NEW LICENSE QUESTION.

THE SUPREME COURT HAS BEEN APPEALED TO.

THE VALUE OF A SALOON LICENSE

There is the Hitch—Creditors Say That if It Has Any They Are Entitled to Receive the Benefit of It

THE first case involving a saloon license to go to the Supreme Court from this section of the state was taken there yesterday by J. H. Pomeroy, Esq., of town. The question involved is a most important one and the result will be awaited with no little anxiety on all sides. It is a test case to determine the amount of equity the creditors have, if any, in a saloonkeeper's license.

Mrs. Breen sold out her tenancy property to make good the rent he owed her and after the sale she asked the court to transfer the saloon license of the place to her name. The tenant's creditors objected to the transfer on the specific ground that the tenant's consent to the transfer had not been secured, but the real object was to have the court pass upon the question as to whether or not such creditors should not receive something on account of their claims. They maintained that the license must be worth something, or Mrs. Breen would not apply for the transfer, and if it had a value the creditors should receive the benefit of it.

Counsel for Mrs. Breen argued that to uphold the theory of the creditors would be a ruling placing landlords at the mercy of tenants. If the consent of the tenant to a transfer of a license should be declared absolutely essential the tenant would be in a position to hold a club over the head of the landlord, and should the tenant be dispossessed he could make the property valueless for hotel purposes.

The court at Pottsville this week decided that Mrs. Breen should receive the license and yesterday Mr. Pomeroy went to Philadelphia and asked the Supreme Court to grant a rule ordering all records of the case at Pottsville to be prepared and forwarded for an appeal. The question is a new one and the case is made more interesting by the fact that the lawyers on both sides declare that they will win.

THE BARS DOWN.

Five Hundred Sick Emigrants Arrived at Halifax Yesterday.

Another warning to the people of this country to give prompt attention to the sanitary condition of their homes and towns was flashed over the telegraphic wires last night.

During the present week and last week thousands of emigrants have landed at the various ports on this side of the Atlantic and they are coming in by the hundreds every day. As a consequence all the medical journals and prominent medical men have renewed a discussion of methods for preventing the spread of disease which is likely to be brought to this side by the large and promiscuous influx.

The information flashed over the wires last night was most significant. A ship has arrived at Halifax, N. S., and five hundred of its load of emigrants were found suffering from a disease which is to the physicians of a mysterious character at present. The physicians say they will require several days before making a definite announcement in the matter. The new arrivals will be kept under close observation for that purpose.

Whatever the nature of the disease may be, the affair is sufficient to satisfy the people that the Herald is justified in keeping before them the injunction to lose no time in putting the town in the best sanitary condition possible, so that we may be prepared to meet an emergency, whether it be an epidemic of cholera, or mild attack of measles.

The people cannot depend entirely upon the national or state quarantine and health laws and the vigilance of the officers who are expected to enforce them. Unless there is activity on the part of the authorities and people in the interior we must certainly look for the worst, for escapes through the ports have been in spite of the greatest vigilance.

If the worth of anything is proven by results then surely Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is prominently the best cough syrup now extant.

THIS IS A BIG SURPRISE

CHANGE IN THE "HERALD'S" TEACHERS' CONTEST.

Miss Agnes Stein Forges Ahead of Miss Baird and Takes First Place, But the Lead is Light—Miss Wasley Holds on to Third Place.

Agnes Stein	32337
Nellie Baird	32333
Mame H. Wasley	30126
Mahala Fairchild	29111
Mary A. Connelly	28903
Frank B. Williams	27999
Carrie Faust	27576
Anna M. Denigler	27577
Bridget A. Burns	27532
Mary A. Lafferty	27522
Carrie M. Smith	17180
Lillie B. Phillips	16908
Mary A. Stack	15608
Hattie Hess	1317
James R. Lewis	815
Ellis Clauser	679
Hannah Reese	612
Maggie Cavannah	528
Annie Mansell	488
Clara Cline	447
Irene Shaze	346
Maile Daniell	320
Jennie Ramage	221
Lizzie Lebe	181
Lizzie O'Connell	166
Votes polled yesterday	2269
Grand total	141420

The counting of coupons in the Herald's popular teachers' contest yesterday afternoon made a surprise for those who have been taking an interest in the affair. Only one position was changed, but it was the most important since Miss Baird made a rapid advance from the bottom to the top of the list during the beginning of the contest.

Yesterday Miss Stein polled over 1,300 votes and took first place from Miss Baird, who held the position for several weeks past with a good lead.

The announcement of this change will be a surprise because there has been almost a general expression of belief that Miss Baird having once secured the lead would be able to hold it to the end, but again the public has more evidence that nothing is certain in this world by finding Miss Stein at the top of the list.

Miss Mahala Fairchild, who by Tuesday's count took fourth place from Miss Connelly, has increased her lead over the latter and is making rapid strides towards the 10,000 mark. It is safe to say that the two recent changes will lead to some lively competition within a few days.

TOOK A TUMBLE.

A man tried to jump on an electric car that was going up Main street at pretty good speed yesterday afternoon and was thrown violently to the ground. Several people who saw the accident shouted in dismay, as they feared the man was under the car. Such was not the case, however. The victim arose and got on the car, which had been promptly stopped. He got away before his name could be learned. He only sustained a few slight bruises.

POT-POURRI OF NEWS.

A MIXTURE OF BRIEF BUT INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

GLEANINGS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

The Cream of What the Reporters Hear and See in all Sections of the Region Nicely Grouped.

THE Ashland Base Ball Association has been organized with the following officers: President, Louis C. Voilage; Vice President, W. H. Ballou; Treasurer, E. C. Walter; Secretary, E. J. Sallada.

Manager, Harry C. Harper; Assistant Manager, Joseph B. Garter; Captain, William R. Landefeld, Jr.; Director, Dr. D. S. Marshall, John H. Rowe, William H. Heston, Capt. J. F. Bailey and R. J. Williams. All the people interested in the organization are representative citizens of Ashland and two of them are closely identified with the interests of the Schuylkill Traction Company. The association has good financial backing and the members propose to induce Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Tamaqua, Mt. Carmel and Shamokin to follow their example and help establish an Anthracite League of at least six clubs. Jack Hill will be signed for the Ashland club.

Eggs for Easter.

The grocers are buying up all the eggs the farmers and dealers can sell them and from the appearance of the harvest already gleaned it is fair to presume that the crop of billions after Easter will be a large one, although the prices will have to drop lower than they are at present if the merchants intend to make quick sales. Next year probably the prices will be down to a figure that will give general satisfaction, that is if the schemes of a Philadelphia man will hold water. He says he can manufacture an egg that cannot be distinguished from the genuine; that they will be nutritious and look exactly like hen's eggs. The shell is composed of paper mache. The patentee is a Mr. Gross and he says the eggs will sell by the car load at eight cents per dozen. This looks very well on paper, but the people are not going into ecstasy over the announcement until they learn something more about Mr. Gross' paper mache hen fruit. They may grace a piece of fried ham to perfection, or wobble temptingly on a piece of toast, or may dump into an emulet as a duck does into water, but all this will not cause the people to consider them such as not to be distinguished from the genuine. How would those eggs work under a hen? And if they would not meet that demand what would the people do around Thanksgiving and Christmas time if the roosters and chickens formed a union and went on strike against the cheap manufactured article? When it becomes a question of genuineness the roosters and chickens rule the roost.

Demand for Veal.

The butchers of town say there is an extraordinary demand for a supply of veal for Easter Sunday. The demands from Polish and Lithuanian people are especially numerous and all the cattle dealers and farmers are appealed to for calves. The competition is so brisk that butchers drive up the mountain before daylight to intercept the farmers as they drive over from the valley in the morning and offer them prices for calves before they can get down into the town and hear the offers of other butchers. This competition has made the earnings of some farmers big this spring and has naturally run the prices of veal up to a high notch.

No Smoking.

The Schuylkill Traction Company has issued orders prohibiting smoking on any of its motor cars. The order does not effect the trail cars, which will soon be run on the lines of the company. The order will not please many who have enjoyed a smoke while riding down the valley in the summer evenings, but the female patrons have been so much annoyed by the reckless puffing of smoke the company has found it necessary to put on the restriction.

Hurst in Luck.

"Tom" Hurst, the well known Ashland sport, will figure prominently in connection with the games of the National League base ball clubs during the coming summer. He has been appointed an official umpire. Mr. Hurst has also been selected to umpire the series of games between the Hartford, Yale and University of Pennsylvania teams and umpired the first game at Philadelphia today.

Removal.

April 1st, next, S. L. Brown will remove his boot and shoe store into the room now occupied by Sed. No. 25 S. Main street, where he will continue to sell boots and shoes at the lowest prices. J. S. Williams, formerly with A. B. Lamb & Co., will have charge of the repair department. 3-27-1w

Christian Endeavor Reunion.

The Executive Committee of the county union of Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, which met at Pottsville on Saturday, decided to hold the next reunion at Tamaqua on May 12th and 13th. This will be the largest convention of the kind ever held in the county.

ORGANIZE THOROUGHLY.

A Base Ball Enthusiast Appeals for an Organization.

The base ball season is now dawdling upon us in all its brilliancy and forshadows every evidence for a successful season. The numerous advantages our town possesses in regard to its base ball facilities, opens a secure way for a good, safe and profitable investment. There is a man in it for the man who is willing to undertake the project of leasing the park, managing the team and meriting a few spare moments together with a few spare dollars to launch this movement on the springs of action.

Last season the team worked to perfection under the able management of Mike Hoffron. It played very satisfactory ball and wound up the season with a week's tour through the counties of Northumberland and Columbia, leaving a creditable balance to be shared among the players, which seems most gratifying. Heretofore the organization of the team has been neglected until the latter part of the season. But this year the club proposes making an earlier start on a business-like plan, so as to favorably represent its ability among other teams on the green diamond.

The untried harmony and intense good feeling now existing between the players affords a very easy opportunity to organize thoroughly. The only incentive now wanting is a skilled man to accept the management. This done, and the team will do the rest. W. J. S.

Shenandoah, March 29, 1903.

Only Too True.

The remark made yesterday by an out-of-town editor that Shenandoah has very dirty and disease breeding streets and alleys is but too true and it ought to cause the borough authorities to better themselves and put the town in such a condition as they would have outsiders see it. This will of course require the expenditure of considerable money, but as it must be done, for our own protection, the question of expense should not delay the work. Some will say Mahanoy City and other towns are as dirty as those in Shenandoah, but that will not serve as a barrier against an epidemic. A clean town and perfect sanitary rules will alone be of use should the crisis come and it will not do to wait until the eleventh hour. An epidemic such as cholera or small pox in this town with its dirty streets and alleys, overflowing cesspools and imperfect drainage would play havoc within a few hours and therefore it is a duty which each citizen owes to himself and his family to co-operate with and aid the borough authorities to clean up the town as soon as possible. Some time ago the Herald suggested that it would be a good idea for the borough to build a furnace of some kind near the outskirts of town in which to incinerate all the garbage and other waste matter gathered up in the town and the idea is still considered an excellent one.

The Counting Fair.

For over 20 years substantial relief has been furnished the widows and orphans of men who were killed in the army, or died since their return from the wars, and indigent veterans from the widows' and orphans' fund of the Grand Army of the Republic of town, and the amount expended in the aggregate has been very large. To the kind-hearted citizens of town much of the credit is due, and now that the fund is at low ebb they will not be backward in furnishing further help. To do this without exacting too much from a few individuals a grand fair and festival will be held by the Post, commencing April 19th, in Robbins' opera house, to which all can give something by patronizing the same.

Putting Up Guards.

Supervisor D. H. Liewellyn has had a gang of men at work the past few days putting up fences at the south ends of Jardin and West streets to guard against the possibility of teams going over the embankments at those points. The fences are of a substantial character. Holes are being drilled in rock for the posts and "T" rails are being used for the guards.

Post Office Notice.

To-morrow, Good Friday, the post office will be open until 12 o'clock, noon. Carriers will make the 7 and 10 o'clock a. m. deliveries and collections. Brownsville, Yatesville, Ellengowan and Turkey Run will be served with 7 a. m. delivery. Money orders and postal notes will not be issued or paid.
