Burran editor are of the opinion that the well declared policy of the Monroe dostrine would keep the United States from annexing outlying colonies and islands. But the British editor takes hold of the Monroe doctrine wrong and feremost. Boiled clown, the Monroe doctrine is "not to interfere in the internal concerns of any of the powers of Europe," and "to regard any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as cangerous to our sence and safety." But If 'he United States, for the profection of her commercial and naval inferests, sees fit to annex peaceably a set of islands that desire to be annexed, or otherwise peaceably extends her power in places where the pre-existing rights of other nations are not interfered with it is her own business and that of no country in Europe. This is the Monree deciries that is good enough for annexation. majust now.

PRESIDENT HARRISON and President-elect Cleveland will ride in a carriage together on the 4th of March next as they did four years before. There will, however, be a change in the position and duties of the two men. Four years ago Cleveland went out and Harrison went in, Cleveland escorting his successor to the high place of honor he himself had occupled the four previous years. Harrison's duty will be to escort Cleveland to his old position, but which during the four intervening years has been alled by himself. Cleveland four years ago was a defeated candidate for the office to which Harrison had been shosen. On the 4th of March Harrison is the defeated candidate for the effice to which Cleveland was chosen. They will never leak or become loosened. It is very adhestive, sticks firmly to anything, forming a tough, leather-like skin over the top, will not run or loosen from joints or cracks, summer or winter. This cement needs no reference, it has stood the test for thirty-two years, and never fails to give perfect satisfaction. It is the most useful article a roofer can have in his shop. The cement is prepared resaly for use, and is to be applied with a troved, and is kept moist, by keeping covered with water or oil, and will not get stiff or dry. Colors, brown and black. (Established 1890). Address.
