THIRD EDITION

"The Fast Mail."
Manager H. W. Becker has booked for the Palace theatre, Girardville, to-night the great railroad drama, Lincoln J. Carter's "Fast Mail." The play is constructed on strictly modern principles. The interest starts at a terrific pace, and is not allowed to flag for an instant. The incidents are made doubly thrilling by the mechanical and scenic effects that are employed. There is the rattle and clatter of a patrol wagon as it comes down the street, the whistles, bells, etc., of a Mississippi steambent leaving her wharf, moonlight effects on the river, the blowing furnaces of the boat, and the explosion and breaking up of the steamer. A gigantic piece of real water scenery is presented in the Niagara Falls scene, where the enormous cataract is presented with the roar of the water, the seething foam and the rising mist. A freight train of fourteen cars is run across the stage. The caboose is lighted and the engine carries the engineer and fireman. It is everywhere acknowledged to be an unsurpassed achievement in railroad scenic effect. There seems to be no limit to the possibilities of stage mechanism, but "The Fast Mail" seems to have covered all the ground up to the present date. The company is a good one and the play is well constructed with a strong tinge of comedy to offset the serious elements.

OBES OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

While in the G. A. R. fair I was one of a party who listened to the recital of the following story of a drawing for a watch at a church fair in one of the towns south of the mountain some years ago. The party telling the story, whom we will call Charley for this occasion, spent about $16 at the fair, but won a watch that was valued at $80. When Charley went home his father asked that the watch be given to a younger brother. The winner said he would make the transfer for $5, which condition was rejected without thought. A few nights after Charley took the watch to a saloon and put it up as a prize on a game of cards and when he quit he had several dollars in addition to the time piece. Again the watch was put up and Charley's father took a hand in the game, determined to have the prize for his younger son or break his bank account. A third party won the chronometer, the father dropped $15 in the game and Charley quit $35 ahead. There was a recapitulation during which Charley lectured his father on his lack of judgment and pictured to him the difference between giving $5 for an $80 watch and $15 for nothing. The whole matter wound up with Charley refunding the amount his father lost, which act, after allowing $10 for the money spent at the fair, left him with net cash gains on all the games about $15, but the watch was out of the family.

I was sorry to hear that Council had again postponed consideration of Councilman Betteridge's resolution authorizing inducements to town and outside capitalists to establish new industries here. I am not sorry because I fear Council has any intention of postponing consideration of the measure indefinitely, but because I know that delays in such affairs are liable to weaken them and the spirit which brings them to light. Mr. Betteridge's resolution is not exactly to my liking but it has many commendable features and I feel confident that if put in practice they will prove invaluable in promoting the welfare of the borough. That part of the resolution which provides for exemption from taxes and water rent is all right, but that which gives the Borough Council the power to rescind the resolution at any time it may see fit, provided that such rescinding shall not apply to any industry taking advantage of the offer, is not quite the thing. It would be more business like to specify a term of months or years that the offer will remain open. I also think that the resolution should specify the minimum number of hands the industries must employ to claim the benefits of the offer. But Mr. Betteridge's resolution is only a rough measure and he no doubt would willingly consent to any chipping or polishing that would tend to put the resolution in good, substantial form and attain the end he aims at. I hope Council will consider the resolution at its next regular meeting and adopt it with the proper amendments. The postponements thus far have been due to the existence of a resolution of similar effect passed some time ago and an uncertainty in the minds of the Councilmen as to just what that resolution provided. In order to facilitate matters I have referred to the HERALD files and I find that on December 4, 1890, Councilman Cardin introduced the following resolution:

"On motion, all industries created or started in the borough of Shenandoah in the immediate future and employing a number of hands shall be exempted from taxes for borough purposes for a period of ten years beginning January 1, 1891."

It is quite plain that this old resolution can have no bearing on the one proposed by Mr. Betteridge. In fact it has no bearing at all, for the reason that it died of inaction. It was never put in proper operation and on account of the conditions it embraces a new resolution would be required to give it life. It is nearly eighteen months since it was passed and that is a longer period than is contemplated by the immediate future. Let Council act at its next meeting and make a determined effort to see if it can start some industries. We need them.

It is Prohibited.

Grand Display of FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changeable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

....In Wraps
We find the most stylish and the prevailing mode to be the Cape, in some of its variations, single, double or triple capes. Some are plain, others very highly decorated, with fancy indecent braid, butterfly colors, or some full arrangement at the neck, so much approved this season by the feminine fancy. To sum up, only are the correct garment. To those we would say coats are equally fashionable and stylish, many of these having capes also attached—sometimes one, two or three, as the taste or inclination of the wearer may desire.

We have this season, for the first time, added a Millinery Department, and have spared neither trouble nor expense to make it a success. The result exceeds our most sanguine expectations. This department will be under the same management and conducted on the same principles that have always characterized our entire business. We shall keep everything in trimmed and untrimmed hats, novelties of every description. Having secured a trimmer noted for her artistic and skillful work, we are enabled to suit all tastes. We invite a careful inspection of our entire store. All welcome.
