The Vote the Young Lady Polled Astounded the People and Has the Contest the Leading Topic of Discussion-Many Wagers Were Made Last Night.

VERY man, woman and child in town capable from the rulns thus far. of reading a newspaper gasped in a spell of surprise last evening when they read the returns of the popular public school teachers contest in the HERALD. It was indeed a almost beyond belief.

Quite naturally the contest was the leading topic of conversation last night and to-day. Wasn't that a jump?" was heard on all

The contest is now attracting the attention of the sporting fraternity and it is said that many heavy bets were made after last night's announcement. One heavy bet was made from Philadelphia and has of late been a you think should make this or that play. that notwithstanding the tremendous stride member of the Danville base ball club, The club pays its captain a large salary to Miss Saird had made Miss Stein would hold first place at the close of the centest. One prominent gentleman made a good sized bet husiasts say he owns the town and may take the field you could do better. The truth is and gave odds of 5 to 3 that Miss Wasley will hold first or second place at the end.

The interest now evinced in the contest is ndescribable. Young and old are completely worked over it, and even some of the staid old citizens who never take an interest in competitions of any character nervously There is not the slightest don't that had he been given the proper support the visitors the authorities are on the right track for exclaimed, "Well, I swow."
