MEMORIAL DAY HERE.

LARGE PARADE AND IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

A CEMETERY GATHERING

Congressman Robinson, of Media, Makes a Ringing Patriotic Address in the Grand Army Lot of the Odd Fellows' Cemetery. The Service.

GLORIOUS observance of Memorial Day was that in town yesterday. All the plans which had been laid out for the ceremonies were carried out to the letter without accident or disappointment and the fine weather coaxed many visitors to the town during the morning hours. The people seemed to give attention to the ceremonies with more spirit than for years past. All the societies listed for parade had good representations in line and many parts of the town were very prettily decorated.

It was feared Monday night by the committee of arrangements that there would be disappointment as to one of the leading features planned for the day. A committee of the G. A. R. paid several visits to the Lehigh depot to welcome Congressman "Jack" Robinson, of Media, who had been selected as orator of the day, but he did not arrive. The committee placed their last hope on the early morning train, but Mr. Robinson came at midnight. He was the guest of Mr. John F. Finney while here.

VETERANS OF 1861 5.

The line of parade formed and moved as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.
Formed on South Main street, right resting on Oak street.
Carriages containing orator of the day; escort to orator, Past Commanders, John Watson and Joseph Daddow; Old Soldiers, Flower Committee, of G. A. R. and S. of V.
Chief Marshal—E. Mangrum.
Aids—F. H. Hopkins, Sr., Joseph Malla, Division Marshals—David Morgan and C. T. Straughan.
Chief Burgess and Uniformed Police. Grant Corner Band.
Watkin Waters Post, No. 146, G. A. R. Henry Horncastle Camp, No. 49, S. of V. Hoarse containing flowers.
Shenandoah Lodge, No. 398, I. O. O. F. Plank Ridge Lodge, No. 880, I. O. O. F. John W. Stokes Lodge, No. 515, I. O. O. F. General Harrison Lodge K. of P.
Hope Section No. 19, Jr. O. U. A. M. Shenandoah Commandery No. 14, S. of A. Washington Camp, No. 255, P. O. S. of A. Washington Camp, No. 112, P. O. S. of A. Washington Camp, No. 398, P. O. S. of A. Washington Camp, No. 153, P. O. S. of A. Co. A, First Regt., Jr. O. U. A. M. Liberty Drum Corps.
Maj. Jennings Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. Washington Beneficial Society, German Order Red Men, Shenandoah Lodge No. 69, S. of St. G. Anthracite Lodge, No. 74, K. G. E. Ivories.

SECOND DIVISION.
Formed on West Oak street right resting on Main.
Marshal—C. J. Quin.
Aids—Thomas Ryan, C. Blaker, M. C. Watson, A. Stank.
Annunciation Temperance Band, Annunciation Cadets of Temperance, Annunciation Temperance Society, St. Patrick's Benevolent Association, St. Michael's German Society, St. George, Lithuanian, St. Kazimir, Lithuanian, St. Nicholas, Greek, St. Michael's, Greek, St. Michael's, Polish, St. Stevens Society, Sts. Peter and Paul Societies, Knecoticus Guard.
Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, Phoenix Hose Co. No. 2, Columbia H. S. F. E. Co. No. 1, Carriages containing Borough Council, School Board and others.
Upon reaching the cemetery the committee of the day escorted the orator to the G. A. R. plot, followed by Watkin Waters Post, the Sons of Veterans and delegations of Women's Relief Corps and Ladies' Aid Society. A circle was formed about the graves and the services as prescribed by the ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic were conducted by Post Commander Boyer, Chaplain Roads and Comrade Joel Ladden.
After a detachment of the Sons of Veterans fired three salutes over the graves Rev. Robert O'Boyle offered the benediction. Mr. Mangrum then has a commanding presence when addressing an assemblage and his delivery is such that it holds undivided attention. The address was not a lengthy one, but what he said was full of ringing patriotic sentiments. The speaker said he did not come to Shenandoah to make a staid oration, but simply as a citizen of the Republic, full of patriotism, to try and formulate some lesson from the ceremonies at the beautiful spot on such a beautiful day, and to participate in the strewing of flowers upon the graves of those who died to give us this great Union. The object in gathering at the cemeteries on Decoration Day, the speaker said, is to pay tribute to the memory of those who died upon the field of honor and at home since the close of the war. The American people to-day are answering the muster roll of the nation. Wherever there is God's acre in the land and wherever the finger of the church points towards the eternal blue sky they are answering the call to honor the memory of those who died that the Union might forever live. Uphold the day! and hold in memory that on this side of the Atlantic ocean there is a country of self government and civil liberty by reason of the sacrifices of these departed heroes. These departed comrades gave up their lives that the stars and stripes might continue to represent us; that that flag might be like the state of Liberty in the New York harbor, proclaiming to the people who come within our gates that here is a land of law and order where the liberty of the individual counts each for itself. Our gatherings in these cemeteries is the old, old story, but it never grows wearisome. We are living for some worthy and great purpose, simply as standard bearers, or rather torch bearers, carrying the light of day, of humanity's good itself for future generations.

After referring to the gallant deeds of the great generals in the civil war and picturing the condition of the South during the days of slavery and the effects of the abolition Mr. Robinson said that now black slavery has been abolished white slavery should be abolished also. Each man should be taught to become a representative of the American country itself. "I consider I am just as much a part of this state and of these United States of America as you and my neighbor, and you are as much so as me, or any other person. In going through this life we should studiously carry forth the laws of the country in sobriety and truth, and to make the land better and the people better."
After Congressman Robinson concluded his address the assemblage dispersed and the societies in attendance marched back to town followed by the carriages the orator and the officers of the day.

Decoration Day Notes.
The street pavers continued at work all day.
Henry Wiederhold was at work with his kodak during the parade on Main street.
Congressman Robinson made a very favorable impression, both personally and as orator of the day.
A lady lost a watch in the cemetery yesterday. It is advertised for in another column of this paper.
The Schuylkill Traction Company ran two and three cars together on several trips to accommodate the great crowds from down the valley.
Co. A, Jr. O. U. A. M. Guards, were photographed by Dabb. The drilling of this company along the route of parade was greatly admired.
The strawberry and ice cream festival in Robbins' opera house under the auspices of the Trinity Reformed Sunday school was very successful. Last night the attendance was large.
A delegation of Watkin Waters Post, No. 146, G. A. R., took part in the P. O. S. of A. and Jr. O. U. A. M. parade at Ringtown yesterday afternoon. Past Commander Ladden was in charge of the delegation.
The Lakeside Park opening under the auspices of the Schoppe orchestra was a brilliant success. It was attended by fully 1,500 people. About 750 were from town and 300 from Fottsville and Tanamqua.
Several members of Major Jennings Council and Co. A, Jr. O. U. A. M., attended the picnic and parade of Advance Council at Ringtown yesterday. Both events were very satisfactory to both the home and visiting Councils. A game of base ball between two nines captained by Thomas Sanger and Robert Oliver resulted in favor of the former by a score of 16 to 7.

BRAKEMEN LOSE CONTROL OF THE TRAIN.

SIX KILLED INSTANTLY

Walter L. Main's Shows Were in the Smash—Great Loss Sustained—The Date Made Here for Monday Next Has Been Cancelled.

WALTER L. MAIN'S circus will not appear here on Monday next. The date has been cancelled on account of a distressing railway disaster near Altoona yesterday morning, in which the show suffered greatly and six men lost their lives.

The following telegraphic message was sent to the HERALD office this morning:

To Manager Western Union Telegraph Company, Shenandoah, Pa.:—Please inform all men to prepare for circus. I will send men to settle matters in a few days. Show wrecked. Impossible to finish season.

WALTER L. MAIN. No doubt some people will go to the Exposition with no higher purpose than to be amused and entertained; just as some college students, blind to the advantages offered by parents ambitious for their future, do not employ their hours in study. But a large majority of the future men and women will go, we think, for a good purpose, and when they return it will be with a wider knowledge of the influences that have made our country great.

Perhaps you are interested in botany. Then in the Horticultural Hall you can see nearly every species of plant-growth from the equator to the poles, and the conditions under which each plant thrives. The planting of vineyards, management of orchards and small fruit nurseries, preservation of fruits either in cans or by evaporation, the cultivation of flowers of every description, operation of conservatories, and what cannot fail to prove of greater interest—the designing and laying out of flower gardens, will all be shown.

The great fisheries industry of the country will be represented by thousands of live fish taken from ocean, stream and lake, and kept in illuminated tanks where their habits can be studied.
The enormous mineral resources of our own and other countries will be shown on a scale never before attempted. The tremendous advances made in machinery and in the science of electricity will be adequately illustrated.

In the building for transportation exhibits one may see every description of vehicle used, both at home and abroad, from the most primitive cart or sled down to the latest methods of travel.
The great manufacturing industries of the world will be mirrored in one of the most comprehensive displays at the Exposition.

The Department of Ethnology and Archeology, which is designed to give an insight into the lives of the people who inhabited the Western Hemisphere centuries before Columbus reached our shores, and to trace the evolution of man from prehistoric days. Old ruins have been excavated, buried cities have been excavated, mounds have been torn open to obtain evidences of the mode of life of these people.

A feature of the exhibit will be living representatives of all uncivilized tribes, from the Eskimos of the north to the Patagonians of the south.
These savages will live in native tents, on the shores of a lagoon at the Exposition, just as they live at home. Here they will carry on the industries in which they were engaged before they were transplanted to the World's Fair.

We have postponed our journey to the moon for the present, as a few days of Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca has entirely cured our cough.

GOOD NEWS TO MINERS.

SHENANDOAH CITY RESUMED OPERATIONS TO-DAY.

GREAT BLESSING TO MANY

Nearly Eight Hundred Men and Boys Responded This Morning and Got the Place in Full Operation—The Repair Work Will Not Interfere.

LADs things were heralded to the people of this section yesterday in the announcement that the Shenandoah City colliery would resume operations this morning and many men whose spirits had been almost broken by the strain attendant upon the long idleness of this large colliery took new hope and entered fully into the spirit which actuated the fortunate ones who were participating in the Memorial Day ceremonies.

The orders for the colliery to resume operations were received from Pottsville yesterday morning and the glad news was conveyed to the HERALD in the following form:

Mr. Boyer,
DEAR SIR:—Please insert in your paper this afternoon the good news that Shenandoah City colliery will start to work to-morrow, May 31st, without fail. It is giving this circulation in your next issue will greatly oblige
Yours truly,
J. J. BRADIGAN,
District Superintendent.

Unfortunately the above was received too late for publication, as there was an early issue of the paper, but steps were taken to spread the news among the people in another form and this morning when the breaker whistle blew there was a full force of men in all sections of the colliery.

When it is considered that nearly eight hundred men are employed at Shenandoah City colliery it is not surprising that the orders Mr. Bradigan transmitted were received with jubilation.

The outside repairs at the colliery are not complete, but this will in no way interfere with the operations. Pending the completion of the new dump house at the top of the breaker and the completion of the trestle to the endless chain hoist the loaded cars will be sent from the shaft to the breaker by another truck and drawn by the small locomotives in use at the colliery.

The new press agent is the secretary of the famous Chess and Oil Philadelpia, and his acquaintanceship extends throughout the length and breadth of this country. Mr. Deacon is very popular with the fraternity, and his appointment will be commended by all the newspapers, their publishers, editors and writers generally.
