WHITAKER A WINNER

Commissioned as Superintendent of the Schools.

MR. EHRHART RESIGNS.

The Superintendent Question Was Referred to Attorney General Hensel and He Decided That Mr. Whitaker Was Not Obligated to Stand an Examination.

EARNINGS and anxiety in connection with the superintendency of the public schools of town are at an end. The State Department has decided to grant a commission to Mr. M. P. Whitaker, who was elected superintendent by the majority members of the School Board.

The legal decision was made by Attorney General Hensel, State Superintendent at Waller relieved himself of responsibility by referring to Hensel the question as to whether the certificate Mr. Whitaker received in 1876 entitled him to hold the position. The Attorney General decided that Mr. Whitaker was not obliged to stand an examination in the additional branches.

As soon as Mr. Ehrhart heard of the decision he wrote out his resignation from the office of principal of the High School and sent it to Frank Hanna, secretary of the School Board, with a notice that to-day would be his last in the position, the term of the office having expired on Wednesday last.

The following is an exact copy of the decision in the case:

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
HARRISBURG, PA., May 30, 1893.

Hon. D. J. Waller, Jr., Superintendent of Public Instruction.

DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your communication of the 27th inst., inquiring whether you can legally withhold the commission from the duly elected superintendent of schools in Shenandoah borough, who holds a professional certificate, because certain branches taught in the schools of that borough are not included among those upon his certificate; and whether the law requires of any superintendent of schools qualifications beyond those expressed in a valid professional certificate.

Section 13 of the Act of April 9th, 1887, provides that "no person shall hereafter be eligible to the office of county, city or borough superintendent in any county of this Commonwealth who does not possess a diploma from a college legally empowered to grant literary degrees, a diploma or state certificate issued according to law by the authorities of a State Normal School, or professional certificate from a county, city or borough superintendent of good standing."

There is no provision of law requiring of any superintendent of schools qualifications beyond those expressed in a valid professional certificate, nor is there any specification that such a certificate must include all the branches taught in the schools of the borough, city or county to which he has been elected superintendent.

I advise and instruct you, therefore, that, upon the case stated by you, you have no right to legally withhold this commission.

Very truly yours,
W. U. HENSEL,
Attorney General.

Although the above decision bears the date of May 30th it was not known and did not reach here until this morning.

They Got It.

Patrick Conry, Harry Muldoon, Anthony Gallagher and J. R. Coyle are giving their friends good laughs at their (the quartette) expense. When they went to Harrisburg on Thursday they were met by Senator Mounghan who, of course, proceeded to show them the sights of the city. In one of the places visited two Italians were furnishing music, one playing a mandolin and the other a guitar. "Would you like to have any special tunes?" asked the Senator, turning to the quartette of visitors. "Are they good players?" asked Conry. "Great," was the Senator's reply. "Ask them to play the Spanish fandango," suggested Coyle, who has a slight attack of the Eralda fever which has swept New York. The Senator found the Italians could not play the tune and asked for another suggestion. Mr. Gallagher named the "Marselles," which hit the mark, for the Italians nodded in the affirmative when asked if they could play it. While the musicians were tuning up their instruments they sized up the Shenandoah rounders with aly side glance and whispered to each other. "Ready!" exclaimed the Senator, as he saw the Italians brace themselves for the charge. The next moment the nimble fingers of the sons of sunny Italy were skipping over the wires of the instruments with lightning rapidity and the place was filled with the rich, mellow notes of "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning."

THE POPULAR CONTEST

"Herald's" Favorite Teachers' Vacation.

GIVE EARNEST SUPPORT.

The Weary Pedagogue will Find Pleasure at the World's Fair, Niagara Falls or Boston Through Your Influence—Vote Early and Often for Your Favorite.

Attending the World's Fair the two first prize winners of this contest will find the women's building a storehouse of much information. This building attracts much attention and the British nursing exhibit is considered worth a travel of thousands of miles. This is under the control of the British royal commission, under the presidency of Mrs. Bedford Fenwick, who is herself a practical and professional nurse. The exhibit is in charge of Mrs. Bond, at one time one of her majesty's nurses. Mrs. Bond has, for noble service rendered in her profession, been the recipient of four medals, notably that of the Royal Red Cross, conferred by Queen Victoria.

The exhibit is divided into sections and is placed in large glass cases against the walls. The first section is devoted to specimens of all sorts of ligatures and bandages used in binding wounds and in hospital service. The bandages are of all materials, from gauze to oil silk, and are in infinite variety. A model of a rack for holding bandages is in this collection. Below are the surgical instruments used by nurses in their profession, including everything from a caudric needle to syringes and cases of scissors. Every sort of thermometer, from the wall thermometer to that used for testing children's food, is here. Particularly interesting are glasses for measuring medicine, made of opal glass. These are intended for use in a dim light and are a great protection. This section also contains a set of crockery to be used in typhoid cases, consisting of all the paraphernalia of the sick-room. Each piece is marked typhoid and the use of it is considered necessary in order to avoid contagion.

The descriptions of the sections of this great exhibit secured by the HERALD are very interesting and will be published in installments in this column.

Shooting Matches.
Cyrus Hornshooper, of Mt. Carmel, was in town and completed arrangements for two big shooting matches between Ben Weary, of Mt. Carmel, and Daniel Neiswender, of town. The matches will be for one hundred dollars a side. The first will take place here on Monday, June 13th. The second at Mt. Carmel on Friday, July 7th. The well-known ability of these men as marksmen will create an unusual interest in the results and it is expected that considerable money will exchange hands over the match. It will be a big day for the sports. The contestants will each shoot at fifteen birds, Charles Heitz, of Tower City, will be the trapper.

Got Their Money.
Andrew Stankawicz, a Polish resident of Lost Creek, No. 2, had been a customer of Charles Radziewicz, the merchant of town, for some time and contracted quite a bill. To cover the indebtedness Stankawicz confessed judgment in favor of Radziewicz and Lawyer Hollopeter issued an execution and levied on a household held by the debtor. The house had been built by the Shenandoah Feed and Lumber Company and a balance of $225 was still due for the work. The company immediately consulted counsel and took steps to protect the claim. On Thursday several wagon loads of people, including lawyers Hollopeter and Burke, went down to the property. The property was bid up to and sold at $425, which covered all claims and costs and the creditors returned to town rejoicing. The property was bid in by one of Stankawicz's neighbors.

Caused Excitement.
A large crowd was attracted to the corner of Main and Cherry streets last night by a fight between two young men named Thomas Mulhally and Patrick Mellet. The fight was of short duration and the combatants soon disappeared. Reports got abroad that Mulhally was stabbed in the scull, but such was not the case. The latter was scratched on the forehead and neck by the handle of a closed knife which Mellet had in his hand. The fight was a sequel to one in Mahanoy City on Thursday.

Party at Girardville.
About forty young people gathered at the home of Alvin Hower, on Parker street, in Girardville, Thursday evening and had a very enjoyable time. There were amusements of all kinds and dancing, and also charades, which were very pleasing and entertaining. The music for the dancing was furnished by members of the gathering who in turn piped out the cadences to keep all in unison. A number spent their time at innocent games of cards while others, blindfolded, tried their skill in pinning a tail on a donkey which had been sewed upon a piece of cloth and hung on the wall. As the shuffling of feet to the time of music and the peals of laughter diminished refreshments were served, after which there was a social chat in which vivacity was plentiful. Before the night took their departure many of the merry party took their all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hower much joy in their new home. Several Shenandoah people were present. OUR SCHOOL AFFAIRS

School Board to Reorganize on Monday.

OLD AND NEW MEMBERS

A List of Those Who Will Retire, Their Successors, and the Members Who Will Hold Over—Nothing New in Regard to the Superintendency.

SCHOOL matters will assume definite shape within a few days. There is more or less uncertainty hovering over the management of the public schools because the last month of the old term is at an end, and this necessarily means changes of some kind. It means several changes in the membership of the board, but probably there will not be more than one change in the officers.

The old term expires on Monday night, next, and on that night a meeting will be held in the Superintendent's office to finish up the business of the old board and organize the members holding over and those who were elected at the last spring election.

The members who will retire will be Messrs. Philip Gable, of the Fourth ward, and William Boehman, of the Fifth.

Messrs. Patrick Conry, of the First ward; Daniel Ogden, of the Second, and William Trozies, of the Third, will be sworn in again by reason of their re-election.

The gentlemen who will be sworn in and take seats on the board for the first time will be Messrs. H. W. Titman, Second ward; Manley, Fourth, and Davitt, Fifth. This is a Democratic gain of two, and will leave the political complexion of the board for the ensuing year ten Democrats to five Citizens.

When organized and ready for business the membership of the board will be: First ward—Conry, O'Leary, Haas, Second—Ogden, Lynch, Titman, Third—Trozies, Beddall Dawsonport, Fourth—Brennan, Burke, Manley, Fifth—Gallagher, Muldoon, Davitt.

There has not been much talk about the election of officers of the board. The Citizens members have not bothered their heads about that part of the organization because they are hopelessly in the minority, and the naming of any one in that party for an office will be a mere matter of form.

So far as the Democratic members are concerned, they appear to be perfectly harmonious and will be a unit on the organization, so that the officers will be elected without any ado. Messrs. Conry and Hanna will no doubt be re-elected to the respective positions of president and secretary. The only change will be in the treasurership. It is said P. J. Ferguson will be elected to succeed Mr. Bellis.

No election of teachers will take place on Monday night. The school rule requires that such elections shall take place on or before the 30th of June. It is the custom of the board to fix the time for the election of teachers on the night the board is organized. This rule will not be followed this year.

On Monday the term of L. A. Froeman as superintendent of the schools also expires, and as he has declined a re-election, will leave for his home in Providence, Rhode Island, early next week.

School Directors Conry, Muldoon and Gallagher, and J. E. Coyle, Esq., visited Harrisburg on Thursday in relation to the superintendency. Mr. Coyle said to a reporter upon his return yesterday: "There are no new developments in this matter. Ex-Superintendent Waller is absent from Harrisburg and Dr. Shaffer, the new superintendent, has not yet received his commission; but independent of this Dr. Shaffer, as a matter of courtesy, will confer with his predecessor, Dr. Waller, in regard to the case, and nothing can be done until that consultation is held."

Safe, Sure and Speedy.
No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unconditionally met those three prime conditions as successfully as Alcock's Porens Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purpose for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin. Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.
