After Election Notes.

There are some people in this town who think that John F. Finney is a politician after all. The next election that will engross the attention of our people will be for a successor to Superintendent Freeman.

The political tides are still abroad. They were quite numerous yesterday and did not fail to put in claims that they voted for the victorious candidates.

It should be observed that the election of a Councilman in the Second ward on Tuesday didn't cost the Citizens' party a School Director, as it did last year.

The labor of the election boards on Tuesday day again demonstrated that a necessity for dividing the wards exists. The Fifth ward board was kept busy until after 1 a. m.

It wouldn't be a bad idea to have that famous protest against Finney's candidacy in the Second ward framed with this inscription in gilt on the frame, "Six Signers in the Soup."

A correspondent sends in this admonition: "People who intend to be candidates in the next fall election should not be lavish in their criticisms of men who took part in the election of Tuesday." This is sound advice.

Candidates for appointment to offices which will be at the disposal of the new Borough Council are developing fast. It is safe to say that with the exception of Borough Solicitor there are at least six applicants for each office.

Borough Auditor John E. Doyle is receiving congratulations on all sides. He had one of the strongest men on the borough ticket against him and his reelection is a public recognition of his competency as Borough Auditor during the past three years.

Last year "De Ate," in order to elect one of their friends to the Council, lost a member of the School Board to the Citizens, thereby giving the Democrats a majority, and then put the blame on "de gang." How is it this year? The election of Finney did not necessitate the loss of a School Director.

Max Reese has accepted his defeat gracefully. He wanted to believe that he would receive the votes of a large majority and fully two-thirds of the promises were entirely unshaken, but Max learned as others have, that the majority of election promises are like Rip Van Winkle's drinks—they don't count. But Max worked hard and received a very flattering vote.

There is but one "best" remedy for Rheumatism and all Rheumatic pains and aches. It is the Genuine Imported "Anchor Pain Expeller." For sale at C. H. Hagenbush, P. F. D. Kirby, J. M. Hillan, and other druggists, at 25 and 50 cents a bottle. Sent to P. F. Ad. Richter & Co., 17 Warren street, New York City, for the valuable book, "Guide to Health." It contains the endorsements of prominent physicians. Mailed free of charge.

He Was Knifed.

EDITOR HERALD:—Has it occurred to you, Mr. Editor, that the defeat of the Citizens' ticket in the Fourth ward was attributed to the friends of two members of "De Ate's" Such is the fact and proof of it can be given if required. There is no use saying the Germans did not do their duty. They did. They voted the ticket to a man. The Citizens' candidate for Council in that ward was a protégé of Councilman Holman and was opposed to the methods of "De Ate." That was the reason he was knifed.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Washington's Birthday Celebrated in the Senate—Washington in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Yesterday's session of the Senate was prefaced by the reading of George Washington's Farewell address, an appropriate commemoration of the birthday of the Father of the Country, introduced five years ago by Mr. Hoar.

Mr. Manderson, who read it, is a good eloquentist, and his reading had a close and respectful attention on the part of the Senators and the visitors in the galleries.

There was but little time wasted in discussing the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, after which the conference report on the Army Appropriation bill was agreed to, and the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill was brought before the Senate.

Before any progress was made on this bill the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business, after which an adjournment was taken at 5:40 p. m.

The first of what it is said will be a daily series of conflicts between the appropriation bills and the anti-Options bill until the latter is acted on, was the feature of the day's session of the House. The members were worn out from the night session and the day passed lamely.

Mr. Hatch had grown tired of the delay to which the anti-option bill is being subjected and when it was moved to take up the Postoffice Appropriation bill he announced the motion with the measure of which he is champion. Being defeated, he made the same fight also unsuccessfully when the Postoffice bill was passed and the Indian Appropriation bill was called up. Members were thus put on record and then the Indian question was discussed languidly for three hours.

After Mr. Hooker, who had unsuccessfully endeavored to get unanimous consent to pass a bill for the relief of a Mississippi, announced his solemn purpose to be a thorn in the side of every other member who wanted any legislative work until this bill was passed, the House at 6:15 p. m. adjourned.
