price was placed on the heads of Christians in Japan and to-day she has a constitution and congress modelled after our own, and Christians sitting as members and helping to frame her laws. Never were the nations of the earth so ready for the rule of Christ as now. The problem of their conquest in the near future is largely a question of consecrated men and consecrated money.

A Great Play.

The Brooklyn Eagle, the representative paper of the City of Churches, in criticizing Miss Agnes Herndon's performance as "La Belle Marie," which was given in that city very early in the present season, and when the thermometer was up among the 60's, says: "No more decided verdict of approval could have been bestowed than was plainly given by the continued presence each night of an immense audience that even the perspiration and heat did not keep away, and which seemed to awake more enthusiasm even in the extremely hot auditorium by their roars of laughter and vigorous hand clapping than on the coldest night in winter. From the rise of the curtain it was apparent that Miss Herndon's hit was an emphatic one, and the success of the charming and handsome actress, in "La Belle Marie," bids fair to be a lasting and particularly prominent one." Pin the date fast to your memory and tell the news to your neighbors. At Ferguson's theatre on Thursday evening, March 2d.

ELECTRIC FLASEES.

Many New Roads Said to be in Contemplation.

There is now some talk of constructing an electric railway from this place to Fort Carbon, the route to be through Maizeville, Frankville and St. Clair.

Assurance is given that the eighty-mile road which the News claimed would be operated by wind power will be built in the spring.

The prospect for a road between St. Clair and Minersville, via Pottsville, is not dead. Work will be commenced as soon as the weather permits.

Nothing much is heard of the Tamiquan-Lansford road. There is some trouble concerning the rights of way. Editor Malloy, of the Lansford Record, is a warm advocate of the road. The Mahanoy and Lakeside road will surely be built. A party of gentlemen from Huntingdon county were in town last week trying to effect some arrangement with the incorporators for the construction. They were much impressed with Lakeside and said they would willingly invest in improvements for the place.

The latest charter granted is for an electric road through Sunbury and a number of other towns in Union county.

The Schuylkill Traction Company is pushing work on its line between Mahanoy Plane and Girardville. After the completion of the branch the company will turn its attention to the line between here and Mahanoy City.

Toole Has Triplets.

"It's a fine man yer be this fine snowy day," was the salute P. L. Toole, of the First ward, received from one of his neighbors yesterday. Mr. Toole was a "fine" man, and a surprised one, too. Mrs. Toole gave birth to triplets yesterday—two boys and a girl—and when last seen the mother and children were doing well. They are the first triplets born in this town and a number of Mr. Toole's friends are making arrangements to celebrate the event by a serenade and a substantial testimonial as soon as circumstances will allow.

Opening of

Ladies' and Children's

Muslin Underwear.

February 11

February 13

GRAND OPENING of Ladies' and Children's Muslin Underwear Saturday, February 11, and Monday, February 13. One of the largest and most carefully selected we have ever had.

There is no economy in any lady using her time, strength and money in making underwear, when it can be bought for less than the cost of making in many cases. If you are not convinced of this make a thorough examination of any garment here—look at the muslin, quality of work and finish. Then see if you cannot find nine good reasons for buying ready-made to one good reason for making it yourself. Think of no cutting out, no fitting, no machine work, which often means headache, that terrible enemy to all women. Think of all these, then think of the bright side.

Buy them Ready-made.

The old-fashioned idea that muslin underwear must be made at home to be right is now a thing of the past. All progressive people know this to be a mistake. Keep pace with the age. Be one of the first to grasp a good idea. Take our advice—BUY.

To every purchaser of Muslin Underwear will be given a book, entitled "A Life on the Ocean Wave" and "Bible Stepping Stones." Not a book for every piece, but one book for Underwear—from one piece up to an indefinite number. These poems will be found fully worth the price of a piece of Underwear; but for that day only will be given away. Come and get one, as they will be a pleasing souvenir of our Opening.
