FOREST LEGISLATION.
We have on a number of occasions directed special attention to the subject of forestry, especially in its application of the State of Pennsylvania and the vital need of such legislation as will to some extent, at least, prevent the almost indiscriminate destruction of what still remains of the forest covered state.

New Castle, April 10.—Robert A. Henderson died at his home on South Mill street in this city, aged 57 years. His family believe that he is a victim of the homicidal poisoning. Henderson went to Philadelphia in July last year during the strike. He was at work in the Carnegie mill, and in August he became sick, having all the symptoms as described by others who have since died. He came home to New Castle in August, and ever since had been complaining. Saturday morning he went to sleep and could not be aroused, death ensuing while he was unconscious. Henderson leaves a wife and three children.

THE PRESIDENT AT WILMINGTON.
He Spends a Quiet Day at the Residence of Ambassador Bayard.

Wilmington, Del., April 10.—President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham and Governor White spent a very quiet day yesterday at Mr. Bayard's home, Delaware Place and Ave for a stroll yesterday morning around the grounds surrounding the comfortable old mansion, they remained indoors until 3:05 o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour they finished their luncheon and the family party all of which was brought to the front door. Then Mr. Bayard and Secretary Gresham took the driver's seat and the former held the reins over the two chestnut bays with docked tails. President Cleveland and Senator White sat on the seats behind and faced each other. The seats ran beneath the carriage, which was accommodated six in addition to those on the driver's seat.

Mr. Bayard at once touched the horses with the whip, and the party started in a westerly direction for a drive. As they started Mr. Gresham turned his head, took a chair from his mouth and resumed a story which he had evidently been telling at the luncheon table. He began by saying: "I was just going to tell you about that other."

The president was smiling and the entire party seemed to be in the best of humor. Several of the men who had been waiting around the house to catch a glimpse of the party lifted their hats and the salute was returned by the president.

As the party left the house Mr. Bayard was again asked whether there was any significance attached to the visit. He replied that there was not and that the president had merely come here for a day's rest, which they were getting. The drive around about the romantic Brandywine and back through the city. At Ninth and Market streets the ambassador to England pointed out his law office and the old Bayard mansion, and on one occasion beyond Ninth and High streets the party viewed the federal building, which is in course of erection.

The drive lasted just an hour and a half and at 6 o'clock the party took dinner. Last evening was spent in Mr. Bayard's company. There were no callers during the day and no one was invited by Mr. Bayard to meet the president.

The president was seen to returned to Washington this morning, occupying Vice President Thompson's private car.

CLEVELAND TO TOUCH THE BUTTON
And Start the World's Fair Machinery in Motion on May 1.

Cincinnati, April 10.—President Cleveland will touch the World's Fair on May 1 in the presence of from 100,000 to 150,000 people. The plan to have the opening exercises in the small hall has been abandoned and the ceremonies will be held at the main building in front of the administration building. There is considerable objection to the making of so large a crowd in one portion of the grounds to witness the ceremonies, as it was feared that it might ruin the lawns and flower gardens, but these were overcome by those who favored an open air program.

A substantial platform will be built just in front of the administration building. This will be covered with machinery. It is so that President Cleveland will only have to step to the speakers table to touch the button. The new plan furnishes many opportunities for picturesque effects. It is proposed to mass all the electric launches, gondolas and other water crafts in the basin in front of the administration building.

Thousands of spectators can get a fine view of the platform from the water.

He Said He Cut to Kill.
Vineland, N. J., April 10.—Joseph Gallo, an Italian, while trying to eject Eliott Pitts from his speakeasy on Sixth street, was stabbed twice in the back by Pitts, who inflicted three deep gashes with a poniard. Gallo's physician says he will die.

Pitts has been arrested and will be given a hearing. He told the officers when they arrested him that he had cut to kill. Pitts is employed in the street department as a carrier and was drunk when he did the stabbing.

Crushed to Death by a Falling Wall.
Petersburg, Va., April 10.—William Coleman, of Swift Creek, was killed by the falling wall of the building on Swanmore street, which was gutted by fire.

HE WAS NOT DEAD NOR SLEEPING.
Michael Welch Returns Home After an Absence of Twenty Years.

New Bedford, Mass., April 10.—Michael Welch, 30 years old, appeared at his mother's house Saturday after having been missing for twenty years and been given up for dead.

Welch, about twenty years ago, shipped on a vessel bound from Boston to Melbourne. After the ship had been out a few days the mate was murdered by a Spaniard, Welch, who had the wheel at the time, ran to the assistance of the mate and, being found so near the murdered man, was placed under arrest with the Spaniard.

Upon arrival at Melbourne the Spaniard was tried, convicted and hanged. Despite the protestations of innocence made by Welch, who explained how he came to be near the mate, he was adjudged guilty of participation in the crime and sentenced to fifteen years in the Alcatraz prison.

After serving seventeen years of his sentence Welch was released, and from his earnings he saved sufficient money to secure a passage for Liverpool, England, from which port he proceeded to New York.
