THE STARS AND STRIPES.

One hundred and sixteen years ago to-day the National Congress adopted the stars and stripes as the national emblem.

This design continued to be used until 1794, when Congress resolved that the flag be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white, and that the union be thirteen stars, white, in a blue field.

Forty-four stars beset the blue field to-day, representing as many states of a union that is indissoluble and which is honored and respected in all climes.

THIS is the season when a great deal of perfunctory advice is given to school graduates; and probably they are less in need of it than any other class in the community.

EVERY line in a newspaper costs something. If it is for the benefit of an individual it should be paid for.

It has been discovered that the legislature did not appropriate enough money to pay the coal mine inspectors their salaries for the next two years.

SHENANDOAH was honored in two instances by our German-American friends yesterday at Mahanoy City.

In many places in this town the sidewalks are still occupied by boxes, barrels and other impediments to pedestrians.

LET us have a good old-time Fourth of July celebration in Shenandoah this year. The patriotism of the people of this town, if once aroused, is sufficient to guarantee this, and we propose to agitate the matter to that end.

PRINCESS EULALIA not only smoke cigarettes, plays the races, but drinks beer by the "schonner."

UNLESS the state strengthens its case materially this week it will hardly have established enough of a case against Miss Borden for her to make a defence against.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE will no longer live a Wilde life. She will probably be better satisfied with Oscar's soufleur than with his brother.

THAT little hatchet in the Borden case entangled the tongues of government witnesses worse than it did George Washington's.

SHENANDOAH'S Fourth of July demonstration should be on a scale beating the largest town in the east.

MISS BORDEN AFFECTED

She Would Not Listen to Dr. Draper's Testimony.

SKULLS PRODUCED IN COURT

Evidence to Show That the Instrument Which Made the Wounds Was Three and One-Half Inches Long, the Exact Length of the Handleless Hatchet.

New Bedford, Mass., June 14.—Long before the appointed time the court room was crowded. Lizzie Borden came in a few minutes before 9 o'clock, and shortly after that time the proceedings of the ninth day began.

When court opened yesterday Dr. Dolan took the stand again, and Mr. Adams controverted his cross examination. A manikin's head was set up on a chair beside the jury box and the doctor described how the blows fell upon the head of Mr. Borden when he was murdered.

He described the position of the blows and the blood spots and said the blows came from left to right and were of moderate force.

When the session was resumed, Dr. Dolan admitted testifying in preliminary hearing that Mrs. Borden's death was adhered to her, but now thought it was an hour to an hour and a half before Mrs. Borden's death.

On re-cross examination Dr. Dolan said the length of the wound would not determine the length of the edge of the instrument.

Dr. E. S. Wood, of Harvard Medical College, was then called and described the examination of the stomachs.

Prof. Wood found nothing to indicate disease or irritation in either stomach, and their contents showed a difference of an hour and a half in the time of death.

There was no evidence of poison in the stomachs or in the milk used by the family on June 8 and 9. Examination showed no blood on the clay-hammered hatchet or axe or on the blue dress.

Prof. Wood said the blood spot on the white skirt probably came from outside and was human blood. The shoes and stockings and dining-room door casing had no blood spots.

The handleless hatchet had dirt-like spots on the blade tightly adhering. Under telegraphic objection and exception, Prof. Wood testified that the handleless hatchet might have been cleared of blood before the handle was broken off.

Dr. Draper then took the stand and described the wounds in the skull of Mr. Borden.

Cross-examined by Mr. Adams—Witness said the heaviest blow given Mr. Borden was the one which cut his eye, and then he was obliged to give a detailed statement of the character of the eye and its position, and surroundings in the head.

On Mrs. Borden's body the witness found 18 wounds, 15 of them in the head, in the back and 3 on the arm.

The wound in the back may have been caused while she was standing, or it may have been caused when she was lying on the floor.

On conclusion of Dr. Draper's testimony the court adjourned at 5 o'clock.

If the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which the case of the court here calls upon the Attorney to save at the opening and closing of the session each day, does not present any stronger evidence as to why Lizzie Borden should be convicted of having poisoned her step-mother and father, she will be acquitted of the awful crime which she stands charged in the indictment.

New York "Inevitable" Fire from a Burning Building—Many Hurt.

New York, June 14.—In the fire which broke out at Nos. 10 and 12 Montgomery street yesterday morning at least four lives were lost and a number of persons were injured by jumping from the fire escapes.

The building was occupied by "sweater" tailor shops, and between one hundred and fifty and two hundred men, women and girls were employed there.

The fire started on the first floor of the building, it is supposed, from a stove used for heating iron. The stove was near the building and many were hemmed in and had to take to the fire escapes.

When the alarm of fire was sounded in the building there was a wild rush of the men, women and children who worked in the different "sweater shops."

In Paint the best is the cheapest. White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, crack, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting.

Strictly Pure White Lead properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture.
