The EVENING HERALD has a larger circulation in Shenandoah than any other paper published. Books open to all.

Entered at the Postoffice at Shenandoah, Pa. as second-class mail matter.

A SHENANDOAH Democrat was so overjoyed last fall by the victory that he twitted his Republican employer by remarking at every meeting for some time afterward, "and it snowed."

A few days since orders having slackened and this same Democrat was laid off. Meeting his employer he inquired the reason, quicker as a flash came the answer "and it snowed."

It begins to look like a cold day for some of those who voted for Cleveland and better times.

An observant drummer says he can readily tell who is the boss on the farms he passes, the farmer or his wife. If a farm has a large barn and a small house, the man is boss; but when there is a fine house and a dilapidated barn, you may know that the woman has her own way. Where there is a new house and a good barn, it may be taken for granted that the man and woman are about equal in authority. If this observation is correct, this part of the country must be as happy as mortally peaceful. We have both good houses and barns and, therefore, no home "boss," and so man and wife go tottering down the hill of life hand in hand to sleep at last peacefully at the foot-singing "Joe Anderson, my Joe."—Bethlehem Times.

"THE COUNTRY demands a change," so it was said.

Grover Cleveland was elected President of the United States.

Gold has gone out of the country and the reserve has been cut into.

Mills and manufacturers are closing up because of the uncertainty over the tariff.

Banks are falling right and left. A "run" begins on the slightest provocation.

Confidence is destroyed.

President Cleveland pulled down the American flag in Honolulu and went fishing.

The country has got its change. How does it like it?

It is announced that Representative Burrows, of Michigan, proposes to introduce a resolution early in the extra session of Congress calling for an inquiry into the treatment of Union veterans by the Cleveland Administration. Such a resolution should be brought forward, and it should be supported by the full Republican strength in the House. Republican speakers on the floor of Congress should characterize the Democratic campaign of slander and malice against the old soldiers in the terms which it deserves. Nothing meaner or more unpatriotic has been witnessed in American politics than the scheme of the present Administration to assail the good names of the veterans under the pretense of honesty and to plunder them of their hard won pensions under the plea of economy.

THE crash in Colorado is the most forcible illustration of the old story of the man who "dug a ditch and dug it deep and dug it deep for his brother." It will be remembered that the brother did not fall into the ditch, and that the man who dug it did. The same thing has arrived to the stupid asses who lately in convention brayed so loudly that their bray was heard in this part of the country. It has been thought that fate had no more bitter irony than a conspirator or hoist by his own petard. That is what has arrived in Colorado. The regrettable thing is that the innocent must suffer with the guilty. There is nothing in the Colorado situation that necessarily forced the great banks to suspend. So far as is known the Denver banks are abundantly able to meet their obligations in the usual course. But a fool Governor and a fool Judge, reinforced by a lot of adventurers, were able to create a panic and a consequent run on the banks. One fool can do more harm than ten knaves, because everybody watches the knaves, and ignores the fool as of no account. If the creditors of the banks want a settlement we can commend to them the swashbucklers whose silly speeches precipitated the panic. And the way to settle with the Waites and the Belfords is to require them to retire from public life and think it over. Waites and Belford are criminals, but there is no statute that can reach them. The people should demand the retirement of the Governor without delay; and if there is no man next him in succession any better than he, a new election should be held and some man with common sense should be elected Governor. The people will at last learn that they cannot trifle in the selection of rulers. The people of this country have experimented in that way too often.

DR. MEYER ARRAIGNED.

Another Man Who May be Indicted for Completing.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Dr. Meyer, the alleged wholesale poisoner, was arraigned before Judge Cowing yesterday. He entered a plea of "not guilty" to the charges included in the indictment, with leave to withdraw that plea afterward should he see fit. Meyer was represented by Lawyer Charles W. Brooks.

A very pretty and fashionably dressed young woman and an ordinary man of German appearance were brought to the district attorney's office in the afternoon and kept under the surveillance of the detectives connected with the office. District Attorney Nicoll said they were Carl Wimmer, alias Muller, and his wife Mary, who were wanted for their connection with Dr. Henry Meyer in the alleged poisoning of various persons for years past in various companies. They were brought on here from Chicago.

Mr. Nicoll said that he did not know at the present time whether or not he would charge Wimmer with any crime, but it was possible he might be indicted for complicity in the crime for which Meyer is held. Wimmer lived with the Meyers at the time of the death of Ludwig Brandt, and disappeared a few days later. He was committed to the house of detention, and Mrs. Wimmer was allowed to go in his custody of her lawyer.

THE CORBETT-MITCHELL FIGHT.

It Will be Fought Before the Columbian Club at Ruby, Ind.

CHICAGO, July 21.—A cablegram from London announces that Mitchell has signed the articles of agreement for a fight with Corbett, the contest to take place before the Columbian Athletic club. Before the Columbian Athletic club came into the field the Coney Island club seemed to have things all its own way in securing the contest. Before the deal was closed, however, Corbett went over to the Columbian club and signed a conditional agreement to fight at the arena of that organization at Ruby, Ind., providing Mitchell would consent to the arrangement. The cablegram just received leaves the Columbian club free to go ahead perfecting arrangements for the big fight. The rivalry between the Columbian club and its eastern rival has been characterized by some bitterness. Judge Newton, matchmaker of the latter organization, charging Corbett with breach of faith in breaking off the negotiations to have the fight come off before the Coney Island club.

Disastrous Incendiary Fire.

DULUTH, Minn., July 21.—A special says that the business portion of the town of Ewen, Mich., 150 miles down the South Shore railroad, has been entirely destroyed by fire. It is a village of 3,000 people, and in the whole place only two stores are left standing. The fire is said to have been of incendiary origin, and a message received at the South Shore offices says the homeless people are holding as a prisoner a man supposed to have started the blaze. He is almost certain to be lynched.

Another Victory for Edison.

MILWAUKEE, July 21.—Judge Seaman in the United States district court, granted an injunction against the Occochee manufacturing company, restraining that company from making the Edison incandescent lamp, on the application of the Edison company. The decision upholds the validity of the Edison patents in the incandescent lamp. The Occochee concern represents the combined interests which have been fighting the Edison patents.

An Extravagant Manager Missing.

ATLANTA, July 21.—There is a complication in the affairs of the Atlanta Provision and Commission company, a small concern whose principal stockholders are country merchants. The stockholders are anxious to find N. W. Murphy, general manager. The liabilities of the company are about $20,000. The only assets that can be found amount to about $15,000. The company started about six months ago with $50,000 capital.

The Trouble in Mashonaland.

LONDON, July 21.—The first reports received from Zanabur regarding the trouble in Mashonaland were evidently incorrect in stating that there was a rising against the whites. A dispatch received last evening from Sir Henry Brougham Loch, governor of Cape Colony, says the trouble is entirely between the natives, and that the Europeans are in no danger.

A Prominent Politician's Flight.

CLEVELAND, July 21.—A man who says he is B. B. Richards, chairman of the Texas Democratic state committee during the last campaign is in a cell here on the charge of stealing a watch. He declares he picked up the watch by mistake. In his pockets are autograph letters from Grover Cleveland and ex-Governor Oglesby, of Illinois.

Accidentally Shot His Father.

ASBURY PARK, July 21.—Joseph D. Newlin, a hardware merchant of this place, accidentally shot his father, David F. Newlin, a retired merchant of Philadelphia. Young Newlin was examining a revolver when the weapon was discharged, the bullet striking his father in the abdomen. Physicians fear Mr. Newlin will not recover.

Telephone Service Disabled by Fire.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The whole business world of New York between Fourteenth and Twenty-eighth streets and the North and East rivers is thrown into confusion today by the stoppage of the telephone service, the entire plant of the Eighteenth street branch having been destroyed by fire last night.

Decorated by the Sultan.

LONDON, July 21.—The Anglo-Armenian association has received news that Pasha Pasha, the governor of Cesarea, who personally directed the infamous tortures of the Christian prisoners at Cesarea, has been decorated by the sultan and will soon be promoted.

BANKER DREXEL'S WILL.

Another Million to the Drexel Institute to Found a Hospital.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The will of A. J. Drexel gives to the German hospital $100,000 to his six grandsons, the three sons of the Biddles and the three sons of the Patis, $1,000,000 each; to J. W. Paul, Jr., $500,000; to the trustees of the Drexel institute, $1,000,000, to found either a hospital or a hospital, or to use a portion of the income for the expenses of the institute, at their discretion. He provides for the acquisition by his estate of Mrs. George W. Child's interest in the Public Ledger building, and the interest in the Drexel institute, to be divided among his children. These are the principal bequests.

He provides for the continuation of his interest in the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co. and Drexel, Harjes & Co. It is understood that the surviving children propose to contribute $1,000,000 of their estate to the endowment of the Drexel institute.

The only direct and unconditional bequest made to the Drexel institute is that of Mr. Drexel's books, pictures and objects of art. The latter expended a portion of his lifetime $500,000 in the erection of the institute buildings, and endowed it with securities which are now worth fully $1,200,000, making his entire gift to the institution nearly $1,000,000. It is believed, however, that he contemplated placing the institute on a still firmer basis by a further unconditional endowment before he died, but that the end came too soon for him to carry out this intention.

FATAL NAPHTHA EXPLOSION.

Four Persons Killed in a Brooklyn Sewer Plant.

BROOKLYN, July 21.—At 4:35 yesterday afternoon a can of naphtha exploded in the sewer plant factory of J. D. Campbell, 211 Walworth street, killing four persons. The dead are J. D. Campbell, Samuel K. Campbell, his son John Weis, 25 years old, and Jacob Weiss, Matthew Deering was badly injured.

The building, which was a two story frame structure, was completely wrecked. There were twelve persons employed in the factory, but all excepting the five mentioned in the basement and escaped without injury.

The noise of the explosion was heard several blocks away and caused consternation in the neighborhood.

Rival Judges for the Bench.

CAROLINA, July 21.—Governor Jones recently removed the county judge of Cedar county from office for political reasons, and appointed a Jones man for his successor. Judge No. 1 refuses to surrender his commission and is now holding court, while judge No. 2 is there and tries the same cases. It is thought that serious trouble will be the result, as the Locke men claim they will stand by the man they elected, and if Governor Jones sends his man there as soon as they are gone he will hold court again.

Chinese Left to Starve.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Sixty Chinese are believed to be starving to death on board a steamer at Portland, Ore. The steamship Harbin Republic brought the Chinese, but they were not allowed to land, not having their proper certificates. The vessel was also seized for smuggling, and the Chinese were left on board, believing the owners left the vessel in order to evade the expense of feeding the Chinese on the treasury department, refused to interfere, and the Celestials are unaided.

An Alleged Maryland Postoffice Robber.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Advises have been received from Oakland, Md., by the post-office authorities that the man James Atwater, who is wanted here as a suspicious person, was wanted for robbing the Oakland postoffice and carrying off over $500 worth of postage stamps, several hundred dollars in money and valuable papers. The robbery was committed on the night of July 15.

Confederate Statue Tumbled.

RICHMOND, July 21.—A handsome monument to the Confederate soldiers in Nottingham was tumbled at the court house there yesterday. The shaft is surmounted by a Confederate veteran, life size, and on the base the names of 600 soldiers are inscribed. General Fitzhugh Lee made the address, and the ceremonies included a procession, dinner and concert. Over 30,000 persons were present.

Hold Robbery in Washington State.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 21.—At 2:40 in the morning two closely armed men, and well armed, smashed a window in the Northern Pacific depot here, passed into the office and held up Night Operator Morris and Car Accountant Fecht. The tickets box was relieved of its contents, amounting to $10.25, and the robbers made their escape.

Had Both His Legs Cut Off.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 21.—Charles Dewnells, of Manchester, N. H., a young man who lost his money while attending the World's fair, was stealing a ride through this city on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad on route home, when he fell beneath the cars and both legs were cut off. He cannot recover.

A Bathing Robber.

ASBURY PARK, July 21.—Owen McCabe, of Washington, was one of the patrons of Bradley's bathing houses, and foolishly left $400 in his clothes, which was missing when he returned from the bath. Bradley claims no responsibility, as he provides safes for valuables.

COMBAT IN MIDAIR.

Desperate Conflict Between an Eagle and a Whip-snake.

J. B. Lee came in from the American ranch, west of Presentt, and related to the Courier a strange story. In the mountain crags near that ranch several families of American eagles have for many years reared their fearless brood, and have, in the main, been unmolested, their chief prey being snakes and other reptiles unwelcome to man. In the same section a species of snake known hereabouts as the whip-snake, is also common. These snakes are of the long, slim variety, seldom larger than a good-sized walking-stick, but ranging in length all the way from four to ten feet. They are not considered poisonous, but like the boa constrictor species, wind around their prey and crush it, and their squeezing powers are said to somewhat wonderful. So swift are these snakes that they disappear unharmed, when struck at with a stick, like the shadow of a flying bird.

A few days ago Mr. Lee's sons were hunting through the forest near the ranch when they saw a great eagle, which was sailing in midair, suddenly dart to the earth, heard a flutter in the brush, a plucking sound, and the bird rose above the tree tops, an unusually long whip snake dangling from its beak. The eagle held the snake just behind the head and rose rapidly; the snake seemed to be making ineffectual efforts to draw its dangling body up to coil around the eagle. The eagle was soon in midair and the snake could not be seen. But it was evident that a mortal combat was taking place, for the bird would rise and fall and emit occasional screams, as if in pain, and in a few minutes was seen rapidly descending earthward, turning over and over in his flight and flapping one wing vigorously, the other seeming to be held out stationary. But nothing could be seen of the snake. The bird struck the ground with somewhat of a thud near the boys, who hurried to the place, where they found the eagle with a death rattle on the snake just back of the reptile's head, while the snake had coiled round and round its assailant's body, crushing the bird all out of shape and breaking one wing entirely.

The boys killed and unwound the snake, while the dogs went for the eagle and soon killed it, not, however, before the bird had almost torn the nose from one of the dogs with his beak.

Absence of Mind.

They passed at the crossing's brink. "That clock upon his arm—in fact, She eyes the maid. He sees her snarl. Yet does not falter. But recollects with fatal tact That clock upon his arm—in fact, Resolves to do the courtly act Of good Sir Walter.

Why is it that she makes no sound, Staring silent as on the ground He lays the clock with low profound? Her utterance chokes her. She stands as petrified, until, Her voice recalled, in accents chill She says: "I'll thank you, if you will Pick up my clock, sir!" —Oliver Herford, in Harper's Magazine.

You'd Better Cherish Him.

There are husbands who are smart. There are husbands who are witty. There are husbands who in public are smiling as the moon. There are husbands who are healthy. There are husbands who are wealthy. But the real anglic husband, well, he's never yet been born!

Some for strength of love are noted. Who are really so devoted. That when'er their wives are absent they are lonesome and forlorn; And while now and then you'll find one Who's a fairly good and kind one, Yet the real anglic husband, oh, he's never yet been born!

So the woman who is misled To the man who may be rated As pretty fair, should cherish him forever and a day. For the real anglic creature, Perfect, quite, in every feature, He has never been discovered, and he won't be, so they say. —Commercial Gazette.
