YESTERDAY WAS EASTER

PLACES OF WORSHIP FILLED MORNING AND EVENING.

HISTORICAL FACTS OF THE DAY

How it Was Observed in Local Churches—Special Services Held in the Trinity Reformed Church.

CHRIST'S resurrection was the theme of all the Christian churches yesterday and all the services of the town were devoted to commemorative festivals of the occasion—Easter.

All the churches were specially decorated with beautiful spring flowers and plants for the occasion and the services were of a most impressive character. To some who may have forgotten some of their early teachings, or have had a dim recollection of them, a few historical and religious facts may be interesting. Some of these facts are really not generally known, and while many may know the approach of Easter and know it is an occasion of special religious festivities, they are ignorant of the true import of the occasion. As one clergyman remarked yesterday, there are many who look upon Easter day as solely the opening day for spring styles.

The name Easter is probably derived from the Teutonic goddess of spring, Ostera, or Oestre, whose festival occurs about the same time as the observance of Easter. It was not until the fourth century that there was any regularity about fixing the date of Easter Sunday. Those of the early Christians who believed the Christian Passover to be a commemoration of Christ's death adhered to the custom of holding the Easter festival on the day prescribed for the Jewish passover, the fourteenth day of the first month; that is, the 14th day of the month, or the fourteenth day either falls on or next after the day of the vernal equinox.

But most of the Christian churches attach greater importance to the day of Christ's resurrection, held to Easter being celebrated on the Sunday which followed the fourteenth day of the month of March; the day on which Christ suffered. This difference was finally settled by the Council of Nice in the year 325. The rule then adopted is still in force. Easter is always the Sunday after the full moon which happens on or next after March 21—the vernal equinox. By this arrangement, Easter may come as early as March 22, or as late as April 25.

However, yesterday was the recognized Easter Sunday and the Christian churches recognized it as such, among them the Trinity Reformed church on West Lloyd street the pulpit of which was decorated with many beautiful plants and flowers among them some handsome lilies. The attendance was large. Rev. O'Boyle, the pastor, preached a brief but exceedingly interesting sermon on the commemoration of the resurrection of Christ, taking his text from Matt. XVIII: 6—"He is not here; for He is risen, as He said." After the sermon Rev. O'Boyle administered the sacrament in Holy Communion to the congregation, and the catechumens and new members, numbering over thirty. The number of communicants during the morning and evening services was the largest in the history of the church and the Easter offering of the congregation was also very large. It will be devoted to home missions. Another interesting note is that the catechetical class presented Rev. O'Boyle last evening with a purse of $50.

St. John's German Lutheran church, on West Cherry street, was also the scene of a very interesting and impressive Easter ceremonies yesterday morning and last evening. The altar and pulpit were loaded down with beautiful floral offerings, which threw out a delicious fragrance. The morning services were especially impressive. Rev. John Grubler preached an excellent sermon on a text from Mark XVI, 1, 8. The delivery was in German. The choir, under the conductorship of Prof. Zelta, with Miss Carrie Heitman as organist, rendered some soul inspiring music. The rendition of Prof. Wemberger's "Jauchet Gott in allen Landen" was certainly grand; and while the collection was being taken up the new and special Easter hymn "Freude und Wonne" was most effectively rendered. Communion was administered to about 150 people.

In the Methodist Episcopal church there were also special Easter services and the altar was filled with natural plants and flowers. Rev. William Powick, the pastor, preached in the morning and evening. His first text was on the resurrection. The choir of this church also gave some renditions of Easter hymns.

The Easter services in All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church, on East Oak street, were conducted by Mr. Charles Haskins. There were full choral services and the flowers were beautiful. The Easter offering from mite chests by the Sunday school amounted to $36.52.

The Kozinski and Warsaw Guards formed the Easter guard at the Polish Roman Catholic church on North Jardin street, Saturday night, and remained there until yesterday morning.

| Grand total..... | 14574 |

The polling of votes in the HERALD's popular public school teachers' contest was a little lighter than usual and consequently the grand total did not run up to the figure anticipated. But the votes polled were sufficient to warrant the prediction that with even a very light poll today the grand total will run up to 150,000, or more. There were no changes in the positions of any of the teachers.

The Play To-night.

J. L. Tempest and his company will open a three-night engagement at Ferguson's theatre to-night by producing the entirely new Irish play with special scenery, "The Plucking of a Rose." The original "Honest Rube" company will fill the cast for this and the two other productions of this engagement and the public may rest assured that entire satisfaction will be given. On Tuesday night "Joe" will be produced and "Honest Rube" will follow on Wednesday evening. The plays will be effectively presented. Several horses and thousands of feet of scenery will be used in the latter. The prices have been fixed at popular rates, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Monument Notes.

The subscriptions to the monument fund are increasing in number.

Every citizen in town should take pride in the undertaking and give something towards the monument.

It will be a big day for Shenandoah when the monument is unveiled. It is the intention to have the President, Governors of several states and leading Grand Army men of the country present. At least 20,000 strangers will visit the town.

The business men of the town should be among the best supporters of the monument project.

SOME LIVELY SCENES.

WIND UP OF THE LENTEN SEASON.

JUSTICES EXPECT PLENTY MORE.

A Number of Warrants Already Issued and Many More to Follow—A Riot on West Lloyd Street.

ATURDAY was a busy day and a lively day it was, too, especially towards evening, but the lively one kept somewhat within bounds and no arrests were necessary.

But yesterday was the day. Drunks and fights were innumerable and for the next few nights the justices will be kept busy trying and disposing of the cases which will grow out of the occurrence.

Squire Monaghan will have a number of cases on hand to-night. He had three petty assault and battery cases yesterday.

All the parties interested are of the foreign element who indulged in rather excessive jollifications on account of the expiration of the Lenten season.

There was a desperate fight at the west end of Lloyd street yesterday. A large crowd of intoxicated men took hand in it and fought bitterly that they beat each other with shovels and iron bars. Some of the combatants were pretty badly cut about the head, but no arrests were made. They will probably develop to-night. No cause for the trouble could be learned.

There was some excitement in the vicinity of Canal and Kunrick streets yesterday. It was caused by boys provoking some Hungarians who were playing a game of quoits. One of the Hungarians struck a boy so hard on the side of his head that he caused the ear to bleed. This was followed by one of the boys picking up a piece of rock and striking one of the Hungarians on the left jaw that it caused a terrible open wound and knocked the fellow almost senseless. The Hungarians then gave chase with weapons of all sorts in their hands, but the boys succeeded in escaping to Line street in safety and hiding in basements. It is understood that suits and counter suits will result from this.

THE WORK BEGUN.

Advantages of Street Paving With Stone Demonstrated.

The first piece in the work of paving Main street with Belgian block was driven into the ground early this morning at the Cherry street crossing. William Gibson, who is superintending the work for the Grand Erie contractors, started in with twenty men and two carts and horses. This force will very likely be doubled to-morrow morning.

It is intended to cut the street down to grade and run feet below the level of electric railway rails. Work will be confined to one side of the street until it is paved and ready for use. The east side was started on this morning. The contract is to be completed by the middle of May. The paving blocks have not arrived, but will be here when the street is ready to be laid.

The contractors do not wish to bring them until they can be used. This will save the time and expense of handling them to put them in piles on the street while awaiting use, and the pavers will not arrive until the street is ready for the blocks.

A terrible loss of life occurs every year from neglected coughs. Many valuable lives are saved every year by the prompt use of Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca.

The Coming Fair.

The ladies who are assisting in getting up the fair and festival for the benefit of the G. A. B. Widows' and Orphans' fund are very busy in the laudable undertaking and are very enthusiastic in their opinions of the result. It was the ladies of this Republic who exerted so much influence in the Union army during the rebellion and they have always been in the front ranks in all undertakings for the benefit of mankind. Let the efforts of these ladies in this town be encouraged by good patronage of the fair and festival to be held in Robbins' opera house commencing April 19th.

Also, on Tuesday evening, at the same place, in the post office building, he will sell his furniture, carpets and a good sewing machine. Don't miss these opportunities if you want furniture.

Don't forget that this is your last opportunity to secure bargains at auction. 4 6 Ct. PHILIP COFFEE, Adm.

Ball To-night.

The hall of the Columbia Glee Club takes place to-night in Robbins' opera house. Schopp's celebrated orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

"Pill of Trouble" is the unhappy sufferer with pains and rheumatism. Red Flag Oil is the famous cure for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia and Lumbago. Costs 25 cents. Red Flag Oil is sold at P. P. D. Kirlin's drug store.

OBSE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

Constable Dando got hold of a queer case the other day. He was first called upon by a Hungarian woman to arrest her husband for assault and battery and the accused was put under bail. The same night the constable was called upon by the husband, who had two swollen and black and blue eyes. The man stated that his wife had beaten him and disappeared with two hundred dollars of his money. The woman was found and put under bail, but the constable couldn't get any trace of the money.

A. H. Tiley has tendered his resignation as editor of the Ashland Telegram to become Chief of Police under the Schuylkill Traction Company. Tiley should make a good officer, as he has been a "steady" in capturing the fleeing loafs.

The eight days celebration of the feast of Passover, or the Passover, by the orthodox Jewish people throughout the world commenced at sunset on Friday evening last. The Jews who have accepted the reform ritual among them a large number of the Jews in America, continue the celebration only seven days, the first and last days of that period being alone regarded as of special significance, and celebrated as holy days. The festival was instituted to commemorate the deliverance of the children of Israel, under the leadership of Moses, from their long years of slavery in Egypt, and on the first night of the festival a special and peculiar service, known as the Seder, is celebrated in Jewish households, during which the history of the exodus of the Israelites from the land of Egypt and their passage through the Red Sea is recited by the head of the family. Bread and all leavened food are banished from the households of the pious Jews, and their place is taken by the Matzo, or unleavened cakes, which are eaten in commemoration of the unleavened bread carried by the ancient Jews in their hurried departure.

Here is another moral for reflection in connection with the hosiery industry. The Palmer shoe factory at Orwelling has been enlarged and now has a producing capacity of ten cases of shoes per day, yet Orwelling is noted as "only a farmer's town."

A Washington dispatch under date of April 1st announced: "The Columbian stamped envelopes were yesterday placed on sale for the first time. The principal feature of the design of the stamp impression is a spread eagle, the denominations corresponding in color to those of the adhesive stamp." The dispatch is a foiler. T. J. Mallady received 500 Columbian stamped envelopes from the Shenandoah post office ten days ago, although the lot was the first received and is the only one in town. The envelopes were sold out at other places several weeks ago.

The Mahanoy City Tribune says it may not be particularly gratifying to the people of Shenandoah to know that with the opening of the Traction Company's line through to Locust Hill, the main line will run from Mahanoy City to that point, with Gradyville as the junction, and that Mahanoy City merchants will be greatly benefited because the distance from that point to Locust Dale is only 14 or 15 miles in a direct line. We cannot say that this news is such as to cause us anxiety. It cannot hurt Shenandoah. The new line cannot take from our division the large patronage it now has. Nor will the Mahanoy City and Locust Dale line hurt us after the Shenandoah and St. Nicholas branch is opened. We are not in a position to kick and have no desire to do so, but we do expect to see some high kicking from our neighbors before the latter branch is finished.

Some people seem to have been born in a hurry and have but a very slight idea of the great machinery that is handled in the management of this government. A man stood on one of the street corners Saturday night and thought Cleveland was wasting too much time with foreign offices. "He ought attend to America first," said the longer, "and after he gets all the post offices filled he will have enough time to make the appointments in England and the other places." This man is evidently suffering from a severe attack of "turn the screws out."

A Business Change.

Teacher Robbins, the extensive contractor and merchant, will remove his family to Chicago this week and live private. His lumber and feed departments on North Centre street, have passed over to his son, Ralph, and Elmer Hall, his brother-in-law, and the new firm will do business at Robbins & Ball. Both are experienced young men, fully capable of keeping up the business to its high standard where Mr. Robbins left it.—Misses' Journal.
