To Prevent Pavoritism.

Washington, April 20.—E. P. Baldwin, the first auditor of the treasury, has issued an order which will prevent favoritism in the examination of accounts.

It has been the practice to make accounts special at the request of certain atterneys who have been iloing business before the department, and thus hurrying them through ahead of their turn. This has worked a great injustice, as men who did not employ attorneys or could bring no in-fluence to bear upon the office were compelled to wait many months for the settlement of their accounts.

Under the system some accounts were settled as soon as they were received, while others had to wait from three months to nearly two years. Under the new order each account must be taken up in the order in which it was received in the office and no account is to be made special except upon the order of the head of the office, and this order is not to be given except in the event of some extraordinary emergency.
