THIRD EDITION

THE THEATRE.

References to Ferguson's Theatre Coming Attractions.

"The Burglar" is a moral lesson, a powerful sermon, an interesting drama, all in one. The Star said last year that it was one of the best attractions of the season. It is one of the very best of this season. The company is made up of people of merit and intelligence. Mr. Moore's depiction of the character of The Burglar is a piece of fine work. Little Lottie Breeze is a remarkable child actress. The action of the play is fine throughout, the situations novel, and enough comedy woven through the lines of nearly all the characters to lighten up the dialogue.—Mentelle, Pa. Star. "The Burglar" will appear at Ferguson's theatre to-morrow evening.

"LA BELLE MARIE."
Miss Agnes Herndon will appear at Ferguson's theatre in "La Belle Marie, or A Woman's Revenge," a five-act comedy drama, on Thursday evening, March 20.

"THE WITCH."
The second presentation of Marie Hubert Frohman's great success, "The Witch," will be a dramatic event of great interest to our theatregoers. So much has been said and written commendatory of this strange play and its powerful interpretation by Miss Frohman, that those who failed to see it last year are infected with a pleasant and excited anxiety to see and hear for themselves. While those who have already witnessed the performance will want the pleasure renewed, at Ferguson's theatre on Monday evening, March 20th.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

A Pleasing Affair at the County Seat Saturday.

The anniversary banquet of the Keystone S. and N. S. Alumni of Schuylkill county, at Pottsville on Saturday, was one of the most successful and brilliant social events of the season. Eloquence, logic, wit and erudition characterized the dissertations of the learned and distinguished gentlemen who responded to the admirably selected toasts.

Prof. C. H. Meyer, in response to the toast "Relationship," spoke very feelingly of the felicitous association of his collegiate career, while under the ennobling influence of his venerated Alma-Mater, and eloquently commended the practice of disseminating the cherished seeds of friendship around the festive board on each succeeding annual reunion.

R. H. Koch, Esq., one of the most brilliant of Schuylkill's galaxy of legal stars, extolled the profession to which he has so conscientiously devoted his genius and enviable talent, and in a resistless flight of inspiring eloquence referred to his early career at the Normal, accrediting her with the honor of instilling those rudiments of learning which made his success at the bar a possibility.

Mr. C. A. Snyder depicted a model of American citizenship, an emulation of which would truly exalt a government that which no more beneficent exists or more enlightened has ever been established.

The respectful silence and deferential regard with which Prof. Schaefer was received when he arose to address the beneficiaries of his painstaking labors upon the "Rights of Children" was truly imposing. The endearing sentiments with which he was greeted, the hearty and unrestrained applause with which his learning and electrical flashes of humor were received, proved that time nor the disintegrating qualities of assiduous could not sever that bond of friendship and love which his solicitude care and unselfish devotion had so firmly cemented. The love for the little children which endeared him to us while we labored those sentiments of learning which it was his rare to instill in our minds, still burns with all its positive brightness for the little ones whom fortune favored with his beneficent labors.

The recitations delivered by Misses Farrell, Fairchild and Monaghan were enthusiastically applauded and meritoriously rendered. The instrumental music, the mirth provoking games, and the terpsichorean diversions afforded amusement and entertainment in abundance to all the assembled guests.

When the intellect had fellecitated to satiety in these feasts of reason and flows of soul, the guests repaired to the dining room to regale their palates with the exquisite courses of palatable viands that would gratify the appetites of the most fastidious epicurean. The host of the "Hall" was eulogized by all who participated in the festivities for his scrupulous regard for the welfare of his guests, and to the success of his efforts in the gastronomic preparation.

Among those who attended from our town were Misses Fairchild, Conroy, Stack and Lambert.

AGNES HERNDON.
The Great Heroic Actress in "La Belle Marie, or A Woman's Revenge."

Agnes Herndon will appear in "A Woman's Revenge, or La Belle Marie," next Thursday evening. The play is new to Shenandoah, but it is said to be of great power. Miss Herndon is a well known figure on the American stage, gifted with remarkable versatility. A warm welcome should be given her and her capable company. The New York Herald says: "The story is that of an innocent, blushing girl, who, thrown off by her lover, assumes the role of an avenging Nemesis in the shape of a French woman, and lures her betrayer to destruction—justice as she rightfully terms it. The play holds the attention of the audience to the end, and gives an opportunity to Miss Herndon to exploit her great dramatic talents. Miss Herndon as Jean Inghilde, the trusting young girl with blond locks, is charmingly simple and girlish, and as the laughing, mocking, beautiful, scornful, bewitching, dashing La Belle Marie, in raven tresses and a French dialect, she is simply superb. There was no gesture, pose or movement made which has not a meaning and a corresponding force. She was all grace, and every turn of her magnificent figure was intended to convey a thought. She was thoroughly artistic in this regard, so much so that the auditor was lost in amazement at the subtlety, finesse and delicacy of all she did. Her impersonation is dainty and strongly amusing. The play is novel, refreshing and enjoyable."

It is strictly an American remedy; home-made and without foreign flavor, we refer to SARRA OIL, the greatest cure on earth to date.

Two Horses Killed.

Two horses belonging to Thomas F. Gorman, agent for the Rochester Breeding Company at Mahanoy City, were struck and instantly killed by the three o'clock east-bound Lehigh Valley freight train, at Rapapannock yesterday. The team was standing on a narrow road between Anthony Monaghan's saloon and the railroad track. The driver, Terrence McGinty, had just jumped from his seat to deliver some beer when the horses became excited, and turned onto the track in front of the rapidly approaching train. Before the engineer could reverse, the engine struck the animals with such force as to hurl their mangled bodies against the door of the saloon.

Election Officers Held for Court.

Thomas McAndrew, of Butler township, has brought suit against Edward Casey, judge of election in North Butler, and Michael Rowland and John Carroll, inspectors, before Squire Russell, Ashland, charging them with violation of the election laws. McAndrew claims that Casey was allowed to monopolize the ballot box and have personal control of the vote. He also charged that the election board was not lawfully sworn, and believes that the returns made by the board were fraudulent and illegal. The defendants were given a hearing and were bound over to court in the sum of $300.

Wanted.

To complete files, two copies each of the EVENING HERALD of January 1st, 2d and 4th, and February 5th, 1892. A liberal price will be paid for the same.
