SHENANDOAH'S Democratic vote will be divided this fall, provided the Republicans catch the part of men at the county convention.

ONCE again we remark, railroad trains pass through this town at a too high rate of speed for the safety of pedestrians. This matter should receive the attention of the borough authorities, and that immediately.

MANY Democrats are as greatly interested in the outcome of the Republican county convention as are the members of the latter party. Upon the action of the Republicans depends the success of the Democratic ticket.

PEOPLE should get over the idea that it is wrong to interfere with the workings of Providence, and therefore wrong to prevent disease, disaster and death. Some people oppose the movement to fix up the dogs so that they can do no damage.

SHOOTING people has become so common that a natural inference would be that every other man carried a revolver, and with it a determination to use it upon almost any provocation. There is a law against the carrying of deadly weapons, but who has ever heard of it enforced? If such a thing has occurred it has been kept very quiet.

STRAWS indicate that the storage battery will be thoroughly investigated for street car propulsion in the new lines now being projected. There is infinite development in the storage battery evidently. In New York City the storage system has given such satisfaction, experimentally, on at least one line where it has been tried, that it is to be extended to other cars.

STILL Shenandoah is without a Board of Health. There is not a town in the state that is as badly in need of such a body as Shenandoah. An epidemic is liable at any time to break out in our midst, and we are not at present prepared to fight it successfully. Furthermore, a preventive is preferable to a cure, and cleanliness is the greatest safeguard against disease. To deprive the residents of this town of the services of a health officer is no more nor less than criminal negligence.

DEMOCRATS are now beginning to regret the Sarsaparilla and do nothing but KIND THAT CURE, deplorable condition in September. It is the time they say to drop partyanship and unite for the good of the country. Yet a few weeks ago these same organs and some of them are yet at it—were trying to throw the blame of the present troubles upon the Harrison administration and were crying lustily "bankrupt treasury." They did not think of patriotism then. The fact is these organs find themselves in a hole and are just now awfully anxious for Republicans to help them out. When it comes to patriotism, however, the Republicans are never found wanting.

The provincial revolutions in the Argentine Republic do not appear to be of national importance, but they indicate a spirit of discontent that might easily be fanned into an insurrection against the national government. Ever since the Argentines virtually mortgaged their country to British capitalists for money which was recklessly expended in so called public improvements and in the purchase of imported luxuries, the people have been in a condition of feverish unrest. The nation is crushed beneath the weight of debt, and in several of the provinces gross maladministration adds intolerably to the burden. Hence these outbreaks, which the national government now proposes to suppress and prevent in the future by a general disarmament of the provincial forces. This will be a wise step, especially if it be true that the provincial soldiery is largely recruited from the jails. Argentine needs all the advantages that peace can confer upon her, if she is to recover from her financial bondage to Europe.

IMPORTANT TO PENSIONERS.

Those Suspended Have Further Time to Prove the Justice of Their Claims.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Judge Leehren, pension commissioner, has extended until Oct. 10, 1893, the period within which pensioners whose pensions have been suspended may make proof their right to receive them.

To a reporter of the United Press Judge Leehren said in explanation of his order: "Under color of the act of June 27, 1890, but really under the misconstruction of that act arising from order 164, many pensions were granted for disabilities not of service origin which in no way incapacitated the person from the performance of manual labor, and were therefore not pensionable. The duty of the bureau is to drop these pensions. But in some cases claimants or their attorneys may have been misled by the practice of the bureau under order 164 in accepting their proof only to such specific disabilities as were being rated under that order, while in fact a good case for pension might have been shown. These pensions, therefore, have not been dropped, but suspended, and notice given to the pensioners, in accordance with established usage, to furnish further evidence within sixty days, and show their right to pensions, if a legal right exists. Ordinarily this has been found to give sufficient time.

"It has been thought, however, that because of the persistent misrepresentation by certain classes of newspapers and persons of the action and intention of this bureau, that pensioners may have been misled and discouraged from presenting such proofs as they could furnish or from asking for a medical examination. I have, therefore, upon the suggestion and advice of the secretary of the interior consented to extend the time. Every old soldier entitled to a pension under the law should have it, and if his right does not appear by his proofs on file the fullest opportunity will be given to supply such proof."

The Persian Theater Closed.
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Director General Davis ordered the Persian theater on the Midway Plaisance closed because the dancing there is not in harmony with the American code of morals. Manager Delmas refused to close his show until the Columbian guards appeared. The cause of the action was the habit of having the girls dance entirely nude after midnight for the benefit of private parties, who paid liberally for the "show."

With a Knife in His Heart.
EATONSTOWN, N. J., Aug. 7.—John Chew, an employe at Pierre Lorillard's stalls at Monmouth Park race track, was brutally murdered yesterday. The murder is alleged to have been committed by S. P. Donovan, also an employe of Mr. Lorillard, but who is better known as "Snip" Donovan. The murder was committed with a knife, which was thrust into Chew's heart. Donovan was taken to Freshold jail, but being refused.

No Cold Storage Warehouse Indictments.
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The grand jury adjourned sine die without returning any indictments in connection with the Cold Storage warehouse fire. The grand jury accosts the four men held by the coroner's jury—D. H. Burnham, chief of construction at the fair; Fire Marshal Edward Murphy, John B. Skinner, president of the Chicago Iron works, and Charles A. McDonald, general manager of the burned plant.

Resuming Operations.
READING, Pa., Aug. 7.—The two large anthracite blast furnaces of the Reading Iron company are still undergoing repairs, and it is expected will be lighted early in the fall. During the past week No. 5 mill resumed work, and No. 4 mill, which is what is known as No. 3 Lapwell Furnace will be lighted. It is said that the entire plant will soon be running full handed.

A Well Known Army Officer Dead.
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Colonel Henry M. Black, one of the best known officers of the regular army, died suddenly in this city of heart failure. He filled the post of commandant of West Point from September, 1884, to July 1, 1891, and during the greater part of that time was instructor of military tactics. He was placed on the retired list Jan. 15, 1891.

Out in Two by a Train.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 7.—Richard Northrup, aged 38 years, a brakeman on a Lehigh Valley railroad freight train, while giving a signal from the top of a box car near Falls Station, fell beneath the cars on the roadbed. Half of the train passed over his body, cutting him in two. He resided at Sayre, Pa., where he leaves a wife and four children.

May Run for O'Ferrall's Seat.
RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 7.—Hon. Basil B. Gordon, the chairman of the Democratic state committee and an unsuccessful aspirant for the appointment as minister to Italy, will resign. It is believed that he will run for congress in the Seventh district to succeed Colonel O'Ferrall, if the latter is nominated for governor.

George Don't Want the Soldiers' Money.
LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Duke of York has announced that it is his desire that the money collected by seamen and marines of the British navy, and presented to him and Princess May on the occasion of their wedding, be added to the fund for the families of the victims of the Victoria disaster.

Delicate Sandwiches.
Sandwiches for ball suppers can be made of thin scallops of roast fowl, game or any kind of cooked meat, or of turkey, lobster or the tails of pickled crabs or crayfish, masked by white mayonnaise sauce and apple jelly, while ordinary sandwiches, according to Francatelli, should be cut from half quarter loaves and made from thin slices of loaf, well baked or browned, seasoned with pepper and salt and French or English mustard, sliced pickles being sometimes added.—Exchange.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

"Every Dose Helps Me"
When I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I think it the best medicine for the blood. My six-year-old son had scabies on his neck caused by Erysipelas. They became so large and painful he could not wear his shoes. A week after I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla, the sores began to heal up and disappear, and when I had taken two bottles he was entirely cured. Mrs. C. H. Titus, South Gibson, Pa.

The Age Is Prolific of Young Murderers and Robbers.

ALSO OF PHENOMENAL LIARS.

George Hanley, the sixteen-year-old desperado—An Alleged Eleven-year-old Murderer—A Tragic-Comedy Among the Street Arabs of New York.

And verily we have them. Only a few days ago George Hanley, aged 16, who had been his way from Chicago on the cars, tapped a till at 227 East One Hundred and Third street, New York, and made a long running fight in which he shot three persons and tried very hard to shoot another. Only a few weeks ago Louis Wood, a street arab of New York and Brooklyn, more barbarously murdered little 8-year-old Bertie Wagner in a New Jersey farmhouse. At least such is the charge, though there is a faint hope that he may prove innocent. And about the same time the sad spectacle was witnessed in the great city of two boys, aged 9 and 12, on trial for the murder of a third, aged 11.

The story of Louis Wood and Bertie Wagner is indeed a pitiful one, he the older boy guilty or innocent. When Louis stood up before Judge Bartlett of the supreme court in Brooklyn, where it was decided whether he should be sent to New Jersey to answer for a life a number of astonishment went up from the lawyers and spectators. The boy looks as though he were not more than 6 or 7. He is about 3 feet 8 inches in height, very slender and has coarse features and shaggy brown hair. His eyes, which are set far back in his head, gaze about in a half awake manner. He is, in prosaic truth, a child of the masses, stunted in his growth probably by lack of proper nourishment in infancy, perverted in intellect by lack of training and stunted in his moral nature.

After the usual career of a street arab, in which he displayed an almost unnatural cunning, he was sent at the age of 11 to be a farm boy with a Mr. Wagner near Freshbold, N. J. The pet and pride of the Wagners was their little 8-year-old boy, who was delighted with the coming of Louis and seemed quite enraptured with his slang and his talk about New York life. But Louis Wood soon grew very fond of Baby Bertie. He "had no use for babies," he said, and treated the little fellow roughly. He was of so little account on the farm that Mr. Wagner soon told him to go. He went up stairs to pack his little stock of clothing, and playful Bertie followed him. In a minute or two Mrs. Wagner heard the report of a gun and rushed up to find her darling horribly mangled and lying in a pool of blood.

An old gun that had long stood in the corner lay on the floor still smoking. The father was soon there and saw that the gun had been fired at close range and the baby's eye and left cheek had been torn away. They raised up the little darling. The baby opened his blue eyes just once and looked around upon the tearful faces of papa and mamma.

"Oh, mamma, mamma, give Bertie a drink," he moaned. A few more groans and little signs ended all. Baby Bertie was dead.

In the excitement Louis escaped and was arrested some days later in New York. His story was as follows: "Bertie dragged the gun along the floor. The trigger was cocked, and I told him so, but he kept dragging it, and pretty soon it caught in a hole in the carpet, and the gun went off. I hollered, and Bertie fell down." The father admits that Bertie had on previous occasions played with the gun, but insists that it was never left loaded. There is a faint hope that the story of Louis Wood may prove true and the country be spared the conviction that a 11-year-old boy could do such a deed. It is an interesting fact the Woods are sprung from an old and
