STATE BANKS.

"We recommend that the probibitpry ten per cent, tax on state bank issues be repealed." The sentence is a quotation from the platform of the Democratic party, adopted in national convention at Chicago in June last

We have been asted to explain why the fax was laid, and what would be the effect of a repeal of it, but it is too large a subject to be treated in one

When the Civil War began all banks in the United States were the crestures of state law, and had been so since the expiration of the charter of the Bank of the United States in 1836. All the paper money in disadation was composed of the notes-promise to pay on demand-of state hanba-

When the great stend of the govern ment arose to obtain money for war purposes, one of the devices of S dretary Chass was to compal the banks to lend money to the government by buying its bonds. Tabe he did by the help of Congress. Broks which at replied a national charter received special privileges state hanks were deprived by taxation of one large vested its whole capital in such bonds. Then it received from the government ninety per cent, of the par value of the bonds in national bank notes, and, though compelled to retala fifteen per cent, of its circulation,-twenty-five per cent, was required of the banks to large cities-it still had more than two-thirds the amount of its capital to

So a bank received six percent, on its capital invested in bonds, and twothirds as much more on its notes, making ten per cent. in all, baldes what profit it could make on deposits,

Since the right of banks to issue notes was not limited in some of the states, the state banks might have less kropp, Treaton, N. J.; Howard Himstates, the state banks might have been able to reap as large profits as the national banks if they had been left to themselves, for they could lead their mapital and as many notes as the public would take.

It was therefore necessary, in order to make the unitional system success-ful, to deprive state banks of their abil-ity to make a profit on the note issue.

For this purpose a tay of ten pay cent For this purpose a tax of ten per cent, wife survives him. a year was levied on every state banknote issued.

The rate was so much in excess of what the note itself could earn that the issue was Instantly stopped, all Wicham, will jum in building a big hotel, outstanding notes were called in, and the state banks hastened to transform of Pittsburg are said to be behind the venthemselves into national banks.

After Physicians Falled, Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured.

Great mental agony is endured by parents who see their children suffering from diseases caused by impure blood, and for which there seems no cure. This is turned to joy when Hood's Sarsaparilla is resorted to, for it expels the foul humors from the blood, and restores the diseased skin to fresh, healthy brightness. Read the following from grateful parents: "To C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mannet

TWICE TOLD TALES!

Are sometimes a bore, but when the people are told twice that at Gallagher's Cheap Cash Store they can buy Flour and Tea at lower rates than anywhere in town they are glad to test the truth of the oft repeated story. He also keeps on hand full line of Groceries, Fresh Butter and Eggs, Potatoes, Green Truck, Hay and Straw.
