THE THEATRE

References to Ferguson Theatre Coming Attractions.

Little Lottie Briscoe is one of the sweetest of stage children. She is always perfectly at ease, acts well, and sings and dances in addition. She is quite an accomplished little lady. Lottie is one of Lottie Collins' smallest and youngest imitators. Her attempt at the song and dance made famous by the London concert hall singer is decidedly funny. This little child is the pleasantest feature of "The Burglar."—Evening Wisconsin. "The Burglar" will appear at Ferguson's theatre this evening.

"THE WITCH."

"The Witch" is one of the few plays that achieve a lasting success, one season generally suffices for most of them. But Philip Hamilton has made in "The Witch" a play, and Miss Frohman of "Marguerite" is a character that is destined to a long and popular life. At Ferguson's theatre on Monday, next.

MISS HERNDON
On Horseback—How the Great Actress Won "Satan."

Miss Agnes Herndon who will appear here shortly, is an expert horsewoman. She has in New York a fine blooded horse which no ordinary sum of money could buy. She has received numerous offers for "Satan," who is as black as coal, and now is as perfect a steady saddle horse as the world ever saw. The way Miss Herndon became possessed of him was peculiar and at the same time plucky. Two seasons ago, while playing in San Francisco, she was invited to drive to Senator Fair's stock farm. She accepted, and while there the negro boys were exercising the horses. Becoming enthused as she saw them flying round the track, she asked permission to ride one. This request the Senator granted, and presently Miss Herndon was seated on "Satan," and laughingly challenged the jockey for a race. This idea delighted the party, and just before the start the Senator said: "Miss Herndon, I'll wager the horse against a blue you will be beaten." Miss Herndon jokingly accepted the wager. The word was given and away the horses started like a whirlwind. For a while it was neck and neck, until the last quarter was reached, then was seen a small, dainty hand vigorously applying the whip, and "Satan" crossed the wire leading by half a head winning the race. Miss Herndon continued her tour, and when in Denver, to her surprise, the actress received a telegram stating that "Satan" was in New York, quartered at the Senator's expense, until she needed him. During the summer she is a familiar figure in the Park, and no single rider attracts more attention than Agnes Herndon on her black horse.

The question now arises, should Miss Herndon have lost the wager, would she have paid the bet?

USE DANA'S SAIRA PARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

The Saloonkeepers Meet.

A meeting of the recently organized saloonkeepers' protective association was held in town yesterday, but nothing that would be of general interest to the public was transacted. An influential member of the organization stated last night that it was the sentiment of the membership that the court had a perfect right to grant licenses to all deserving people, but it is certainly objectionable that a license should be granted to any one who seeks it simply to give a property a selling price and for that reason the members will ask that all transfers of licenses receive the strictest inspection.

It is strictly an American remedy; home made and without foreign favor, we refer to Saira Parilla Oil, the greatest cure on earth to pain.

A Nasty Awakening.

An apprentice in one of the town jewelry stores played a practical joke on his employer yesterday that had quite an effect. The apprentice is allowed to leave the store at 12 o'clock, noon, to get his dinner. When the time for departure arrived yesterday the employer was taking a nap. The young man hit upon a novel idea for announcing the hour and wound up thirty or forty of the alarm clocks in the place. They all struck about the same time and made such a clamor that people rushed in droves from the streets into the store to ascertain the cause. The jeweler explained the situation and the apprentice got his dinner.

Some Interesting Figures.

Of the total 3,943,812 square feet available for all world's fair exhibits, 1,419,517 has been assigned to foreign, and 1,787,283 to domestic applicants. Concessions absorb 211,465 square feet, and only 214,476 square feet remain unassigned in all departments. No figures are given from the live stock department because space is not assigned by area in that exhibit. The list of Germany's exhibitors contains 5,077 names. Represented in it are 290 cities and towns of the empire, and of these, forty cities send more than ten exhibits each. Berlin leads with 293 exhibits, Munich follows with 187, Leipzig with 149, Frankfurt, 53, Hamburg, 57, and Chemnitz, 41.

Curious Scene at the World's Fair.

The other day the Turks consecrated the grounds on which the Turkish pavilion of the world's fair will be erected. First they killed a large white sheep as a sort of insurance to prevent Allah from destroying the building. A hundred men in bulging breeches, rimless round feet and red slippers stood around the sheep. One prayed, another tied a bandage over the eyes of the sheep, and Faird Bey cut the animal's throat. After this everybody went to the Turkish village, and the sheep was there cooked and eaten.

The Kaiser's Equine Exhibit.

It is said that the emperor of Germany will send to the world's fair a number of Trakehner stallions from his own stables, which he himself uses as carriage horses. The other German horses that are to be exhibited are mostly of the Hanover and Holstein breeds. The Trakehners are beautiful animals with silky black coats, are swift and have nobly poised heads.

A presidential inauguration is a harvest for pickpockets and sneak thieves, who flock to the Capitol from all parts of the Union.

Grover Cleveland was the heaviest man ever inaugurated as president, his weight at that time being about 373 pounds.
