

KING Among merchants is the one who caters to the wants of his customers, be they rich or poor. Both have an equal right to be treated fairly. Justice is a good motto, and our customers will find it so. We have a complete line of Groceries as well as Canned Goods, etc. Come and see our stock of goods, and remember the best goods are always the cheapest in the long run.

SEVERN'S
Corner Grocery,
Centre and White Sts.

THIRD EDITION

LAKEVIEW PARK.

Books Booked for This Season at This Popular Resort.

The following is a list of the dates secured and the names of the societies:

July 25.—Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, Shenandoah.

July 26.—Evangelical camp meeting.

July 27.—Wm. Penn Sunday school.

July 28.—Welsh Congregationalist, Mahanoy City.

July 29.—M. E. Sunday school, Ashland.

July 30.—St. Nicholas Union Sunday school.

August 1.—Camp 4, P. O. T. A., Mahanoy City.

August 2.—German Lutheran school, Mahanoy City.

Aug. 3.—Baptist Sunday school, Mahanoy City.

August 4.—English Baptist S. school, Shenandoah.

Aug. 5 to 13.—Re-enactment of the Potomac campaign, National Guards.

August 7.—Alpha Social Society, Shenandoah.

August 8.—M. E. Sunday school, Mahanoy City.

August 9.—Trinity Reformed and Presbyterian Sunday schools, Shenandoah.

August 10.—Evangelical Sunday school, Mahanoy City.

Aug. 13.—Reunion of German Lutheran church.

Aug. 15.—Lakewood Musical, Grant Bank.

Aug. 16.—Trinity Reformed Sunday school of Tanquesha.

August 17.—St. James Lutheran Sunday school, Ashland.

Aug. 18.—Picnic of Lydia Degree Lodge No. 112 Daughters of Rebekah, L. O. O. F., of Shenandoah.

August 24.—German Reformed Sunday school, Mahanoy City.

Sept. 4.—St. Michaels Society of the county.

Coming Events.

July 31.—Mum social and festival, by the Y. W. C. T. U.

July 31 and August 1.—Ice cream festival, under auspices of English Lutheran church in the church building.

Aug. 19.—Ice cream festival, in Robbins' opera house, under auspices of Helping Hand Society of Reformed church.

Aug. 14.—Ice cream and cake festival, under the auspices of Fowler's M. E. Sunday school.

Aug. 18.—Ice cream festival, in Robbins' opera house, under auspices of the Y. P. C. of the P. E. church.

Use WELLS' LAUNDRY BLUE, the best blue for laundry use. Each package makes two quarts. 15c. Sold by Coakley Bros.

Piles or Hemorrhoids.
Permanently cured without knife or ligature. No danger or suffering. No delay from business while under treatment. Patients who use responsible need not say until well. A perfect cure guaranteed. Send for circular. R. REED, M. D., 129 South 13th St., Philadelphia.

Refers, by permission, to the editor of the EVENING HERALD.

Thirty Days Notice.

All taxes for 1901 and 1902 must be paid within thirty days from date, or accounts will be put in the hands of Constables for collection. JOHN P. HIGGINS, Receiver of Taxes, Shenandoah, Pa., July 17, 1903. 7-17-10

Our Directory.

Arrival.	Destination.	Departure.
7:30 A. M.	Phila., Western	7:30 P. M.
8:30 A. M.	Southern States	8:30 P. M.
9:00 A. M.	New York and East (points on L. V. R. R.)	9:00 P. M.
9:30 A. M.	AKLAND	7:30 P. M.
10:00 A. M.	Grandyville	7:00 P. M.
10:30 A. M.	Haven Run, Centre and Shenandoah	6:30 P. M.
11:00 A. M.	Pottsville	7:30 P. M.
11:30 A. M.	Mahanoy City	7:00 P. M.
12:00 P. M.	Mahanoy Place, Lowville, Centre and Phila.	6:30 P. M.
12:30 P. M.	Franksville	7:30 P. M.

$1.00 Per pair for Lace Curtains. Others for $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and upwards. Call and see them. A new lot just received at C. D. Frick's Carpet Store.

OBE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

The free lunch "feud" is to be found in all localities and is quite numerous in Shenandoah. This fact was brought forcibly to my mind. He has a very regular route and you can see him entering every saloon that displays the "free lunch" sign.

Just how this distinctly American institution originated nobody seems to know, nor is it a matter of much importance. Its discovery, however, found out a great popular want for the saloon of any pretensions which has no free lunch adjacent is worse off than the merchant who fails to advertise in the Herald. In every city in the United States the free lunch is an established institution, and the thirty man in search of a drink is sure to find an array of viands without extra charge.

"Years ago," said a commercial man to me yesterday, while indulging in a social glass, "when saloons first began to hold forth attractions for eating as well as drinking, each saloon keeper attended to the preparation of the lunch counter. To-day there are over twenty establishments in New York City alone which cater exclusively to the free lunch wants of the liquor purveyors of the metropolis."

In response to my inquiry whether such a business was a paying investment, he said: "Yes, it has become rich through it. The business is thoroughly systematized, and each establishment has his customers to attend to daily. Each day the order for the following day is received and delivered by 6 o'clock in the morning. The free lunch is quite expensive, as I know of some saloons in New York that expend as much as $30 or $40 a day on their free lunches. From a small beginning it has grown to large proportions."

While on this subject reminds me of an other familiar character that infests the saloons of this town. He is what the wholesale dealers call "hangars on," and he is personally acquainted with every agent that has dealings with the saloons of this town. If he has a bill to make them believe so, Monday morning after every pay you will notice him following in the wake of the beer agents, or leisurely occupying a comfortable chair in the saloon awaiting their approach. By evening he is full of "bug juice"—at somebody else's expense.

The Newark fool who bet he could take a quantity of poison and survive and lost his bet and his life, reminds me of the merchant who imagines he can run his business successfully without the use of printer's ink. One is as probable as the other.

Very few Shenandoah people have so far visited Atlantic City this summer. For the reason, I suppose, Schuylkill county has a summer resort within its borders that is more suitable for these seeking recreation than the crowded thoroughfare of Atlantic City. The World's Fair has also something to do with the decreased attendance at the sea shore.

A mistake will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Eucalyptus at hand, will not prevent the mistake, but used immediately it will save a cripple.

THE WORLD'S FAIR TOURISTS.

Letter From One of the "Herald" Excursion Party.

EDITOR HERALD:—As one of the members of the party of the World's Fair trip I thought it would interest you and the readers of the HERALD to have a short description of the trip while en route and of our visit to the wonderful exhibition. The whole party was very agreeably surprised at the scene tendered them before the departure from Shenandoah. It made us feel good. Upon arriving at Hudson we were obliged to wait one hour for the next train. This was improved by a walk on Hudson's main street. Our next stop was at March Chunk, where we left at midnight for Niagara Falls. During the trip we were lively. It was a jolly crowd, notwithstanding the crowded condition of our train. Messrs. Baird and Holopeter were the life of the party. One would scarcely think that two such young (?) men could be so lively, but they were away from home, you know. The incidents of the trip were so numerous and varied that time and space would not allow a description of them here. Our arrival at Niagara was behind the schedule time. We should have been here at 10 a. m., but it was after noon when we got there. All went to the Great International hotel, where justice was done to many hungry stomachs. But we were not only anxious to eat, but also to gaze upon the world's famous cascade—the falls of Niagara. The scenery is certainly wonderful. Our stay at the falls most necessarily be short, such as we wished to remain. The "White City" is our destination, so all take their "trips" and go to the station of the Grand Trunk Railway. All having places assigned them in the beautiful car "Stam," the train pulls out of the station on its long journey of five hundred and ten miles. Just across the river we are no longer on the soil of our dear native land, but on British territory, and the superintendent of the Keweenaw Colliery sings "God Save the Queen."

The scenery in some parts of Canada is very picturesque. Night soon covers all with her robe of darkness. All are tired. The porter prepares our beds and then each retires to rest and sleep, and perhaps dream of the home left so far behind us. The train arrives at Chicago and our party goes to the Hotel Mecca, which was assigned to us before we left our homes. This party is a wonderful lot, but the Fair—well, it is too immense in its scope for me to give any idea what it is like. The buildings are very large and filled with all imaginable things from all parts of the world. Everything in the grounds is grand and magnificent. The Fair is Jackson's park. It is beautifully situated on the shore of Lake Michigan, seven miles from the centre of the city and three from our hotel. As one of the party I am glad that I have seen this wonderful work of man, which is designed to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.

ONE OF THE PARTY.
Chicago, July 20, 1903.

Working in Earnest.
The men engaged in constructing the Shenandoah and Mahanoy City branch of the Lakewood Electric Railway are working like beavers and have graded the road as far as the new shops at Yatesville. The work of distributing alleys along the line has also been commenced. The showing by the Lakewood company is quite in contrast with that made

STILL FULL OF MYSTERY.

Man's Disappearance Not Explained by Finding His Corpse.

The New York dailies recently published a somewhat confused article, the substance of which amounted to this: Clevero Harrison, a wealthy carriage manufacturer, whose home is in Milford, Mich., and who is a fourth cousin of ex-President Benjamin Harrison, left Norfolk for New York on the Old Dominion steamer Guyandotte Thursday night. Next morning Mr. Harrison was missing. A search proved that he was not on the steamer. There was no trace of him and nothing like a good explanation of his disappearance.

On the same steamer was a Mrs. Mary Oliver, as registered, who said that she was a widowed daughter of Mr. Harrison, that they had traveled together for several years as his health was not good, that he had when he left Norfolk $700 in cash and a valise with $100,000 worth of stocks and bonds in it. As no trace of it and no information about him could be found, she was greatly distressed. Telegrams flew in many directions, and Mrs. Oliver that afternoon started to Norfolk by rail to "look after her father." Perhaps some accident happened to her. At any rate she never reached Norfolk, and as near as can be determined by the recollections of the railroad employees she left the train not far north of Baltimore.

Next appeared the stewardess of the steamer Guyandotte, who testified that the styled Mrs. Oliver had gone to Norfolk as the wife of C. Harrison not long before. Telegrams from Michigan showed that she was a wife of C. Harrison and that his daughter, Mrs. Wallace, was searching for traces of him. It was then shown that he was the man who registered as "O. Harrison" on the steamer Guyandotte. The last of the body was discovered about five miles south of where it was presumed Case disappeared from the steamer Guyandotte. The body had been robbed and the pockets of the clothing turned inside out.

All the rest is mystery. It is certain that Mr. Case, a gentleman of 70 odd years, had been traveling about with an adventurous crew for some time, but whether he fell overboard or was thrown overboard and what became of his money no one knows.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.
How Westley Hickerson Was Killed by George Rice in Nevada.

Is there murder in the air? This question is asked every summer when the usual series of hot weather affrays begins, but this summer the murders seem to be of an unusually shocking and unnatural sort. Among these is the killing of Westley Hickerson, a cowboy of Nevada, who was lassoed and dragged to death a few days ago by his companion, George Rice.

The squad of cowboys had taken a drove of cows from the railroad pens at Carlin onto to Dumphy's ranch, two miles away, and all had "liqueted up" pretty thoroughly and were very merry that afternoon. Among their practical jokes Hickerson threw his pistol into a stream of water. Then Rice lassoed Hickerson and was trying to put him into the water when the others interfered. Rice said he would leave the squad, and he and Hickerson in fairly good humor settled their

USE DANA'S SASSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

Switch-Back Railroad.

Trains leave Switch-Back depot, March Chunk, seven days, as follows: 8 a. m., 10:10, 11:20 a. m., 1:00, 2:20, 3:30, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 9:00 p. m. Returning, leave Summit Hill, 9 a. m., 11:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20, 3:30, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 9:00 p. m. May 15, 1903.

Given Away.
For sixty days, Seegoy, the photographer, will give a 10x12 platinum picture with every dozen of his $3 cabinets.

Licensed Hotel For Sale.
In a mining town. Good bar trade. Address, E. care EVENING HERALD, Shenandoah, Pa. 8-13-103

Too High Living.
By Keyhole Door. Be sure that the same LEWIS & BAZZ, Ashland, Pa., is printed on every sack. 3-3-Staw

A Payment He Preferred.
Hunker—I asked old Mr. Munn if I might pay my addresses to his daughter.
Spattie—What did he say?
Hunker—He suggested that I pay my debts first.—Detroit Free Press.

The Girl of the Season.
He asked—"Have you faith in love's mysterious dreams?"
She answered—"Oh, yes, if it means to dream."—Detroit Tribune.

THE HUCKLEBERRY INDUSTRY.

Pickers in This Vicinity Average About 1,000 Quarts a Day.

Many of our towns people have been wondering where all the huckleberries that are picked on the mountains in this vicinity go. A visit to the Goodman Bros.' wholesale fruit and vegetable depot on West Centre street shows that nearly all the gleanings of the pickers go to Philadelphia and New York. The Messrs. Goodman do all the wholesale buying here and put the berries in the familiar low, long and narrow wicker baskets, which are sent away by express and placed on sale in the city markets. The pickers receive five cents per quart for the berries. At the beginning of the season the price was six cents, but as the pickers have multiplied the price has lowered. The Messrs. Goodman now receive about 1,000 quarts a day, but they say the pickings are not near as large as last year. This is accounted for by the fact that many men who did the picking during the dull season last summer are working at the Haven five days this year and the dealers must now rely principally upon what the women and children gather. The men are considered the best pickers, as they try to gather a sufficient supply to net them in a day as much money as they would make if working in the mines.

CICERO HARRISON.

On the same steamer was a Mrs. Mary Oliver, as registered, who said that she was a widowed daughter of Mr. Harrison, that they had traveled together for several years as his health was not good, that he had when he left Norfolk $700 in cash and a valise with $100,000 worth of stocks and bonds in it. As no trace of it and no information about him could be found, she was greatly distressed. Telegrams flew in many directions, and Mrs. Oliver that afternoon started to Norfolk by rail to "look after her father." Perhaps some accident happened to her. At any rate she never reached Norfolk, and as near as can be determined by the recollections of the railroad employees she left the train not far north of Baltimore.

Next appeared the stewardess of the steamer Guyandotte, who testified that the styled Mrs. Oliver had gone to Norfolk as the wife of C. Harrison not long before. Telegrams from Michigan showed that she was a wife of C. Harrison and that his daughter, Mrs. Wallace, was searching for traces of him. It was then shown that he was the man who registered as "O. Harrison" on the steamer Guyandotte. The last of the body was discovered about five miles south of where it was presumed Case disappeared from the steamer Guyandotte. The body had been robbed and the pockets of the clothing turned inside out.

DRAGGING HIM INTO CAMP.
counts, most of which related to borrowed money. Rice then started to Carlin. He had covered perhaps half the distance to town when for some reason he wheeled his horse and started back toward the camp. Hickerson saw him coming, and without a word to his companions mounted his horse and started out to meet Rice. They advanced until within about 50 yards of each other, when Hickerson pulled his revolver and began firing.

Rice leaped over on the opposite side of his horse, Indian fashion, and began circling around Hickerson, at the same time undraining his horse. He kept gradually drawing nearer to Hickerson. Hickerson had fired three times, but owing to Rice's maneuvers had failed to hit either horse or rider.

In the meantime Rice had drawn close enough to his assailant. He straightened up in his saddle, whirled his lariat around his head, and in a second the lariat had settled around his victim's body, and Rice was wildly dashing toward the camp, dragging his now helpless man over the rocks and through the sage brush.

When the horrified cowboys stopped him and undid the lasso, Rice coolly remarked that some one should go for a doctor.

"Doctor nothing!" was the reply. "We'll send for the foreman and the sheriff."

"Then I'll make myself scarce," said Rice, and he galloped away.

The jury returned a verdict that Hickerson was "dragged to death by George Rice," but expressed no opinion blaming or exonerating the latter.

No Exception.
Johnnie—Mamma, this book says knowledge is power.
Mamma—And it is, my child.
"No, mamma, it isn't. I know there is a pile in the pantry, but I can't get it."—Yankee Blade.

A Question of Shortness.
Dinkle—"It's a strange thing to me how a short man always wants a tall girl."
Dunkle—"Humph! It's a strange thing to me how a short man always wants a girl. I'm blamed if I do when I'm short."—Buffalo Courier.

Grand Display of FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changeable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

USE DANA'S SASSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

PROPERTIES FOR SALE.
Shenandoah Offers Opportunities to Seekers of Investment.

- The following enumerated properties are for sale and information concerning them may be had upon application at the HERALD office:
- 1.—A row of frame houses containing apartments for six families. Will net at least 15 per cent on the price asked. Location in the heart of Shenandoah.
 - 2.—A splendid factory site, 36,000 feet in size, in the heart of Shenandoah, and including large building. Cheap.
 - 3.—Lot and large building with railroad at front and rear, with or without a horse power engine, boiler and shafting. Splendid building for a factory.
 - 4.—An elegant new house in Pottsville, complete in every detail, all conveniences, large and high rooms. Lot 60x170 feet. Large tenancy.

CURE THAT COUGHS WITH SHILOH'S CURE.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

WANTED—A good girl. Apply to M. A. A. Acker, 21 South White street, Shenandoah, Pa. 7-21-103.

FOR RENT—For store room on 121 North Centre street, Shenandoah, Pa. Apply to the premises for full particulars. 7-21-103.

NOTICE is hereby given that a strange cow, dark in color, with horns of unusual size, and seven years old, white and yellow spotted on the face, neck, and legs, and a white star on the forehead, was seen on July 15, 1903, near the farm of J. S. HIGGINS, near Pottsville, Pa. If any one has seen this cow, please notify the undersigned.

STAY IN THE CITY. — E. J. HIGGINS, Pottsville, Pa.

Grand Display of FINE DRESS GOODS

DRESS GOODS is such a bewildering topic that we will not attempt a full description, but give a partial outline, which you can fill in by a personal inspection. There are the plain and changeable diagonals; plain, plaid, striped and invisible plaid serges; fancy mixtures in all sorts of odd weaves, dots, threads, cross-threads, hair-lines, lines here and there, many at a glance appearing alike, but upon examination are found entirely different. Our assortment of silks is complete—china silks, china surah, plain surah, bengaline, plain, figured and changeable silks, in all the new shot effects. Full line of fancy braids to match any color of dress goods.

...In Wraps We find the most stylish and the prevailing mode to be the Cape, in some of its variations, single, double or triple capes. Some are plain, others very highly decorated, with fancy indent braid, butterfly collars, or some full arrangement at the neck, so much appreciated this season by the feminine fancy. To some, coats only are the correct garment. To those we would say coats are equally fashionable and stylish, many of these having capes also attached—sometimes one, two or three, as the taste or inclination of the wearer may desire.

We have this season, for the first time, added a Millinery Department, and have spared neither trouble nor expense to make it a success. The result exceeds our most sanguine expectations. This department will be under the same management and conducted on the same principles that have always characterized our entire business. We shall keep everything in trimmed and untrimmed hats, novelties of every description. Having secured a trimmer noted for her artistic and skillful work, we are enabled to suit all tastes. We invite a careful inspection of our entire store. All welcome.

Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart,
POTTSTVILLE, PENNA.

THE STUDENT CAMERA
A recreation that educates. Cultivates the instinct and taste for art and leads to a study of what is most lovely in nature. Examine our student camera, No. 2, price $2.50 complete, including five lenses, folding tripod, carrying strap, with shoulder strap, 54 page instruction book and all necessary apparatus and supplies for starting in photography.

GIRVIN, DUNCAN & WAIDLEY'S
8 South Main Street.

John F. Ploppert,
20 EAST CENTRE ST.
bread, cake and pie bakery!

CHRISTIAN SCHMIDT
No. 207 West Coal Street,
SHENANDOAH, PENNA.

Lauer's
CELEBRATED LAGER
AND PILSENER BEERS,
Porter, Ale and
Fine Old Stock A/c.

Public Notice!
Notice is hereby given that persons destroying or detaching beer signs will be prosecuted as provided by the Act of Assembly approved April 14, 1903.

Brokers' Association,
Shenandoah, Pa., June 5, 1903.

ALMA SHOE DRESSING!
The best preparation in the market for shoes, catches and all leather goods where a beautiful black is desired.

AT THE—
LEATHER STORE!
16 W. Centre St.,
WEEKS' SALOON,
17 S. Main Street.
Finest Brands of Wines, Whiskies and Cigars.

Base Balls, Bats, Masks, Foot Balls,
A full line of Stationery, Blank Books, etc.

FRED KEITHAN
104 North Main street, Shenandoah, Pa.

WHOLESALE BAKERS AND CONFECTIONERS.
Ice Cream—wholesale and retail.
Picnics and parties supplied on short notice.

FIRE INSURANCE.
argued and oldest reliable purely cash company represented by

DAVID FAUST
120 S. Jaron St., Shenandoah, Pa.

The Student Camera
The outfit includes Five Lens, Folding Tripod, Carrying Bag with shoulder strap, carrying instruction book, and all necessary apparatus and supplies for starting in photography. It is the simplest, lightest, most compact, easiest of compression, readiest in manipulation, and cheapest complete outfit ever produced.

Student No. 2 - Price $2.50.
The Student Camera can be seen at

BEDDALL BROS.,
Nos. 6 and 8 North Main Street,
SHENANDOAH, PA.

Hardware, Tumblers, Groceries and House Furnishings Goods. Fish and Tackle and Sportsmen's goods.

HORSE SALE!
Wait for Bargains!
38 HEAD WESTERN HORSES,
The kind that the Cowboys rode from Wyoming to St. Louis at the Fair, will be sold at Public Sale to

SHENANDOAH,
Saturday, July 29, '03
WAIT FOR THIS CHANCE!