A BUNGLING EXECUTION

Murderer Taylor Placed Twice in the Electric Chair.

FIRST CONTACT FAILED TO KILL.

The Victim Laid on a Cot for an Hour While Arrangements Were Perfecting for a Second Shock-Ductors Agree That He Suffered No Pain.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 28.—William E., Taylor was placed in the electric chair at 12:30 p. m. yesterday in the prison here for the murder of a fellow convict in the prison last year. The warden announced that the prisoner had confessed his crime The foot rest of the chair broke and the dynamo gave out, so that a second cur-rent could not be applied, and Taylor, who was not dead from the first contact, soon began breathing heavily. He was placed on a cot and conveyed back to the corridor, where he continued breathing and grouning, with his pulse growing stronger. Physicians say he was unconscious after the first contact of 1,700 volts. His condition was then analogous to that of a man stricken with apoplexy. Taylor was carried again to the chair at dynamo was passed through his body. The cond attempt proved successful.

Not since the electrocution of Kemmler, three years ago, has any execution of the death penalty caused such a widespread sensation. When the witnesses had been liberated, after two hours enforced con-finement, they began relating the harrowing scenes thay had observed, and soon the entire city was discussing the failure of the state's executioner. The scene at the something indescribable.

Had the body not been held by the straps it would have fallen on the floor. After Taylor had been laid on the cot in the adjoining room be was grouning aloud and moving his head from side to side. His eyes were closed, but his features were not distorted with pain. Taylor's pulse grew stronger and his breathing seemed less labored. He might recover. He was even now attempting to rise from his cot. twas necessary for the keepers to plulon his arms and legs. Dr. Conway gave him a hypodermic injection of morphine to quiet his struggles. He was asked if the patient would recover with sufficient time when arrangements for the second contact were completed the limp form of Taylor was carried to the death chamber by three keepers. The broken foot rest had been repaired. He was held in position by the straps and the curent was turned on, The body stiffened up, but not with half the force as upon the first attempt, and for half a minute 1,240 volts coursed through his system. The current was then turned off, the stethescope applied and he was of-

The three physicians present coincided in the opinion that Taylor was absolutely unconscious from the first contact, and they did not think he had suffered for a

The murder was perpetrated on the afternoon of Sept. 20, 1892. The fact that a murder had been committed was not known until it was announced by the murderer himself. When the keeper asked Taylor why he did it he replied: "I've got tired of staying in prison all the time, and I'd rather take a dose of electricity and have done with it."

Cardinal Principles of Reading. dinal principles which should ever be borns In mind-first, that it is necessary to keep fairly abreast of the principal thoughts and news of the time, and, second, that it is essential, in order to a right estimate of present events, to cull at any rate some of present events, to can at any rate size of the choicest flowers of the literature and history of the past. To keep fairly apace with the general thought and news, news-papers and magnaines are indispensable, though too much arrention cannot be paid to Emerson's advice in this regard—to learn the art of quickly and profitably aslearn the art of quickly and profitably as-similating their contents. To be forever wrapped up in a newspaper and to depend entirely upon it for mental sustenance is truly a bumiliating position for people "heirs of all ages, foremost in the ranks of time." But it is a common one, for there are the mode who mover residue any are thousands who, never reading any thing else, are content to let their intellect starve in the minst of plenty. It is indeed this very plenty which is so embarrassing. The second principle that has been indi cated-that it is necessary to obtain a wel proportioned view of present events—in volves the reading of history, biography, philosophy and fiction. It is a striking comment on the prevalence of popular is norence that a sensational morder will provide a month's topic for conversation, while the publication of a profound work which is the result of long years of toil will pass unheeded. A people educated by reading that which would give them a just sense of proportion could not fail to discriminate between the relative importance of the two events. For this purpose English litera-ture is admirably adapted, Lord Macaulay averring that there is in the linglish clas-sics a body of teaching power which the literature of Greece and Rome cannot rival "No people has on the whole written so much and so well," says the Rev. Stopford

Dean, Commander of Gen-Grant Post, G.A.R., Hondont, N.Y., and Chief U.S. Mail Agent of the Uister & Delaware Railroad and one of the most popular and well known Gentlemen in the East, whose veracity is beyond question says:

I was all run down with DYSPEPSIA.
I doctored and doctored but it all resulted the same way. I grew worse. Interest untold misery night and day. My case was pronounced incurable. I suffered this way for fully TWO YEARS, I chanced to meet Dr. Kennedy on the street about that time, and I told him of my condition and he said, "Jumer," you need not suffer so, come to my office and I'll give you a bottle of FAVORITE REMEDY, take it morning, noon and night, and it will cure you. I took the medicins as directed, but had no confidence in a cure, as my case had been tried dence in a cure, as my case had been tried by so many. After using it a week I began to feel better, and in a short while after that I was ENTIRELY CURED after that I was ENTIRELY CURED—

France May Accept the Terms Granted by Siam.

SO ASSERTS SIR CHARLES DILKE

Meanwhile the Work of Enforcing the Blockmie of Bangkok Proceeds, While Inhabitants of That Place Believe France Wants Siam as a Province. LONDON, July 28, Sir Charles Dilke said in an interview today he believed that the Macquis of Dufferin and M. Develle had reached an agreement by which France would abandon her claims to the upper Mekong. "Of course," he added, "the sur-render will be glossed over by some form of compromise. | 'I cannot imagine Eng-land's agreeing : anything else." The Pall Mail Gazette says: "We learn from an authority that is deserving of the highest respect that the Franco-Siamese difficulty has been settled. France has agreed to accept Siam's proposals, and has abandoned her claims to the territory lying etween the eighteenth and twenty-third arallels of latitude. The Standard's Paris correspondent sava I gather that M. Develle and Lord Duf ferin have agreed to a compromise on the frontier question. The newspapers have no inkling of this, and are as aggressive as

The Pekin correspondent of The Standard says: "Whilst China is not likely to attempt to enforce her suscrain rights so imited to the Menam and the lower Mekong, I can state positively on the highest authority that she is fully determined to upheld her dominion on the upper Me-kong. If France encresshes above lati-tude if degrees she will find China in her path."

Blygger, July 98 Notice was given

BANGKOK, July 28.—Notice was given yesterday of the blockade by the French fleet. Outgoing vessels have been warned that they must clear from Bangkok and Koh-si Chang before tomorrow or aubmi to defention. The blockade will extend along the entire north coast of the Gulf of Siam. The French fleet with M. Pavic French minister resident, has gone to Koh si-Chang. The general expectation is that early in August the French fleet will as-tack Bangkok and land some 5,000 men. There is little doubt here that France's purpose is to make Siam a French colony. The Siamese government is exceedingly anxious to avoid open warfare. When the gunboat Lutin was at the Menam bar yes terday the foreign minister sent to M. Pavis a no, o to the effect that the king M. and his silvisers were most anxions to maintain peace. All such efforts, how-ever, are believed by the English residents

English traders in Singapore are indignant, and protest that the block-ade will cut iff communication with the English and German houses in Bangkok. Hong Kong traders, on the other hand, expect a great increase of business from the closing of the Bangkok market. They hope to send large supplies to Saigon, as the French basis of hostillties.
