Those who thought that few Americans would visit Europe this season were away off in their calculations. Three thousand first-class passengers left New York for Europe on a single day recently.

VALLEY FOREG is now a State Park, the Governor having signed the bill which places that historic spot in the care of the people forevermore. Now the nation should own the Gettysburg battlefield and all the adjacent grounds necessary to make it a great National Park.

WHEN the state banks get to issuing currency, if they ever do, and one of them fails, its currency will become worthless. Should every National bank in the country close their doors the currency issued by them would still be as good as gold. Quite a difference, eh?

SATURDAY half-holiday the year round is now a legal fact, but it may take some time before it is generally adopted. It will be a great boon to the working community. Its coming has been in a measure anticipated by the summer Saturday half-holiday, and very general suspension now of work for two or three hours every Saturday afternoon by a large number of business firms and trades.

REPRESENTATIVE LOSCH's investigation of the electric light trust flattened out in a rather ignominious way, as it was very generally supposed at the time it was instituted it would. The chairman seems to be well satisfied, however, that he accomplished what he sought, and if that is so he could not have sought an investigation of the trust, for there was only the mere pretense of such investigation. —Phila. Trea.

THE MAN who invents a method of joining the leather of machinery belts so that it will be as strong at the point of union as elsewhere has an enormous fortune in waiting for him. A machine belt three-sixteenths of an inch thick will sustain 675 pounds of weight per inch of width. At the splices, after the belt has been fastened with rivets, this is reduced to 350 pounds; lacing reduces it still further to 200 pounds, while a safe working tension is only about fifty pounds per inch. If the belts could be made solid and as strong at the joints as elsewhere the working tension might be largely increased.

THE various departments of the Reading Railroad Company have been reorganized. First Vice President Voorhees will have charge of the operation of all railroad and other transportation lines owned, leased or controlled by the company. Lawler was appointed superintendent of the Atlantic City division, vice G. D. Whitcomb, assigned to other duties. The office of superintendent of the Harrisburg and Pittsburgh division and of superintendent of the Catawissa division are discontinued. The operation of the Pennsylvania, Poughkeepsie and Boston Railroad will be under the charge of the general superintendent of the Eastern division.

AMONG the home industries of today soap making is a lost art, but there was a time "in the days that are no more" when the well filled soft soap barrel was an important complement to good house-keeping. Apropos of that ancient custom, which called for much skill and ability on the part of the presiding angel of the household is the tale that is told of a charming young lady of Kalamazoo. She was soap making, a calling appearing, she hastened to her boudoir, whence she soon reappeared wreathed in smiles and wearing her best attire, to greet her guest in the drawing room. Imagine her astonishment as she explained the cause of her delay, in being greeted with the exclamation: "Soap making! Why you look as if you had never seen any soap."

ALL OF THE IMPORTANT EVENTS. Two Hundred and Seventy-Nine Bills to the Governor's Hands to Approve or Veto Before July 1.—The City of Lancaster Sued for Damage—New Charters Granted at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—In 1891 the legislature adjourned on May 28, having sent to the governor 414 bills, 123 of which were approved, 17 vetoed and 12 recalled, leaving in his hands at adjournment 263. This year the legislature sent 452 bills to the governor, 138 of which were approved, 23 vetoed and 10 recalled. He has now 279 bills to approve or veto between now and July 1.

Governor Pattison got out his veto yesterday and killed a couple of bills. The first was "An act regulating constables' returns to the quarter sessions court of the county of Chester." The governor says: "The bill proposes to exempt the county of Chester from the operation of a general law. It offends against that provision of the constitution which prohibits the general assembly from passing any local or special bill regulating the affairs of counties. It is also in conflict with the prohibition against local legislation regulating the practice in judicial proceedings or in inquiry before courts. Either of these would be sufficient reason for executive disapproval."

The second veto was the act giving an additional law judge to Washington county. The governor says: "In previous communications to the general assembly I have expressed grave misgivings as to measures intended to increase the number of judges in the commonwealth. Although the county of Washington has made considerable increase in population within the last decade, I am not satisfied there is such an accumulation of legal business as to require an additional judge of the courts. In the absence of convincing demonstration that the conditions in the 27th judicial district are peculiarly different from those of other single districts of about equal population, I am constrained to withhold my approval from the measure."

Servants Steal the Money. PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Several days ago a pocketbook containing over $220 in money and checks was stolen from a trunk at the residence of Mrs. Mary Lindsey, No. 1821 Chestnut street, but all efforts to ascertain who had committed the theft proved unavailing until the matter was reported to Captain Miller, of the detective corps, who upon investigation found a portion of the stolen money secreted in an out-house in the rear of the premises. Lydia Cotton and Della Spence, employed at the house as servants, and James Harris, of No. 619 South Juniper street, and Harry Prettyman, all colored, were taken into custody, charged with being concerned in the robbery.

When arraigned at the Central station for a hearing yesterday afternoon, it was revealed that Mrs. Lindsey had shown the money to Della Spence on the day it was taken, and the admission of Lydia Cotton was to the effect that Della informed her of the matter and directed her to secure possession of the wealth, which she did after forcing open the trunk with a button hook. Lydia also acknowledged that she had given the checks and a portion of the money to Harris, and the latter afterwards gave the checks to Prettyman. The accused were bound over to answer at court.

Lieutenant Peary's New Ship. PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—The steam sealer Falcon, which is to convey Lieutenant Peary and the members of his next expedition to Northern Greenland, will, it is expected, arrive at this port on or about June 20 or 25. After taking on board the material for the house, which is to be constructed at the winter quarters of the expedition, and the necessary miscellaneous equipment and stores she will go to New York and take on board two tons of pemmican and the provisions for the expedition, sailing directly from New York for her destination. The vessel will be commanded by Captain Henry Bartlett, formerly of the sealer Algerine, and a large proportion of the old crew of the Kite, which carried the former expedition to the far north, will form part of her complement.

May Build a Monument. READING, June 3.—Before final adjournment the General Synod of the Reformed church appointed a committee to consider the advisability of erecting a monument to the memory of Rev. The General Synod voted down a resolution to the effect that members of the synod do all in their power to overthrow the liquor traffic.

Refused a Writ of Mandamus. HARRISBURG, June 3.—In the matter of the petition of Frederick Talbot, of Philadelphia, the supreme court yesterday refused a writ of mandamus to compel the Philadelphia court of quarter sessions to grant the petitioner a tavern license. The Stock Market Lower. PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—The probability, reported Thursday, that about $1,000,000 in gold would be exported to-day was confirmed yesterday, the amount being increased to $1,300,000. The bears were also favored by weakness in the London market and by several failures in Liverpool. Naturally enough the New York stock market opened considerably lower and was weak and unsettled all day. In many cases the opening prices were 1 per cent. or more below Thursday's closing figures, and most stocks declined further during the early trading.

I was then advised to try your Electric Belt, and I bought one and used it for a few days. The governor did a remarkable lot of work yesterday with his ready pen. He signed his name to over a hundred bills that met the executive approval. Two years ago the house appropriation committee had referred to it 234 bills, involving an expenditure of $20,480,523.26. Of these 66 were negative and the committee granted a total sum of $20,341,041.29, reducing the demands $6,138,481.97. This session Chairman Marshall's committee received 232 bills and 84 were negative. The original total was $20,021,782.15, but the committee scaled this down to $22,146,735.36, a cut of $14,774,908.46. As it stands now, with the additional appropriation to the schools, the estimate of the committee has not been exceeded more than $10,000. It is the governor's intention to dispose of the bills as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Geo. W. Turner. Simply Awful. Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw.

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. "When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. From the sore broke out on my arm came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the Worst Case of Scrofula they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, and the sores were all healed. I then returned to my work, and I have not had a return of the disease since. I am now a healthy man, and I feel that I owe my recovery to Hood's Sarsaparilla, for my perfect cure." GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y.
