Mr. Harris, of Tenness Mr. Harris, of Tennessee. The senate's session today was opened with prayer by the senate's new chaplain, Mr. Milburn. Its two principal officers, Mr. Cos., the new secretary, and Mr. Bright, the sergeant-at-arms, also repre-sent the changed political complexion of the body. All the committee clerkships the body. All the committee clerkships underwent political change during the extra session in March, and most of the appointees under the prior secretary and sergeant-at-arms have only had their of-ficial decapitation postponed, not averted. There are thirteen new senators in the present session. They are: White and Perkins, of California, Martin, Kansas; Lindsay, Kentucky (who succeeds Mr. Car-lisle); Caffery, Wisconsin; Lodge, Massa-chusetts; Allen, Nebraska; Smith, New Jerney; Murphy, New York; Roach, North Dakota; Camden, West Virginia; Mitchell, Wisconsin. Wisconsin. In addition to these new senators there are three others as to whose admission the question was left undecided at the close of the extra session. And this ques-tion must be one of the first to be settled and decided. The point in regard to them is, whether a state legislature having been in session and failed to elect a senator to

In session and failed to elect a senator to fill a vacancy, the vacancy can afterwards be filled through an appointment by the governor. A precedent has to be estab-lished in the case of senators appointed by the governors of Montana, Washington and Wyoming. It was debated through-out several days during the extra session, and may occupy considerable time of the "extraordinary session" before any legisla-tive subject can be disposed of. It is to the old leaders of both political parties in the senate that the public will look for action. Foremost on the Repub-lican side is Mr. Sherman, who gave his name to the act, now the object of so much name to the act, now the object of so much condemnation-an act which he has dename to the act, how the object of so mith condemnation-an act which he has de-fended as a compromise measure, and that he is now willing and auxious to see repealed. He will probably be supported in whatever position he takes on the silver question by such able adjutants as Alli-son, Aldrich, Frye, Hais, Hawley, Hoar and Morrill, and he will be as ably antag-onized by such Republican senators as Jones, of Nevada; Teller, Wolcott and Stewart. There are quite as many expe-rienced debaters and parliamentarians on the Democratic side, including Senators Gorman, Gray, George, Harris, Morgan, Pugh, Vest, Vance and Voorhees, but they will all range themselves, not on party lines, but on their individual and state views of financial polloy. The first business in order after the senate was called to order was to administer the was called to order was to administer the oath of office to three senators and to Mr. eath of office to three senators and to Mr. Cox, the new secretary of the senate. The senators who took the oath are Mr. Per-kins, who succeeds Mr. Stanford, Mr. Pasco, of Florida, who has been re-elected after serving ad interim under a guberna-torial appointment, and Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, who was not present during the iast extra session, and so had not yet qualified. After notice was received from the house that it had organized the proper committee was appointed to wait upon the president and notify him that congress was ready to receive any communication was ready to receive any communication he may care to make. he may care to make. This will call forth the may care to make. This will call forth the message explaining the president's reasons for convening congress in special session and suggesting legislation to cure the ills from which the country is suffer-ing, for which message both bodies are now/waiting. It is not likely that the mess-age will be sent in today. The house was called to order by Clerk Kerr. As he called theroil be looked upon a bundred new and untried men, and found many familiar faces absent. There will probably be little dons in the house this wock, owing to the non-excistence of committees. No bills, under the rules, can be introduced until the committees have been named, but the desire of repre-mentive to here pace with the conste in
