DANCED TO THEIR DEATH

Horrible Burning Accident at a Budapest Carnival.

PARNELLITES AND HOME RULE BILL.

Boats Lost in a Gale and Nearly 500 Seamen Perished—Two More Panama Canal Operators Sentenced—Mr. Sattoli's Accusations Indorsed by the Pope.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 16.—A carnival dance was given on Tuesday evening in Denisch Perg. At 11 o'clock, when about 100 persons were dancing in the hall on the first floor, a child playing in the cellar dropped a lighted taper through the bungie of a cask filled with petroleum oil.

The cask exploded, killed the child, tore up the dance floor, and scattered the burning petroleum oil among the dancers.

A dozen persons, enveloped in flames, ran for the windows or doors, spreading fire and panic among the rest of the company.

Half the people in the hall were at the end from which there were no exits, and as the floor on the side near the windows had been torn by the explosion they were obliged to run the whole length of the blazing room in order to escape.

Ten persons fell through to the cellar, and were burned to death, while seven more, whose clothes had caught fire, died a short time after reaching the open air.

Three were trampled into unconsciousness in the panic, and were burned to death as they lay on the floor.

Five men and seven women, whose clothes were half burned from their backs, are now lying in a critical condition.

Many others have slight fractures or burns.

But 30 or 40 persons escaped without sustaining injuries.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

John Redmond Announces that the Parnellites Will Support It.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, said in an interview yesterday:

"The main principles of the Home Rule bill are sound. It confers a Parliament on Ireland with full control of Irish affairs, subject only to a veto by the Crown on the advice of Irish Ministers. One or two subjects are reserved from that control, but only for three and six years respectively.

There are many defects in the machinery provided, and there are certain restrictions which are regarded as vexatious. In the present form of the bill nobody can regard it as affording a final settlement of the Irish question, but we owe our duty to be to improve it as much as possible, and reserve our decision as to whether it will be accepted or not until the final reading, when we will know definitely the precise shape it will assume after discussion and amendment."

Justin McCarthy, the Nationalist leader, said that Mr. Balfour's speech in answer to Gladstone was "the carping, unimpassioned speech of a philistine skeptic."

The House of Commons spent the afternoon in a dry discussion of the bill, reforming the election of poor law guardians, which was read a second time, the opposition assenting.

The bill regulating railway rates was withdrawn. President Munnich, of the Board of Trade, promising that if the railway companies should fail to revise their rates within a reasonable time the government would introduce a measure dealing with the question.
