THE SUPREME JUDGESHIP.

Attention is already being turned to the selection of a candidate on the Republican ticket for a Supreme Court Judgeship. Among the most prominext men thus far brought to the front is Judge Archbald, of Scranton. Should that gentleman receive the nomination and be elected be will be an honor to the Bench. He is a clean, honest and honorable man, and has long since established a reputation as a bright, thorough going and studious

THEIR RIGHT.

The Modiu Ledger, Congressman "Jask" Robinson's stalwart paper, says much has been said of latenbout the gross deprayity of office seeking and about the unusterable scorn of office seskers that pervades the mind of Mr. Cleveland. There is scarcely a little newspaper In this broad land that fails to tell us that the rush has begun already by those eager to hold public place and fittingly too, from these journals that affect a high-toned and exclusively correct standard, there is a general prediction that this invasion of the spollsmen promises to be more revoltingly vulgar and nauseous than ever before. Congressmen it is said are dazed with the number of applications pouring in upon them and with the absolute ferocity of the hungry and expectant horde awaiting the gift of position from the newly elected President. Away back from afar there comes a hungry howl that suggests to thuse superior and selfexalted journalists the bawl and yawn of a herd of half starved byenss an I causes them to shake and shudder in their dunty frames. Nobody expects anything else of course. Editors-and statesmen too-who find it beyond their chalk line to impress the world in any other way, rarely fall to fall back upon the expedient of pitying their fellow creatures not seem probable, however, that these self-righteens fells will be able to drag Mr. Cieveland into their fraternity and their attempt to do so is inexplicable. To give place to such a theory one must be steeped in the very dregs of infituation. President Cieveland certainly does not despise these office-seekers and their is nothing disgraceful in the ambition of any A perican citizen to held an office and to take part in the government of our country. Where would our free institutions be and how long would they exist if honorable and worthy men considered it their duty to forego their

President Cleveland has been in office nearly all his life. He was the High Sheriff of his county, the Mayor of a city, the Governor of a state and the President of a great Country. He has illustrated in his own career the evolution of the highest place in the political world from the humble station in plain citizenship and taught a lesson in the possibilities that float in the face of any honest lad. Is any one fool enough to believe that Mr. Cieveland held all these offices and three times received the nomination | 54th for the Presidency by a virtuous endeavor to escape them? If any man does so think, he is a fit subject for a straight jacket in a first-class

lunutic asylum. Office-seekers muy come along, They have the right to hunt place among the busy workers in the national hive. The government of the United States does not belong to any particular class and especially it does not and ought not to belong to the freaks, cranks and dudes who, in their own estimation, are a grade above their neighbors and friends but who only succeed in demonstrating to the rest of the world their own lack of maniluess, honesty and common
