THIS IS HOME INDUSTRY.

ROBBINS & HOUSENICK'S SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE.

A STOCK COMPANY TAKES HOLD.

The Old Plant is Backed by Increased Capital and Will be Greatly Enlarged—The Incorporators and Officers.

For some reason the collieries in and about this borough were to cease operations and remain idle for a number of months how would the many poor families in our midst subsist? This is an old question, but is just as weighty as it was when first propounded. Some people have answered and the HERALD has voiced their sentiments—the people would starve unless they could seek employment elsewhere, or the town had industries independent of the coal mines upon which they could rely for at least some revenue. But others have ridiculed the idea of establishing industries here and more than once have they ridiculed the HERALD for upholding and urging it.

This is a picture of the past. Now for the present. Yesterday J. E. Coyle, Esq., called at the HERALD office and caused the publication of a notice to the effect that on April 25th, next, an application will be made for a charter for the incorporation of the "Shenandoah Manufacturing Company," the character and object of which is the manufacture of hats, caps and clothing.

The application is the result of a combination which has absorbed the plant and interests of the firm of Robbins & Housenick, which has been conducting a hat and cap manufacturing business on North Bowers street for the past two years and a half.

The new company is a stock organization with a capital of $25,000 and has the following incorporators and officers: President, H. W. Titman; Vice President, J. M. Robbins; Treasurer, P. J. Gaghan; Secretary and Superintendent, J. S. Housenick; Assistant Superintendent, L. J. Wilkinson. Messrs. J. M. Robbins and J. S. Housenick constituted the old firm. When interviewed by a reporter yesterday Superintendent Housenick said the incorporation of the new company will be able to compete with the large producers in various sections of the state and give this town an industry from which a number of people may secure employment and revenue; and, of course, the incorporators intend to make money for themselves.

When Robbins & Housenick started business on Bowers street two years and a half ago they had four machines in operation and the employes of the plant, all told, were half a dozen. To-day the plant has fifty machines and an equal number of operative working full time, and when the new company is chartered and ready for business it will begin making preparations to greatly increase the quarters, equipment and number of operatives, and with that accomplished the credulous people will probably be convinced that Shenandoah encourages home industry after all.

The business is so prosperous at present that four traveling salesmen are kept on the road constantly, in addition to special representatives in the south and west. Mr. W. J. Sineock will continue as one of the salesmen under the new company.

If the worth of anything is proven by results seen surely Dr. Hild's cough syrup is prominently the best cough syrup now extant.

Holderman's jewelry store stands, as ever.

As was expected the announcement that Miss Stein had shown the lead in the HERALD's popular school teachers' contest created much surprise. The competition between that lady and Miss Baird and Wasley has been a most spirited character for several weeks past and when either of the ladies have advanced the interest has been renewed to such an extent that the friends of the one passed have generally hurried to the rescue with several hundred ballots. If this should be the case as a result of Miss Stein's advance above Miss Baird the public will be treated to an exceedingly lively contest, judging from the past.

The Cream of What the Reporters

Hear and See in all Sections of the Region Nicely Grouped.

More Removals.

The singular sight of a burning locomotive was witnessed by the residents in the vicinity of the east end of Coal street at an early hour this morning. The engine is the one which is on the night and early morning run between this town and Mahanoy Place, on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and it narrowly escaped destruction.

This train comes to town at 10:32 o'clock every night and remains on the side track near the Emerick street crossing until 2:04

a. m. when the first trip is made to Mahanoy

Place. At about five minutes of one this morning the engineer and fireman, who had stepped into one of the cars, saw an unusual blaze in the engine's cab. They hurried out with the rest of the crew and found that fire had secured a good hold on the woodwork of the "iron horse." Buckets were secured and a neighboring hydrant helped the engine's hose in supplying the water. The fire was a stationary one and fearing that the crew would not be able to cope with it Thomas

O'Connell, a resident of Coal street, sounded the fire alarm; but the work of the firemen was so effective that the services of the fire department were unnecessary and the company was stopped before they reached the scene. The cab was pretty badly burned, but the engine was in condition to make the regular run to Mahanoy Place. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed that it started in a piece of cotton waste.

REMOVAL NOTICES.

Changes Being Made by Some of our Business Men.

[Notices under this head will be inserted free of charge and will be subject to the regular rates for a continuance.]

George Schoener has disposed of his oyster bay on West Centre street and has become manager of Schoener's saloon, in the recently leased building on North Main street, just below Lloyd. A handsome antique oak bar, eighteen feet long with marble columns at the sides of the mirrors, was put in the place yesterday.

William Fricke will move his notion business from 9 to 11 North Jardin street next week. The latter place is now being made into a storeroom and Mr. Fricke will change the place he has about to leave into a residence for his family.

Kuller, who had a crossemery on West Coal street, has disposed of the business and becomes proprietor of the oyster bay on West Centre street which Schoener quit for the saloon business.

The United States Express Company has taken possession of the quarters in the Lehigh Valley depot recently vacated by the Adams company, which now has its office next door to the First National Bank.

A Good Deal.

Mrs. Mary Dougherty, of West Centre street, recently made what many think was a very good real estate deal. She sold her property on Centre street, between West and Chestnut, for $7,500 and at once purchased a portion of the Delaney property at the corner of Centre and Jardin streets for $5,000. The latter property has a frontage of thirty feet on Jardin street and seventy five on Centre. The buildings on it are not considered worth much, but the site is a most excellent one and quite close to the central point of the town. Mrs. Dougherty intends to expend considerable money in improvements this spring, and in that case the property will become one of the best in the town.

Removal.

April 1st, next, S. L. Brown will remove his boot and shoe store into the room now occupied by Sed, No. 25 S. Main street, where he will continue to sell boots and shoes at the lowest prices. J. S. Williams, formerly with A. B. Lamb & Co., will have charge of the repair department. 3-27-11

Died at the Hospital.

Harry Kupka, a Pole, died at the Miners'

Hospital on Wednesday night and the remains were brought to this town yesterday afternoon. Kupka had his skull fractured by a fall of coal in the Suffolk colliery last Saturday.

Caught in Rollers.

Louis Shille, of town, had one of his arms badly cut and bruised this morning by having it caught in the rollers at the Gilberton colliery.

The ragged edge of despair has all disapp-earingly since so many lovers have got to using Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca.

It is so nice for a tickling cough.

A DEMOCRATIC "SLATE."

Shenandoah Doesn't Propose to be Left the Next Time.

Although several months must pass before the county political conventions will be held "slate" making is already under way and if the Democrats of this town do half when the proper time comes that they declare now the county convention of their party will outlast any circus ever covered by a tent.

There has been unusual activity in town, but those who have had occasion to pass through the streets at the "eve sera" hours of the morning are the only ones outside the active ones that know it.
