Voorhees Says the Reading Cannot Afford It.

NO TALK OF STRIKING.

While the Company Cannot Grant Higher Wages, the Other Grievances Will be Looked Into and Remedied, if Possible. The Men Bitterly Disappointed.

Special to the HERALD.

WILKES-BARRE, July 10.—The grievance committee representing the employees of the Lehigh Valley division of the Reading system formulated a list of grievances about six weeks ago and presented them to the Reading officials at Philadelphia. On Friday night Vice President Voorhees mailed his reply to the demands of the men. A rumor was current yesterday to the effect that nearly all the concessions asked for by the men had been granted. A United Press reporter made diligent search and inquiry in railroad circles last night, but failed to find any confirmation of the rumor.

On the other hand it is said that the grievance committee held a secret meeting at Sayre, Pa., on Saturday, and that the reply of Vice President Voorhees was entirely different. From what was learned last night this reply says in effect: "We cannot at this time grant any more wages. This would increase the expenses over a million dollars per year. The other grievances will be looked after at once, and the company will do all it can to remedy any existing evil."

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen held a secret meeting in this city last night, at which the reply of Vice President Voorhees was also made known. The outcome of the negotiations was anything but satisfactory to the men, and while they decline to discuss the question in any way with outsiders, it is pretty well known that they are bitterly disappointed. They hold that the grievances submitted were just and reasonable, and even if the company granted all of them at once it would only place them on an equal footing with their company employees on the other divisions of the Reading system.

Only very few of the strikers are owing to the slack business in the coal region, and the leaders refuse to discuss the question in any way at present.

STATE NEWS OF A DAY.

Fried to Blow Up a Mt. Carmel Church with Dynamite.
MT. CARMEL, July 10.—A dastardly attempt to wreck the parsonage of the Polish church of Mt. Carmel with dynamite was made Saturday night. Fortunately the explosive had been ignorantly placed and the main part of the parsonage escaped unharmed. The back of the building must be rebuilt. Four of the large decorated windows of the church were blown to pieces, and the parochial school building shows the effect of the shock. The deed is supposed to be the outcome of the attempt to force the pastor to leave. The trouble, which has reached this critical stage, arose two months ago when the church authorities removed the priest of the congregation and sent in his place Rev. John Guicz. During the new priest's first service he was told that he was not wanted, and later was violently ejected from the church by the angry parishioners. The bishop refused to heed the request for Father Guicz's removal and ordered the church closed. An appeal was sent to Monsignor Satelli, reciting the history of the troubles and asking his intervention, several weeks having passed without reply to the petition. Several arrests have been made.

Pennsylvania Postmasters.
WASHINGTON, July 10.—The fourth class postmasters just appointed for Pennsylvania are: Anthony Armstrong, Allegheny; F. C. Davis, Roscoe; J. Z. Murrin, Boyers; T. R. Hartman, Colmar; J. H. Egolf, Douglassville; Anthony Montgomery, Elderton; W. J. Bell, Cuffey; Ellis B. Rowland, Fort Washington; J. B. Schatz, Harleysville; W. S. Apple, Knappsville; A. J. Bingham, Laurelton; W. S. Karsner, Lehighville; W. W. Knapp, Lower Providence; Charles Grimes, Mohn's Store; A. L. Logan, Mont Clare; I. S. Weber, North Wales; C. A. Kneale, Pennsylvania; C. H. Place, Sivera; Dennis McMahon, Sivera; J. A. Smith, Strasstown.

Storm in Northampton County.
EASTON, July 10.—The most destructive storm of the season swept this section Saturday evening. Telegraph poles were prostrated and communication by wire was cut off for several hours. Trees were uprooted all over the city, the city fire alarm was rendered useless and many electric wires were broken. Paul Hildebrand's new house on Easton Heights was blown down. St. Mark's Reformed church was damaged, as was also the Lehigh Organ works and many other buildings. Reports from the surrounding country show that nearly all the farmers suffered by having the newly sown wheat blown in all directions.

Killed His Wife's Paramour.
HUNTINGDON, July 10.—Yesterday afternoon George Pricketts, aged 50 years, of Mount Union, this county, was shot and killed by Alfred Kloss, also a resident of Mount Union. Both were men of families and the cause leading to the murder was the alleged intimacy of Pricketts with Kloss's wife, who is an unusually attractive woman. The shooting occurred at Lacy Furnace, just across the line in Mifflin county. The murderer fled to Jack's mountain and has not yet been recaptured.

Terrorized by Supposed Panthers.
LANCASTER, July 10.—People living in the hills on the northeastern boundary of this county adjacent to Lebanon county are excited over the supposed presence of three large wild animals in the hills. The animals are believed to be panthers, and a man came upon one of them recently in a public road. The people of the locality are almost afraid to stir out of their homes for fear of encountering them when unarmed, and they constantly expect to hear them in among their cattle.

Reading Retaining Expenses.
POTTSVILLE, July 10.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company have begun a vigorous retrenchment of their working force in the coal regions. At Pottsville the company's lower foundry was suspended, throwing seventy men out of employment. If the coal business does not improve the entire shops, together with a number of the colliers in the region, may be closed down.

Bell Boys' Fatal Play.
READING, July 10.—Arthur Choppin, colored, of Philadelphia, a bell boy at the Newmark hotel, was accidentally killed by Arnie Lemon, also a bell boy at the hotel. They were playfully struggling for the possession of a revolver, when the weapon was discharged, the ball entering Choppin's head, producing a wound from which he died in a few minutes.

Lighting's Fatal Freak.
HOLLIDAYSBURG, July 10.—William Shubert, a popular young farmer near this city, met death from a stroke of lightning while cradling grain in his father's field. The fury of the electric fluid tore his clothes to shreds and parted the rim from the crown of his hat. He was killed by a brother hidden beneath a shock of rye.

'T'WAS A GREAT GAME

Shenandoah Defeats the Famous Jeaneville Club.

BOTH SIDES PLAYED WELL

The Team Upon Which the Shenandoah People Counted Shows up in Grand Style. The Game Witnessed by a Large and Very Enthusiastic Audience.

GREAT CROWD WITNESSED

THE defeat of the Jeaneville base ball club at the Trotting park by the rejuvenated home team and saw one of the best games ever played on the grounds. Among the spectators were many people from Pottsville, Mahanoy City, Girardville, Ashland and Hazleton and all agreed with the town people that the game was as good as one could wish for.

The players who donned the Shenandoah suits were the same who were to have given the Pottsville club a defeat on Saturday had the latter not weakened and cancelled the engagement. They put up a good game at all points and gave Setley admirable support. Maslett made a couple of errors, but they were excusable ones and no one was inclined to lay any blame at his door.

CLEVER PLAYING.
Many clever plays were made on the field by both teams and the large audience did not discriminate in recognizing them. Unfortunately this cannot be said of the umpire, and on more than one occasion the audience exhibited its disapproval. Mr. Whalen's "call down" of Setley was looked upon as a little harsh and many thought that some of the Jeaneville players deserved more censure than the "little wizard," especially in the ninth inning.

It is also thought that Mr. Whalen's policy of "even up" is erroneous. If he makes a mistake and calls a ball a strike he should not try to make up for the shortcoming by calling a strike a ball. If he makes a mistake and does not wish to rectify it let him stand by it and not try to pacify the discontented by an intentional miscall. Mr. Whalen gives satisfaction on the whole as an umpire, but we think he would give more satisfaction by abandoning the policy referred to.

GOOD AS THEIR WORD.
Before the home team went into the field the players told their friends they would do their best to win the game and prove themselves equal to any club in the coal region, and they did so. In the second inning they scored the first run, which was brought in by a splendid drive by Martin, late of Danville.

In the fourth inning there were two great outbursts of enthusiasm, one when Fulmer made a three bagger and the other when Setley drove the ball with terrific speed over the left fielder's head and scored a home run. Setley was given an ovation.

In the first four innings Malarky did nearly all the fielding work for the home team. He scored nine put outs, six of them unassisted. In the third he did the work in one, two, three order, retiring the side in short time, by stopping O'Donnell's and Miller's grounders and bagging Monaghan's fly.

The visitors batted Setley pretty freely in the fourth, but Malarky's activity and Fulmer's good judgment prevented them from scoring more than one run.

Neither side scored in the fifth or sixth inning and the score remained 4 to 1 in favor of the home team until the first half of the seventh, when Fulmer scored again. The sixth run was made in the ninth inning. The visitors gave notice to the grand stand that their best work is always done in the ninth and there were good chances for a tie score. The spectators took the assertion as a joke, but after the visitors started batting the expressions of mirth were changed to expressions of defeat.

IT LOOKED SERIOUS.
Fulmer was the first man at the bat and made a hit. Shutt followed with a good two-bagger and put his predecessor up to third. It was beginning to look serious and the indignation of the Jeaneville captain to his players, "Now you've got her; hit her hard all around," was by no means assuring to the admirers of the boys who wore the suits bearing the big letter "S." Buchman then hit a grounder to Malarky, who grabbed it. Fehrbush had meantime started from third and collided with Maslett at the home plate just as the catcher received the ball on an attempted double play by Malarky. In the collision Maslett dropped the ball and the run was scored.

A COLLISION.
Maslett had been temporarily dazed by a blow received on the head in the collision and Shutt, who had advanced to third by Buchman's grounder, thought he would try to reach home. But Maslett was watching him and before Shutt could get back to third the catcher had thrown the ball into Charleton's hands. Monaghan then knocked a grounder to Malarky and the side retired.

Henry, Setley, Maslett, Martin, Hottel, Malarky and Fulmer will continue to wear Shenandoah uniforms. With these players and the excellent home material to draw from Shenandoah can now put up a game with the best of teams.

The following schedule is being arranged: Reynoldsford at Shenandoah on Wednesday next; Shenandoah at Hazleton on Thursday; at Jeaneville on Friday; at Preland on Saturday; and the next game with Pottstown here.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

More Sales of and Bids for Properties.

SOME OF THE BUYERS!

It is Reported That a Syndicate Has Been Formed to Purchase and Secure Options on all Desirable Places That Can be Brought Within Reach.

LOCAL real estate affairs are still experiencing a boom and a large number of good properties are either in the course of transfer, or bordering on it. There is hardly a desirable property in the town for which there is not a good bid and many people who do not wish to sell are tempted to take the figures offered.

Senator R. J. Monaghan has purchased the Biddell property on West Cherry street, and will make it his residence.

James Grant has purchased through, M. M. Burke, Esq., the Schmidt cottages on South White street, and will occupy one of them.

It appears that a syndicate, of which Messrs. Monaghan and Grant are members, is so confident of the future that it has decided to secure options on and purchase as many of the desirable properties in the town as their influence can bring within reach, and thus far they have succeeded well.

The Schmidt property is only one of many on White street which are sought by the syndicate, and some of the prices offered for them are above figures which would have been considered exorbitant a few years ago.

The option system is backed by steps to bring industrial establishments into the town, and as soon as these parties interested in the movement find the negotiations developing into satisfactory shape they will make calls on the options and make the purchases.

It is stated upon pretty reliable authority that one of the town manufacturing companies whose business has been extended to a very satisfactory degree, has purchased property on East Coal street and will place upon it a factory for its business.

The lot just west of the HERALD building has been purchased by Charles E. Smith and F. C. Reese and they will build handsome dwellings on both the front and rear ends of it.

The brewery project is again being agitated and would be put on foot within a short time if some definite decision could be secured from the Borough Council on the request for exemption from taxes and water rent for a term of years.

Another thing which seems to give local real estate a boom is a belief that when the Shenandoah and Mahanoy City branch of the electric railway is built many people who now live in the patches only through want of a convenient means of travel between the mines and this place will seek more commodious residences here, and that therefore many houses that have been going begging for tenants and purchasers the past few years will be in demand. The new branch will no doubt have some effect in that direction, but at the rate the prices are going up now one will have to pay for a frame structure almost what a brick building in Philadelphia would cost. But let the good work go on. It puts money in circulation.

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep, but used immediately it will save being a cripple.
