RENOVATION is what spring needs. It is what spring means. Nature removes the waste, the decay, the unpealthy and resurrects a new life. In millions of ways it proclaims its work. Mankind has gone far from the valleys that the poets could describe without damage to the enternal verities. People have built cities and congregated nuisances, have multiplied diseases, and put drug stores in every precinct and hospitals in every section -have wondered why there was sickness on the first floor when there was dampness in the cellar and uncleanitness in the back yard. Why don't they slean up in the spring? Clean the whole house. Clean the streets. Clean the sewers. Clean the cesspools. Clean every place so that if the cholera comes it will not have a lodging place to tarry over night. The spring deaning is not a mere habit or a alsople custom. It is a hygienic atsaple custom. It is a hygienic classes which authorizes councils to draw be classestly. So clean soon and clean by lot, rearly, certain municipal bonds.

PROTECTION OF WAGES.

The House Passes an Act for This Purpose.

THE WAGES LAW OF 1872 AMENDED.

Servant Girls, Washwomen, Clerks and Other Employes to be Made Preferred Creditors of Insolvent Employers-The Lough Arbitration Bill Passed Finally in the Senate.

HARRISBURG, May 12.—The delightful weather yesterday almost had the effect of breaking up the afternoon session of the senate, as it was a difficult task for enough members of the upper house to give the shade in the park the cold shoulder and occupy seats in the senate chamber to put bills through on final passage. A sufficient number, however, were on hand at the call of time to transact business and disposed of a number of bills before adjourning until Monday night.

Adjourned until Monday evening.

IN THE HOUSE.

In the house yesterday Mr. Miller re-ported haverably the act providing for the publication of a catalogue of the state li-

Captain Skinner favored the bill on the ground that these peddlers are a nuisance. "Along the southern border our county is afflicted by these peddlers, who are supplied with goods by the Jew merchants of Mary-land." They amony the women and frighten them into making purchases that other-wise they would not take.

Mr. Sohwarz defended the peddlers and said there were two hundred tramps to one peddler, and the peddlers were an honest, barmless class.

Mr. Fritz favored the bill because a great majority of peddlers are foreigners who pay no tax and are not citizens. They accumulate a large amount of money and then go back to a foreign country.
