RAILWAY MANAGERS EMIGREENED They Anticipate a telegratte Strike When the World's Pair Opens.

CHRISCO, March 17.-Rallway mor are learful that they are resting on a volcano. A meeting was held yesterday and the prospects for a gigantic strike discussed The officials seem inclined to think that the apparent back down was a ross on the part of the switchmen to throw the roads off their gamed, and it is thought by many that the switchmen have postponed their strike until after the fair has opened and the fleed of travel has set in.

Then, without a moments warning the men will quit work in such a way as to bring every wheel in the country to a stand-still. The men claim to have assurance from other associations of men that as soon as the men in the last the initialize that as shey see fit to take the initiative they will be supported by every trainman of every class. It is evident that much more than appears on the surface is taking place among the men. Although it has been of ficially declared that there will be no strike the conferences of the leaders of the differ ent organizations go on without the least abatement. They are conducted, however, with great secrecy.
