AN INTERESTING SERMON

ANOTHER OF REV. O'BOYLE'S POPULAR SERMONS.

THE GOAT OF MANY COLORS.

What Constitutes Leaders of Men and Women and the Tribulations They Must Expect. Two Classes of Followers.

"GOAT of Many Colors" was the theme of Rev. Robert O'Boyle's sixth popular sermon in the Trinity Reformed church last night. The discourse was listened to by a large assemblage and apparently had much effect. In the world's history there have always been men who have stood in the front ranks—leading. Joseph, who received the coat of many colors, stood at the head of his tribe and the coat was given him by his father as an evidence of the greatness of the leader.

To be a leader it is necessary to possess certain qualifications of mind and heart. Joseph was such a man. From early youth he was a pious child.

It is a strange anomaly that leaders are followed by two distinct classes, enemies and friends. Man who will lead must expect to make enemies; they will come in contact with men inferior to themselves. Those who believe in a man's leadership will follow him and place confidence and trust in him. The great secret of the success of generals in armies is the confidence and trust placed in them by the rank and file. When Sheridan was 30 miles from Winchester the battle was being lost because he was not there, but riding to the scene as fast as his black steed could carry him he appeared before his men. They rallied upon his appearance and the battle was won.

When Joseph took the leadership of his tribe the men he came in contact with were his brothers, men who would think should have stood by him, but they became jealous of his leadership and called him a dreamer, of what some of us would call to-day a crank. The presentation of the rich coat of many colors increased the spirit of jealousy against Joseph and led to his sale into slavery by his brothers.

Apply this coat to our individual lives. Let us as people of the 19th century put on the robe of Christ, not a robe of many colors. It is the outward appearance that gets us into trouble. The external of nature has many colors and many shades. Some men will grasp you by the hand, smile and say pleasant things at one moment, and at the next he will turn to your neighbor and stab you in the back.

But that is not the worst. This man has a third coat or side, and when he is accused of betraying you he will lie in the effort to save himself. Thus he wears the coat of many colors. It is this coat—this black biting, gossiping characteristic of human nature, that breaks up the purest home and beautiful fireside and causes hearts that should beat as one to beat separately and independently.

Let us assume the outward garb of manly nature and let us be true men and women. The great characteristic of those who lead men and women is true manhood and womanhood.

Yesterday President Grover Cleveland made his inaugural address at Washington. He called upon the citizens of this country to stand by him as he would stand by the Constitution and defend it. But most of all, the true characteristic of all, he called upon God to help him carry on and advocate the interests of the country. That shows the true manhood.

What we need in this town is manhood and womanhood. We have a population of over 17,000, but the men and women are in the minority. Let us put on the coat of one color, the spotless robe of Jesus Christ and be true to our God, our country, our fellowmen and ourselves.

Rev. O'Boyle announced that the subject of his next sermon will be "The Young Man's Friend."

Sacramental Services.

There was an preaching on Sunday in the Methodist Episcopal church. In the morning one of the largest sacramental services which were ever held in the church was celebrated. The new probationers—sixty six in number—received their first communion. In the evening the church was packed to overflowing. The Sunday school missionary anniversary was held and the services were of an unusually interesting nature. The superintendent, Dr. J. S. Callen, presided. The report of the secretary showed that the classes had contributed $137 to the cause of missions, the class of Jesse Hughes taking the banner.

The Actors and the Vanderbilts, the VanRenesselaers and the Schermerhorn and others of the blue bloods of New York are going to attend the World's Fair. They will travel in special trains of palace cars and live in luxury all the while they linger by the lake. This gives the whole affair the stamp and sanction of the Four Hundred of society's elect.

These millionaires, however, will fare no more sumptuously than the teachers who are to visit the Exposition at the expense of the HERALD. They go in palace cars; so will the teachers. By special train at high speed, so will the humble instructors of the youth. They will have three square meals a day, and so will the guests of the HERALD. The teachers will pass through the same gates as the Four Hundred, will see the same exhibits, enjoy the same sights and marvel at the same wonders of the world gathered there. The millionaires won't be able to crowd one whit more pleasure into a day than the pedagogues.

Meanwhile the HERALD's voting contest goes merrily on. It's a fair field. Anybody and everybody may vote—old folks and children, young men and maidens, at the same time getting all the news for a cent.

The General is a resident of Tamaqua, where he first went 30 years ago and is still a citizen of that ancient burg. The error arose from the fact that the General has charge of his own and his sister's estate in Northumberland and goes there frequently to look after their interests.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

SENSATIONAL EXPERIENCE OF TWO BREAKER BOYS.

GARRIED DOWN A GOAL CHUTE.

Their Critical Position Was Only Discovered by Accident—The Lives Saved by Prompt Action of Workmen.

BORGE POWELL and John Cline, two boys, had a miraculous escape from death at the breaker of the Kehley Run colliery on Saturday. It was only by accident that their perilous situation was discovered and one of them was in a critical condition when rescued. The two boys were employed in running the chestnut coal clips of the breaker. They got into the pea coal chute and were carried down and covered by from forty to fifty tons of the coal. It is said the boys had no business in the chute and by their friends it is stated they stepped upon some frozen coal, which failed to bear their weight and they were drawn down.

No one knew where the boys were until a man who was at the gate of the chute, leading a car, saw a foot protrude. The leader gave an alarm and ran to the upper office of the colliery, where Superintendent Baird and Chief Engineer H. S. Thompson, of Pottsville, were in consultation. Messrs. Baird and Thompson hastened down to the colliery. The former ordered that all the coal be run out at once and the forty odd tons went streaming upon the railroad tracks under the breaker. With one door open a little and the coal rushing out of the other, some ventilation was created in the chute.

In a very short time some men who went into the chute secured the two boys and the running of coal was stopped. Powell was wholly unconscious. Cline was partly so and was able to say, "I'm not hurt" when the men found him. The boys were taken into the lower colliery office and given stimulants. In a short time both had recovered sufficiently to walk home. One of the boys was out to work again to-day.

Credit is due the men employed about the breaker for the prompt manner in which they effected the rescue.

A SURPRISE.

C. G. Palmer is Very Suitably Honored by His Friends.

The friends of C. G. Palmer agreeably surprised him at his home on West Centre street Friday evening by presenting him with a very handsome gold-headed cane. The presentation address was made by George Holvey and in acknowledging the gift Mr. Palmer spoke very briefly and feelingly, and was so much affected that he called upon John Bunn to express his sentiments. The guests were subsequently invited to a table that was spread elaborately and ample justice was done to the good things provided by the hostess. The balance of the evening was spent very pleasantly. Games of all kinds were enjoyed, a programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered and the whole concluded with the initiation of Mr. Palmer and his friend, Mr. David Jakes, to the famous "gossip degree." Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Williams, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hammett, Mr. and Mrs. George Holvey, Mr. and Mrs. John Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davies, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Jere. Boughiey, Mr. and Mrs. James Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Jones, Wm. Penn; Mrs. Margaret D. James, Mrs. John Bittler, Mrs. J. Davies, Mrs. J. Betts, Mrs. A. Adams, Mrs. D. Evans, Mrs. Benjamin Richards, Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. H. Bowman, Mrs. T. J. James, Mrs. T. Lathlain, Mrs. James Heaton, Mrs. William Balbridge and Mrs. John Jenkins, of No. 4; Miss Hewitt, of Shamokin; Messrs. R. Patterson and E. E. Williams, and Thomas and Miss Williams.

Mine Accidents.

Thomas W. Howells, of Turkey Run, had his ankle dislocated in an accident at Gilbert colliery on Saturday.

William Harris, 18 years of age and residing on West Oak street, was injured in the West Shenandoah mines this morning. He was caught between a car and the top rock. His ribs, on the left side, were severely squeezed.

Related Sleighting Party.

A sleighting party comprising twenty-one couples left the Salvation Army hall at six o'clock Saturday evening and drove to the Catawissa valley. They drove to Slabtown, when they alighted, took supper and danced for a while. On starting for home the party took a road different to the one by which they went to the valley and struck a big snow drift. The party became demoralized and did not get home until last night.

Pointers.

Grover Cleveland is now President and the country will survive.

There won't be enough offices to go around and there will be plenty of kickers.

Postmaster General Wauamaker made a model office. May his successor be as successful in introducing reforms.

The announcement of B. B. Severn for County Commissioner struck the right chord. The young man of the county are almost a unit for him.

The Polanders are kicking and may transfer their allegiance to another party. Fair play is what they want, but have not received it yet.

Many citizens of both parties claim there is room for a new political party organization in this county and those who make the first move will get the credit.

Charles Allen, of Tamaqua, one of the present County Auditors, is feeling around for a County Commissionership. He and Ben. Severn, of town, would make a strong combination.

Senator Monaghan, whose term expires with the present Legislature, will no doubt be a candidate for re-election, providing the powers that be will permit him. The Senator has made a most efficient representative and we think he will secure another term, at least that is the opinion of many of the best men of his party.

THE LICENSURE QUESTION.

EDITOR HERALD:—The nasty stuff your Pottsville correspondent published on Saturday on the Judgeship contains only one thing that is not beneath contempt, viz: I think ought not to pass unnoted, this: the base slander it contains upon our county court when it says there was a time when it was "somewhat chary about granting liquor licenses." He must have known this was false when he wrote it. At any rate I deny the statement and challenge a scintilla of evidence to support it.

WM. POWICK.

That old established cough remedy, Down's Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a "home remedy," and in this locality needs no word of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it. It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds and all throat troubles; with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unsolicited recommendation of it speaks volumes in its favor.—Burlington, Vt., Free Press, January 20, 1892.
