Councilmen Approached on the Subject of Free Water.

CHANCE FOR AN INDUSTRY

Mr. Franey Says There are Parties Waiting to Invest $140,000 in a Brewery—The Quantity of Water Required Seems to be the Question.

TODAY the town was under a deep spell of nothing—coming—and nothing-going and one of those who defied the heat and indulged in discussions, the main subject of which was the brewery project sprung by Mr. J. J. Franey upon the Councilmen last evening. Most of the Councilmen were assembled near the corner of Centre and Main streets last evening discussing the progress of street paving and the contemplated extension of the work, when Mr. Franey approached and frankly stated that if the Borough Council would agree to give a brewing company free water for a term of years he would have in town within a few days the representatives of some capitalists who would be willing to invest $140,000 in the establishment of a brewery in this town.

All agreed that it would be an excellent thing to have an establishment requiring a sinking of $140,000 in our midst, but after some of the Councilmen entered into details many doubts arose. One of the results of the discussion is that to keep a brewery supplied with a force of water sufficient for all the requirements of such an establishment would necessitate one-sixth the amount of water that could be raised by the proposed pumping station per day.

One Councilman facetiously remarked that perhaps it would be better to have the new water works completed and then let the brewery projectors buy the old water works. However, the project is still in its infancy and there is no doubt that after a consideration of all points on both sides there will be an opening for it.

A Wonderful Machine.
There is no doubt that man is a fine mechanism, but like every other machine he wears out by friction. It is said that he is born again every two or three years. His body is virtually re-made from food. To retard this making over is radically wrong, as a man loses so much vitality in the delayed process that it takes a long time to recuperate. The process of making anew is accelerated by purging with Brandreth's Pills that a new man, as it were, may be made in two or three months, and the change in the mechanism is such that the worn out part is replaced by the new without the usual running down of the entire machine. You don't have to stop for repairs. Purge away with Brandreth's Pills the old, diseased and worn out body. They are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

The New School
Work on the foundation for the new school building on West street is progressing rapidly. This morning a corps of stone masons, under John Senior, commenced work for the P. & B. company. They are arching the bore hole that was used to introduce culm into the old workings of the Kohinoor colliery. The arch will form a part of the foundation and leave the bore hole in such a condition that culm may be put into it at any future time without disturbing the school building.

A Game With Reading.
The management of the local base ball team has succeeded in making arrangements for an exhibition game with the Reading club at the trotting park to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Setey, Fulmer, McGettigan and Heckman, the short stop recently secured from Shamokin, will be in the home team. It will be a great game.

Miss Foreman Examinations.
The examination of applicants for mine foreman certificates will be held at the Potsville court house Friday and Saturday. Forty questions will be propounded and correct answers to 95 per cent. will entitle the applicant to a certificate. Applicants answering 90 per cent. will be entitled to an assistant's certificate.

Antiquary.
The members of Plank Ridge Lodge No. 880, I. O. O. F., with their lady friends, will celebrate the anniversary of that organization this evening by a banquet. It will be held in Robbins' opera house. A number of prominent members of the order will be present.

Every bottle of Arnica & Oil Liniment sold is warranted by the proprietors to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. Im

Another New Council.
A new Council of the Jr. O. U. A. M. has been organized at Gordon with fifty-six applicants upon the charter. It will be instituted on Monday evening, June 19th, by Deputy State Councilor Wm. J. Jacobs.

Opening To-night.
The Grant Band will be present at the opening of Prof. Wilde's new music store, 28 North Main street. This will be a musical treat.

There never was a season when so many people appear to have coughs and colds. Those who know the value of Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca prefer it to all other remedies.

THE POPULAR CONTEST

'Herald's' Favorite Teachers' Vacation.

GIVE EARNEST SUPPORT.

The Weary Pedagogue will Find Pleasure at the World's Fair, Niagara Falls or Boston Through Your Influence—Vote Early and Often for Your Favorite.

How great will the attendance have to be in order to make the Columbian Exposition a success financially? This very interesting question was discussed by a party of gentlemen last evening who had been speculating upon the probable winners of the World's Fair trips offered in this contest. This question cannot be answered very accurately because there are other sources of revenue which depend somewhat upon the attendance but which cannot as yet be only estimated. Still, this inquiry about the financial success of the enterprise is an interesting one, and speculation upon it is a convenient means of reaching a better appreciation of the magnitude of the operation.

In round figures, which are within a hundred thousand dollars of the actual sum, the cost of the fair to the opening day was twenty millions of dollars. This enormous sum is more than twice as much as was spent for the last Paris exposition, and there the government of France was behind the enterprise. Twenty millions probably reaches the high water mark in the outlay for international expositions. It may be doubtful if the coming century will see a parallel to this affair in magnitude or costliness. This fair is not too big, but it is big enough. Future fair-builders will probably devote their energies to making more perfect but not more vast. How was all this enormous sum raised? Principally by the citizens of Chicago. In the first place, they subscribed nearly six millions of dollars of stock in the exposition company, and have paid over in cash thereon $5,751,173. Then the city of Chicago as a municipal corporation issued bonds and devoted the proceeds to the purchase of $5,000,000 of stock.

At first it was thought this would be enough, or nearly enough, to build the fair. But it proved to be only half enough. The exposition issued five millions of its own bonds and sold them at par. This gave a total of sixteen millions. Congress voted five millions of souvenir half dollars in aid of the fair, and then took away a half million dollars worth of them on a quibble. Out of the remaining two millions of dollars worth the management realized, by virtue of premiums, very nearly $2,500,000. Thus the total receipts were brought up to nearly eighteen and a half millions. Interest and miscellaneous receipts swelled to the grand total of $19,000,000.

Looked at as a vast financial operation this fair is almost as fascinating as from any other point of view, twenty millions to open the gates, three millions more will be needed to pay expenses till the end of the six months, therefore $23,000,000 is to be approximately the total cost of the World's Columbian Exposition. Is there any chance that this enormous sum of money can be earned by the gates and the concessions? At the close of the fair it is estimated the salvage from the buildings and grounds will net a million dollars. Still twenty-two millions to raise. What do you think of their chances?

OBSE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

I have directed attention through these columns, time and again to the practice indulged in by young men and women who have a fondness for evening promenades and who do most of their courting on the streets. Jardin street, between Oak and Coal, seems to be a favored spot for these spoon couples, and sometimes, especially Sunday evenings, that thoroughfare is almost impassable. It seems that the police are unable to abate this innocent annoyance to the inhabitants living in the locality above mentioned.

If these young folks knew how much amusement they furnish for the residents living on the dark streets they would say all their sweet farewells at the fair damsel's door. The hilarious feelings of the spectators on the many dark porches as a young man escorts past the house a young woman, around whose light dress the moonlight gleams, which may be a belt, but is not a girdle, is a sight to be seen only like an arm, can only be imagined.

So Shenandoah is to have an old-fashioned Fourth. Let the great American eagle scream, and the band play! We can distance the county in celebrating, no matter what the event may be. Let us all put our shoulders to the wheel, and make the celebration of the Fourth this year a red-letter one.

Shenandoah is a base ball town, without doubt. With a winning team, such as we now have, the games will be well patronized. Wouldn't we like to tackle that gilt-edged team that hails from the county east, and that is afraid to leave their own stamping ground; and, in fact, are compelled to ask the assistance of our crack pitcher to win games for them. The gall of some people is beyond finding out.

The people of this town will have a chance to see Walter L. Main's circus this season after all. The shows will be here next Monday. Two advance cars have been in town during the past week and the agents reported that Main was positively on the road again for the season. One of them said that the railroad wreck that crippled the shows in the western part of the state a few weeks ago will cost the Pennsylvania Railroad Company between $100,000 and $150,000.

As the paving of the west side of Main street has progressed so far as to make the road ready for the Belgian blocks it is fair to presume that the Borough Council has decided to run the pipes of the public water works through the alleys. It would be a good idea for the Council to insist that all pipes shall be laid in the alleys hereafter.

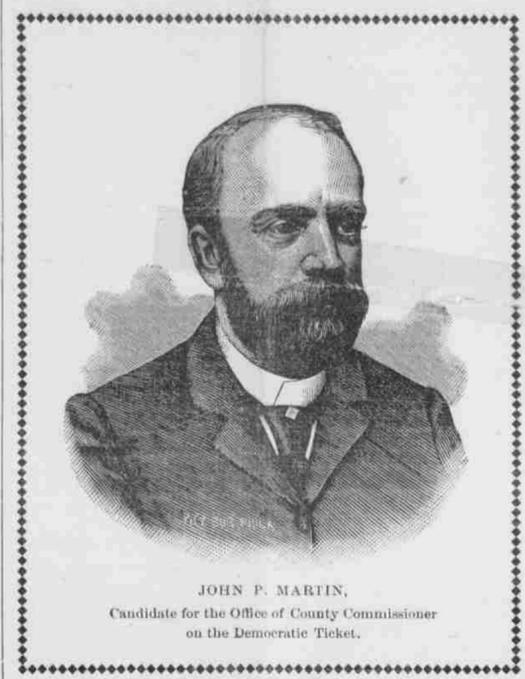

If the three electric railway companies appear before Council to night and ask for rights of way a lively session may be expected. It is hoped that in this case the usual result of too much of a good thing will not be realized.

June is the month of weddings and our bustling town has its share of them. There was enough rice scattered on the Lehigh Valley platform to do a good sized family for a year.

No class of people are wishing more for the construction of a Shenandoah-Mahogany City line of electric railway than the patrons of base ball games. When that line is completed it will prove a mint for the operators and make the trotting park a paying investment. If the road is completed by next spring the Shenandoah base ball club will surely be in one of the big leagues next year and we will have from 75 to 100 games here next season.

The desire which the Polish, Hungarian and Lithuanians exhibit for engaging in the saloon business here is certainly remarkable. The argument that there is danger of having too many saloons and causing a loss to the investors has no weight with them. They are only too anxious to get a place and pay almost incredible prices for them, assuming all risks.

JOHN P. MARTIN, Candidate for the Office of County Commissioner on the Democratic Ticket.

A POPULAR CANDIDATE

John P. Martin, of Pinegrove, Candidate for County Commissioner. John P. Martin, whose portrait appears above, is one of the most popular Democrats and successful business men in Schuylkill county. He is known from one end of the county to the other, and his frankness and generosity are highly commended. Mr. Martin first saw the light of day in the city of Reading, and will be forty-six years of age the 19th of next November. He was left an orphan at the age of eleven years, and the hustling qualities which have placed him among Schuylkill's leading business men at once asserted themselves. He learned the milling trade, at which he worked for some time, afterward becoming the engineer of a portable saw mill.

This last occupation brought him to the western end of the county just twenty-one years ago, and after following it for two years he was persuaded to become a clerk in the general store of Gensson & Sherman, at Pinegrove. Serving this firm with fidelity and trust for two years, Mr. Martin decided to embark in the mercantile business himself, and the result of the decision was the organization of the firm of Martin & Paine. This firm did a large business for three years and disposed of the entire plant at a profit. Since that time and up to Mr. Martin's appointment as warden of the county prison he has been in business for himself in Pinegrove. In fact Mr. Martin's business was so valuable that he did not give it up upon his appointment, but still carries it on, and he is rated as one of the princely merchants of the west end.

Mr. Martin comes from good old Democratic stock, his grandfather and uncle both having served as high sheriffs of Berks county. In announcing himself for County Commissioner he does so at the solicitation of his many friends, and his popularity and wide acquaintance will have great weight in the approaching convention. The nomination is generally considered to be within his reach, and unless something unforeseen occurs he will be one of our next commissioners.

In speaking of his candidacy the Pottsville Chronicle says: John P. Martin, of Pinegrove, is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. Three years ago he came within a few votes of receiving the nomination on the first ballot, notwithstanding the fact, that S. G. DeTurck, the present incumbent, had filled the office the three years previous. Mr. Martin is at present the efficient warden of the Schuylkill county prison and is a man of rare executive ability. Previous to taking charge of the prison he was engaged in the mercantile business at Pinegrove. He has introduced many new reforms at the jail and his administration of affairs in and around the prison, has stamped him as a business man and one who runs the institution on business principles. Mr. Martin has been a resident of Pinegrove for twenty-two years, and his friends in the west end are legion. He is an excellent scholar, has received a practical training in business matters, and if elected to the office for which he aspires will fill it with credit, and at the same time study the interests of the taxpayers.

OBITUARY.

Deaths of Mrs. Berollette and Contractor Joseph Dolan. The wife of B. F. Berollette, superintendent of the Shamokin division of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, died at her home at Mahanoy Place yesterday. Mrs. Berollette was an admirable lady in every respect and the announcement of her death was received here with deep regret. Mr. Berollette was in the morning for Philadelphia, with his wife apparently enjoying the best of health, and it was a severe shock to him when he received the telegram announcing the death of his wife, which resulted from heart failure.

The funeral will occur on Saturday morning, and interment will be made in Reading. Joseph Dolan died at his home in Yorkville last evening. Mr. Dolan was one of the best known men in this county and had established a wide reputation as a railroad and mine contractor. He constructed several branches for the P. & R. and Pennsylvania railroad companies and drove the Blackwood and York Farm tunnels in addition to tunnels at the Lincolnton, Good Spring and Maple Hill collieries. He also constructed the first breaker in the Mahanoy Valley, the one built for Connor & Patterson, near Girardville. According to statistics he drove more yards of tunnel in a single month than any other man in the world. Mr. Dolan was very fortunate in real estate speculations with M. Rothelmer, of Pottsville. He was also very active in politics and was repeatedly elected delegate to state and county conventions. In 1872 he was chairman of the Democratic County Committee and was deputy sheriff under W. J. Mata. Later he served three years as warden of the Pottsville jail. The cause of death was brain trouble. Mr. Dolan was born in Pottsville, May 29th, 1842, and after a common school education learned the carpenter trade. He is survived by four children, Hugh, Mark, Paul and Louisa. Mrs. Dolan died about eight years ago.
