ALARM OF FIRE.

An Early Morning Call, But no Blace

An alarm called out the fire depaytment at half past two o'clock this morning and the cause was found at a Polish sulcon at 107 East Centre street. When the firemen arrived they met Chief of Police Davis and Patrolman Tempest, who explained that they aw smoke pouring from the roof of the building and there was a strong small of urning material on the street. Tempest unded the alarm from the box at the corner of Main and Centre streets.

When the firemen entered the building hey found the wife of the salconkeeper enaged in sweeping the floor of the cellar. The woman pretended to be entirely ignorout of the English language. Later on whom the Aremen were inspecting the upper portlen of the building the woman expl ined that in making a new fire in the cellar furnace she set some pieces of rag burning, and that exceed the smoke that led to the shirm.

Just helore the firemen left the place they were treated to an exhibition of Marquis of Queenbury rules by the saloonkeeper and his wife. The termer was quite draink and the latter seemed to have been inrbibling quite freely. The bushand leaned against the lar and muttered, "No tire, on tree? The woman said securifying in Polish and then threw some water in the husband's face. While the man was drying his face the woman's right arm shot out, and her sponse went sprawling on the floor bublind the bur-The wife then went upstairs and the firemen left the building.
