THIRD EDITION
FROM ALL AROUND THE STATE.

News From Different Sections of the Commonwealth.

READING, May 17.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows opened yesterday in the Academy of Music, with over 1,000 representatives in attendance. The public exercises, which it was intended should take place at the opening, were dispensed with.

Grand Master Withersop, of Philadelphia, called the body to order, and delivered a brief address. Most of the season was taken up in the receiving of credentials of members and appointing committees. The local committee of arrangements have been kept busy in assigning delegates to hotels, all of which are crowded.

The Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon all past grand lodges who were unable to be present Monday night.

It is expected that the Grand Lodge will not be able to conclude its business until Friday. Arrangements have been made for excursions over the mountain railroads and to other points of interest at intervals during the week.

A Bogus Insurance Agent Arrested.

READING, May 17.—H. W. Straw, who came to this city from Philadelphia, was arrested on the charge of false pretense and committed to prison in default of bail. It is charged that he represented himself as an agent for the Protective Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, and induced parties to take out policies in this company, charging them $5, and promising to forward the policy in a few days. His latest victim was Hiram Young, who paid Straw $6 several weeks ago, and was to receive his policy in a few days. A week passed, and as no policy was in sight Mr. Yeager became anxious. He wrote to the branch office in Philadelphia, and was informed that Straw was no agent. It is charged that Straw has been defrauding people for some time in this city, and has also acted in the same manner in Pottsville, Lebanon, Pottstown, Birdsboro, and other towns in this section of the state.

SALVATIONIST COUNTERFEITERS.

Two of Them Taken Into Camp by G.M. at Sioux City, Ia.

SIoux CITY, May 17.—George Hallett and John Mason were arrested in a saloon Saturday while trying to pass counterfeit silver coin. There was a third man with them, but he escaped. Hallett is a carpenter and Mason a cook, and both have been active members of the Salvation Army.

At the police station Hallett confessed, and then he took the officers to a hollow tree, a mile out of town, and showed them part of the outfit, after which he brought them back to the city to a certain house, where they found the dies and other articles. The woman who owns the house said that they had been making the stuff for a month, working every night.

Hallett said they had learned the business from the McCarty brothers at Council Bluffs, one of whom is now under arrest for counterfeiting. He said that another brother, who is now a deputy sheriff there, was formerly a counterfeiter.

Grand Display of FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

.....In Wraps
We find the most stylish and the prevailing mode to be the Cape, in some of its variations, single, double or triple capes. Some are plain, others very highly decorated, with fancy indescant braid, butterfly colors, or some full arrangement at the neck, so much approved this season by the feminine fancy. To some, coats only are the correct garment. To those we would say coats are equally fashionable and stylish, many of these having capes also attached—sometimes one, two or three, as the taste or inclination of the wearer may desire.

We have this season, for the first time, added a Millinery Department, and have spared neither trouble nor expense to make it a success. The result exceeds our most sanguine expectations. This department will be under the same management and conducted on the same principles that have always characterized our entire business. We shall keep everything in trimmed and untrimmed hats, novelties of every description. Having secured a trimmer noted for her artistic and skillful work, we are enabled to suit all tastes. We invite a careful inspection of our entire store. All welcome.
