Points.
Lehigh Valley passenger engine No. 617, the only passenger dirt burning engine built at the Delano shops, is back in the shops for repairs. It has been doing passenger service on the North Penn Railroad, between Bethlehem and Philadelphia, for the past year, and after the repairs will be sent back to that branch.

Dr. J. S. Kistler, of town, in company with his brother, Dr. W. F. Kistler, of Minersville, spent one day of last week fishing at Stony Creek below Pinegrove. Our townsman returned home with the best catch reported thus far this season. His basket contained fifteen speckled beauties of good size, the largest being 15 1/2 inches in length and weighing 13 pounds.

The members of the Pottsville Borough Council are in a quandary. The borough auditors have relied upon an expert's test showing that the candle power of the electric lights has been 908 instead of 2,000. The Borough Council has paid for the latter power and the auditors have surcharged it with the difference between the payments and the amount that should have been paid for the power furnished, which is about $2,000.

A band of gypsies is located on the mountain near the cemetery. One of them is quite a belle and makes herself quite conspicuous walking about town in a bright colored plush dress.

The mammoth show windows of Max Schmidt's new store on North Main street will soon display samples of dry goods and dress goods that will captivate the bargain seekers. The new store will soon be ready for occupancy, and then look out for a wonderland surprise. No store in town will compare with it. Pending the removal a visit to Schmidt's old store at 14 South Main street will be found profitable.

Knight-James.
This morning Robert T. Knight, one of our townsmen now located at Johnstown, and Miss Catherine Jane James, daughter of Rev. H. G. James, late pastor of the English Baptist church, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, on West Coal street. Rev. James, the father of the bride, officiated. The future home of the couple will be at Johnstown. Mr. Knight left for that city this afternoon and the bride will follow as soon as the bridal home is in readiness. The HERALD employs desire to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Knight and tender their thanks for mementoes.

AHEAD AGAIN!

We have mounted another rung on the ladder of popularity. It is the Standard Grand this time, a drop-head, half-cabinet at a reasonable price. The head rises automatically to its place when the leaf is laid back. With a single movement the head disappears, the cabinet closes, and you have an elegant ornamental piece of furniture. Drop in and look at it. And while we are talking of cabinet work we might mention the different kinds of wood the Standard is made up in—Antique Oak, XVI Century Oak, Walnut, Hungarian Oak, Mahogany and Sycamore.

FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

....In Wraps
We find the most stylish and the prevailing mode to be the Cape, in some of its variations, single, double or triple capes. Some are plain, others very highly decorated, with fancy indented braid, butterfly colors, or some full arrangement at the neck, so much approved this season by the feminine fancy. To some, coats only are the correct garment. To those we would say coats are equally fashionable and stylish, many of these having capes also attached—sometimes one, two or three, as the taste or inclination of the wearer may desire.

We have this season, for the first time, added a Millinery Department, and have spared neither trouble nor expense to make it a success. The result exceeds our most sanguine expectations. This department will be under the same management and conducted on the same principles that have always characterized our entire business. We shall keep everything in trimmed and untrimmed hats, novelties of every description. Having secured a trimmer noted for her artistic and skillful work, we are enabled to suit all tastes. We invite a careful inspection of our entire store. All welcome.
