Have no Equat.
Alcock's Porous Plasters have attained a world-wide reputation solely upon their superlative merits. They have many would-be rivals but have never been equalled or even approached in curative properties and rapidity and safety of action. Their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities as well as by unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and they are recommended as the best external remedy for weak back, rheumatism, sciatica, colds, coughs, sore throat, chest and stomach affections, kidney difficulties, weak muscles, strains, stitches, and aches and pains of every description.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

And So It Goes!

When Sewing Machines are mentioned the name of the SPANDARD rises instinctively to the lips. Why? Because it will sew as much in four hours as others do in five. Because it is a labor-saver, and makes less noise than any machine on the market. Pay no attention to the disparaging talk of our competitors, as that only proves that it is their most dangerous rival. Call and see it for yourself.

SAMUEL GARRETT,
Ex-County Commissioner, Dies Suddenly Near Philadelphia.

Samuel Garrett, a well-known Schuylkill countian, who has been a resident of Wissahickon, near Philadelphia, for a number of years, died suddenly of heart failure last night at his home.

Mr. Garrett was a native of Orwigsburg, and was a tailor by trade. He followed this business prior to his removal to Pottsville forty years ago, and successfully plied the tailoring trade at that place for several years when he removed to a farm near Orwigsburg. He returned to Pottsville a few years later and took charge of the North Western Hotel as proprietor. Not long after this Mr. Garrett leased the Exchange Hotel, and was its proprietor for a number of years.

In 1879 he was elected County Commissioner on the Greenback ticket, and shortly after he retired from the office he removed to Philadelphia, where he took possession of the Montgomery House, at Sixth and Willow streets. He retired to private life about two years ago and occupied a country home on the Wissahickon at the time of his death. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett celebrated their golden wedding last winter. He was the father of Samuel J. Garrett, the well-known lawyer, now a resident of Los Angeles, California. Mr. Garrett was about 70 years old and was a prominent politician in his day.

Grand Display of FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changeable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

.....In Wraps We find the most stylish and the prevailing mode to be the Cape, in some of its variations, single, double or triple capes. Some are plain, others very highly decorated, with fancy indolent braid, butterfly colors, or some full arrangement at the neck, so much approved this season by the feminine fancy. To some, coats only are the correct garment. To those we would say coats are equally fashionable and stylish, many of these having capes also attached—sometimes one, two or three, as the taste or inclination of the wearer may desire.

We find this season, for the first time, added a Millinery Department, and have spared neither trouble nor expense to make it a success. The result exceeds our most sanguine expectations. This department will be under the same management and conducted on the same principles that have always characterized our entire business. We shall keep everything in trimmed and untrimmed hats, novelties of every description. Having secured a trimmer noted for her artistic and skillful work, we are enabled to suit all tastes. We invite a careful inspection of our entire store. All welcome.
